

October Baby Video: Working With John Schneider and Jasmine Guy

Anyone who grew up during the 1980s recognizes television characters Bo Duke from the Dukes of Hazzard and Whitley Gilbert from A Different World. Most would be shocked to see John Schneider and Jasmine Guy in the new movie October Baby, which opens a week from today. Schneider plays a father trying to shield his daughter from painful moments past and present while Guy portrays a nurse who is haunted by the things she's experienced.

In the interviews I did last week with the co-director of their film, Jon Erwin, and co-stars Shari Rigby and Rachel Hendrix, they talked about how cool it was to work with "Bo Duke," Guy's gut-wrenching scenes and star-struck family members.
