

St. Justina of Padua

St. Justina of Padua lived in the third century. She took private vows of chastity and devotion to God when she was a young woman. She was martyred circa 304 during Diocletian's persecutions. St. Justina is patron saint of Padua, Italy.