

Immaculate Conception students a cut above

More than 50 students at Immaculate Conception School in Towson cut their hair to give to an organization that makes wigs for kids who have suffered from cancer. There will be a story in next week's Catholic Review, but for now, check out this video report from today.