

Faith still misguided in politics

I recently read that the faith I've practiced for 45 years is still misguided in politics. The U.S. bishops recently conferred in Baltimore and said that anyone who votes for someone who supports the "intrinsic evil" of abortion or racism cooperates with those evils. As a result, 53 percent of Catholics were misguided by the church to vote in President Bush, who through war, is responsible for more deaths than abortions!