

Praise for pastoral letter

Archbishop William E. Lori's pastoral, letter "A Light Brightly Visible," is an excellent message to all Catholics. It is an easily read and understandable message.

There are a few groups that have been concerned about evangelization for a long time, namely, St. Vincent de Paul Society, the Legion of Mary (in which I have been a longtime member) and perhaps a few others of which I am not aware. They are few in numbers compared to the huge task ahead.

I would suggest that Catholics who may be interested in following the way of Christ through the letter of the archbishop join such groups.

Joseph J. Thomas

Baltimore

To read more letters to the editor, click here.