

Watch:Elementary school children say they're pro-life

By Matt Palmer
mpalmer@CatholicReview.org

Nicholas Thomason knows his life could be very different. But, as an adopted child, the student at St. John Regional School says he loves the life he's been given. Raised at St. Timothy in Walkersville, he speaks out about the importance of protecting all babies so they can be born.