

Archbishop Dolan discusses gay marriage, faith crisis

Archbishop Timothy Dolan addresses English-speaking young people at World Youth Day in Madrid (photo by Matt Palmer/The Catholic Review)

MADRID- Earlier on Aug. 17, Archbishop Dolan led a catechesis session with English-speaking attendees of World Youth Day at St. Ricardo parish. Afterward, he answered a series of questions, including about the recent legalization of gay marriage in New York, where Archbishop Dolan is currently heading the Archdiocese of New York. Maryland's governor, Martin O'Malley, recently announced that he too would push for gay marriage in his state. The Archdiocese of Baltimore's contingent of young people was in attendance at Archbishop Dolan's presentation and question and answer session, which was followed by a Mass. Lots of future Maryland voters were in attendance. Take a listen to Archbishop Dolan's Q&A with the young people.