

Catholic at college

As a junior in high school I am in the process of looking at colleges. With so many options available, there are some specific things I am looking for. One thing I am looking for is somewhere I can go to be with other Catholics. Most of the colleges I've looked at have a Catholic church near campus and a Catholic center on campus ... perfect. I would also like to be involved with the campus ministry program wherever I decide to go.

I have become very involved with my current school's campus ministry program and it's something I want to keep doing during my time at college.
