

Day 2 of Countdown to Valentine's Day: Love Advice from Third Graders

By Matt Palmer

mpalmer@CatholicReview.org

The third graders of Ss. James and John School in Baltimore City know that to be loved, you have to love.

During the next week, the students at the school will offer you quick reminders about matters of the heart. Sometimes they're funny and sometimes they're poignant.

Today, the students tell you how to love people, even when it's hard to do it.