

Is 'Superman' Catholic?

New York Archbishop Timothy Dolan, the ever-affable newly elected president of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops, made a recent appearance on "Fox and Friends." Using the national spotlight to plug Catholic education, the archbishop said a key to the success of parochial schools has been their accountability.

"Our parents can choose or not choose to send their kids there," Archbishop Dolan said, "so - darn it - we better produce! Because, if we don't, next year they're going to go somewhere else."
