

Send the pope a Christmas message

 When you're sending your Christmas cards this year, don't forget the pope.

A website sponsored by the Pontifical Council for Social Communications has a link where users can write a Christmas message or share a photo with the Holy Father. The greetings will also be shared at the Pope2You website.

What would you say to the pope this Christmas season?

12/10/2010 - Update: Lots of folks are taking a look at this post! Be sure to visit www.catholicreview.org/matysekblog for similar posts.