

Students to display talent at Meyerhoff

The visual and performing arts talent in the Archdiocese of Baltimore's Catholic middle and high schools will be on display March 23 at the Meyerhoff Symphony Hall in Baltimore.

Celebration of the Arts 2009 - A Night at the Meyerhoff will showcase students gifted in art, dance, drama and music. Doors open at 6 p.m. to view art displays, and the performance begins at 7:30 p.m. Tickets, which cost $25 with a $3 service charge, are available through the Meyerhoff Ticket Office. Call 410-783-8000 or contact Mary Jo Huston, associate superintendent for archdiocesan schools, at mjhutson@archbalt.org.
