

(Audio) Mike Whittles' players talk about his courage

Spalding football coach Mike Whittles is literally fighting for his life and you can read his story in The Catholic Review print edition next week and right now on CatholicReview.org. Whittles has Stage IV pancreatic cancer, but is still coaching the Cavaliers during his treatments. He recently missed a game, though, and his players emotionally visited him. I sat down with several of them earlier this week for a talk and here is that interview in mp3 format.
