

Camp GLOW attendee sings “O Holy Night”

If you’ve never been to Camp GLOW in the Archdiocese of Baltimore, I highly recommend doing so. It’s an outreach at the Monsignor O’Dwyer Retreat House for people with special needs. I have a story coming up at CatholicReview.org about the Camp GLOW Christmas party. Until then, enjoy this video of Camp GLOW attendee Bonnie Block singing “O Holy Night,” a song she practiced for a while to get right. It’s inspiring and humbling to see someone give new light to the song. I will have more videos of these wonderful people.
