

7 Quick Takes: Flowers, pronunciations, Mother's Day fun, swimming, bunnies, and what we're looking forward to this weekend

When Daniel came out of the shower the other day, I said, "Ah, fresh as a daisy!" "Mama," he said, very seriously. "Why do you always say, 'Fresh as a daisy'?" "Um...I just like saying it, I guess." "Why don't you ever say, 'Fresh as an azalea'?" Maybe now I will.
