

St. John parishioner to help soldiers through Project Care

St. John the Evangelist, Hydes, parishioner and Fallston High School student Emily McGraw is working with members of the school's history club on a project to help soldiers in Iraq.

Anyone who would like to donate items for Project Care may do so by dropping off items Dec. 6 at Fallston High School between 2:30 and 4 p.m. Items needed include unscented baby wipes, fruit snacks, granola bars, lip balm, board games, deodorant, sunscreen and non-perishable items. Shampoo, cereal or soap will not be accepted. Enter the high school through the door closest to the tennis courts.
