

Fan of crossword

I am a new subscriber to The Catholic Review and I want to say how much I enjoy the crossword puzzle. Unlike other newspaper crossword puzzles which make me feel dumb when I don't know many of the clues for movies and other arcane references, this crossword has links to my Catholic identity. I can actually "get" over half the answers on my first try. I am learning a lot about different aspects of the faith, and I love that I can look up a clue by going to a particular chapter in the Bible. As a teacher at a Catholic school, I would love to see a crossword geared to students that sends them racing to look up something in the Bible.
