

St. Margaret Celebrates 100 Years of Faith

BEL AIR, MD – St. Margaret Church will mark its 100th year on Saturday, October 1 at 5:30 p.m. by celebrating an Anniversary Mass. Cardinal William H. Keeler, Archbishop of Baltimore, will be the principle celebrant.

There are currently 18,000 registered members at St. Margaret and as many as 7,000 people attend Mass on any given Sunday—both high water marks among all parishes in the Archdiocese of Baltimore.

A mission of St. Margaret, St. Mary Magdalene, opened in 1997 and is located on Churchville Road in Bel Air.

WHAT: St. Margaret Church will mark its 100th year by celebrating an anniversary Mass.

WHEN: Saturday, October 1 at 5:30 p.m.

WHO Cardinal William H. Keeler and the Community of St. Margaret.

WHERE: St. Margaret Church, Hickory Avenue, Bel Air.