

Red Devils are angels to those with breast cancer

By Catholic Review Staff

Ten years ago, an organization called The Red Devils was created to support families of those with breast cancer. Its start was inspired by the lives of the late Jessica Cowling and St. Mary of the Assumption, Govans, parishioner and Institute of Notre Dame graduate Virginia “Ginny” Schardt. This weekend, on June 10, The Red Devils will hold their largest fundraiser of the year, the 5K Run & Stroll. Read more about the event and the impact of this organization in Jennifer Williams’ blog, Imprint.
