

VIDEO REPORT: Making a path to reconciliation

In this week's Catholic Review, you'll read about a group of Christian, Jewish and Muslim clergy that has visited 18 U.S. cities to promote interfaith understanding and reconciliation. The "Caravan of Reconciliation" made a final stop at St. Katharine Drexel in Frederick Sept. 25, with Gov. Martin J. O'Malley giving the keynote address.

Here's a video report on the event. You can read the story here.
