

Sister Teresa Buckley, D.C., dies

By Catholic Review Staff

A funeral Mass for Daughter of Charity Sister Teresa Buckley was offered Jan. 24 at the Basilica of the National Shrine of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton in Emmitsburg. Burial followed at Sacred Heart Cemetery in Emmitsburg. Sister Teresa, 83, died Jan. 20 at Villa St. Michael in Emmitsburg.

Born in Cork City, Ireland, Sister Teresa moved to Washington, D.C., after high school and entered the Daughters of Charity in Emmitsburg in 1953. She earned her bachelor's degree in Elementary Education from St. Joseph College in Emmitsburg, and a master's degree in Secondary School Science from Villanova University in 1976. She taught from 1955 to 2013, including at St. Michael the Archangel School in Overlea, 1963-68; and St. Charles Borromeo School in Pikesville, 1969-74.

For more obituaries, click here.