

(Audio interview) Inside the life of NCYC animators

While emcee Valimar Jansen attracts most of the attention at the National Catholic Youth Conference in Indianapolis, she doesn't do it alone. There are many talented teens who assist in performances, songs and dances. The Archdiocese of Baltimore has several young people acting as animators on the stage this year and I got the chance to chat with Tyaunna Armstead of St. Cecilia in Baltimore, Thomas Ensey of Transfiguration Catholic Community and Norman Crone of Our Lady of the Cheapeake, about the experience.

Here are some audio insights into their efforts.

<https://player.soundcloud.com/player.swf?url=http%3A%2F%2Fapi.soundcloud.com%2Ftracks%2F28314549> 2011 NCYC Animators by The Welcome Matt