

Focus on soul, not plastic surgery

I would expect The Catholic Review, as a Catholic newspaper, to be more interested in how one can improve his or her soul. Writing about and almost glamorizing plastic surgery (CR, Feb. 7) is not a religious topic and has nothing to do with salvation. I don't think our Lord would ever support such trivial vanities outside of an accident or burns, ect. Let's focus on the soul.
