

Love advice from third graders

By Matt Palmer

mpalmer@CatholicReview.org

Want a lesson on love?

Ask the third graders of Ss. James and John School in Baltimore City.

During the next week, the students at the school will offer you quick reminders of about matters of the heart. Sometimes they're funny and sometimes they're poignant.

Today, they tell what love is. Tomorrow, they remind you to love those who love you.