

Hawaiian school wins CCHD contest

Although not related to the Archdiocese of Baltimore, this video was too impressive to not share with you. St. John Vianney Catholic School seventh graders in Kailua, Hawaii won the grand prize of the 2010 Multi-Media Youth Arts Contest sponsored by the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD). CCHD is a program that aims to support programs that get at the root source of poverty.

The students researched homelessness in Hawaii and the U.S. to produce this incredibly well-done documentary.

youtube=[https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=vEkbZfODEwc&fs=1&hl=en\_US]

For more information, visit here.

Locally, kids in the Archdiocese of Baltimore, through ideas4us.com also produced topical videos about technology safety issues for a contest earlier this year.