

Father John Rapisarda on his vocation

At 33, Father John Rapisarda is happier than he's ever been. Three years ago, the associate pastor of Our Lady of Mount Carmel in Essex, Md. was ordained a priest in the Archdiocese of Baltimore and knows he found his true calling. I have a story in The Catholic Review about his visit to the parish elementary school on World Vocations Day.

Check out this short video which shows Father Rapisarda's peace and excitement about being a priest.
