It is the policy of the Archdiocese to prohibit discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, disability or handicap, gender identity or expression, or protected activity (i.e. opposition to prohibited discrimination or participation in the complaint process) in its education programs and activities. Each Catholic school shall adhere to this policy with respect to students. This policy does not prohibit Catholic schools from giving priority consideration to Catholics (over non-Catholics) in the admissions process. Catholic schools are not required to adopt any rule, regulation or policy that conflicts with their religious or moral teachings.

Purpose:

- This Policy applies to all students in Archdiocesan elementary, middle and secondary schools. The Archdiocese neither condones nor tolerates harassment of students at school, at school-related activities or functions, or in any school-related setting. Harassment of students, whether engaged in by other students, teachers, administrators, or others, is prohibited. Violation of this policy is grounds for disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment or suspension or expulsion from school, depending on the nature and severity of the offense and the individual's disciplinary record.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The school promulgates a clear statement of its policy regarding harassment and discrimination.
 - A. For purposes of this Policy, “harassment” means verbal or physical conduct that denigrates or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual because of his or her race, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, disability or handicap, gender identity or expression, or protected activity, that:
 - (i) has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment.

- (ii) has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic performance: or
 - (iii) otherwise adversely affects an individual's educational opportunities.
- B. Harassing conduct includes, but is not limited to, epithets, slurs, negative stereotyping or threatening, intimidating or hostile acts that relate to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, handicap or disability, gender identity or expression. "Sexual" harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when submission to, or rejection of, such conduct is used as the basis for educational decisions, or has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic performance, or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment.

Policy: Early Entrance into Kindergarten

Parents who want to have their child considered for early admission to Kindergarten must submit testing results that indicate the child is ready for a Kindergarten curriculum. The Archdiocese of Baltimore will only accept results from the Brigance Early Childhood Screen III ages 4.0-4.11 for early admission consideration. An acceptable score on these tests does not guarantee admission, as a variety of factors are considered in making a determination. It is important to use additional measures, such as child observations and/or interview to help make the final determination. After careful consideration, the principal makes the final decision.

Process

1. Parents/caregivers request testing for early admission into Kindergarten.
2. In order to be considered for testing, the child must be at least 4 years and 6 months of age at the time of testing, and born between September 1st and November 1st.
3. Schools administer the Brigance Early Childhood Screen III to the prospective student according to their own schedule.
4. Using the Technical Report for the Brigance Screen as a guide, the following domain scores will serve as the minimum scores required for consideration for early acceptance into Kindergarten.
 - Language: 40
 - Motor: 12
 - Academic: 31
 - Students must meet or exceed each median domain score in order to be considered for early admission.
5. In order to be considered, the results from any acceptable test can be no older than 4 months.
6. Decisions regarding early admission into Kindergarten should be provided in writing within one week of test administration.
7. Parents/caregivers should be charged the standard application fee billed to all other prospective families.

- To ensure the readiness of the child for school

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Readiness for school is measured in terms of physical development, language ability, manipulative and readiness skills, and social and emotional behavior.
- If an underage student already fulfilled the kindergarten requirement, the parent must provide records demonstrating successful yearlong participation in the program, and social and emotional readiness for the first grade program.

Purpose:

- To comply with federal and state laws

ADM 5.0

Policies and procedures for protecting the right of privacy of students and their parents regarding school records are written and stated clearly in the parent/student handbook.

Purpose:

- To ensure that the school's policies comply with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) i.e. to provide parents and eligible students access to school records directly related to the students; to permit parents and eligible students to request amendment of those records on the grounds that they are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy or other rights; to obtain the written consent of parents or eligible students before releasing personally identifiable information about the students contained in educational records to third parties, with certain exceptions; and to notify parents and eligible students of these rights annually.
- To ensure that the school's policies and practices comply with the Code of Conduct of the Archdiocese, particularly as they relate to the privacy of financial and administrative records.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Schools shall give full rights under FERPA to a custodial and non-custodial parent (unless the school has been provided with certified copy of a court order denying such access) and to any other person acting as a parent in the absence of a parent (i.e. a step-parent or a grandparent with whom the child lives).
- The term "educational records" means those records that are directly related to a student and maintained by the school.
- The term "educational records" does not include: records of instructional, supervisory, and administrative personnel (and personnel ancillary to those persons) that are kept in the sole possession of the maker of the record, are used only as a personal memory aid, and are not accessible or revealed to any other person except a temporary substitute for the maker of the record; records that only contain information about an individual after he/she is no longer a student at that school.

- “Directory information” means information contained in an educational record of a student that generally would not be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed. It includes but is not limited to the student’s name, address, telephone listing, electronic mail address, photograph, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, grade level, enrollment status, degrees and awards received, and the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended. The school must provide notice to parents of the types of information the school has designated as directory information, the parent’s right to “opt out” of this designation, and the period of time in which the parent must notify the school that he/she does not want any or all of those types of information about the student designated as directory information.

Decree of Promulgation

Those who care for the many parish and school records in the Archdiocese of Baltimore have a very important responsibility. The diversity of those records, from those created to reflect the sacraments administered in a given parish to employee compensation schedules, are designed to support the continuing pastoral care of the parish community.

As keepers of some of the oldest and most historic records of Catholicism in the United States, it is important to understand the limitations of time that affect those documents. The Parish and School Records Management Policy and the Retention of Records Table that accompanies it are specifically designed to enable pastors and their assistants to properly manage the wealth of documents created at their location. For those who keep the records, I hope that these new policies will be a useful and practical tool to support your current document management structure, so that every parish and school office may be run properly and well. Such important work truly does live beyond each generation.

The records retention schedule meets both canonical and civil law requirements for accuracy and will be updated on the Archdiocesan website as necessary.

I hereby promulgate these policies as particular law for this territory.

Given at Baltimore, Maryland on the Feast of The Presentation of the Lord on this 2nd day of February, Two thousand thirteen.

Most Reverend William E. Lori
Archbishop of Baltimore

Chancellor

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this records management manual is to assist administrators in improving efficiency and economy in the management of records and in preserving records of permanent value to parishes and schools. Parishes are required by canon law to properly care for parochial archives. Canon 535 provides for the creation and maintenance of certain parochial records and the maintenance of parish archives. Sections 4 and 5 specify that:

§4. In each parish there is to be an archive, in which the parochial books are kept, together with episcopal letters and other documents which it may be necessary or useful to preserve. On the occasion of visitation or at some other opportune time, the diocesan Bishop or his delegate is to inspect all of these matters. The parish priest is to take care that they do not fall into unauthorized hands.

§5. Older parochial registers are also to be carefully safeguarded, in accordance with the provisions of particular law.¹

Although there are other canons providing for the generation and maintenance of specific records, parish administrators need to be aware of their basic responsibility in preserving those records that document the rights, privileges, and history of Catholics in the Archdiocese of Baltimore.

Obviously not all records generated by parishes and schools need to be retained permanently. Most parish and school records have a relatively short life span and may be disposed of on a regular basis. The challenge for parish and school administrators is to:

- 1) Distinguish those records that have permanent (archival) value from those of short term value;
- 2) Establish an orderly and regular means of disposal of non-permanent records; and
- 3) Provide for the preservation of permanent records. The establishment of a basic records management program for each parish and school helps administrators to better serve their parishioners and students, conform to canon, state, and federal law requirements, and better utilize office staff, space, equipment, and financial resources. It is hoped that this manual will provide administrators with information on establishing a basic records management program and guidelines on retention of various parish and school records.

ESTABLISHING AN ARCHIVES/RECORDS MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

The purpose of a basic records management program is to assist administrators in the control (creation, receipt, use, maintenance, and disposition) of records relating to their day-to-day business. Implementation of a records management program insures that time and money are not wasted on retention of unnecessary or obsolete records and that the records concerning the rights, privileges, and history of Catholics in the Archdiocese of Baltimore are protected and preserved.¹

Establishment of a basic records management program involves:

1) The creation of records retention schedules that identify records generated or maintained by parishes and schools and dictates how long those records should be retained; and

2) Proper maintenance of an archives to provide for the permanent retention of records having continuing value. Creation of records retention schedules and implementation of a records management program entails four basic steps:

- a) Conducting a survey of the records (inventory and identification of all records series);
- b) Performing a records appraisal (establishment of records values based on administrative, legal, fiscal, historical, and sacramental considerations);
- c) Establishing a retention schedule for the records (assignment and documentation of retention requirements for individual records series or classes of records); and
- d) Implementing the program (regularly disposing of short-term records and maintaining permanent records in the archives). See Appendix 2 for basic guidelines on how to assess the value of records. Pastors and school administrators may designate a competent individual to serve as the parish/school archivist or to assist in the development of the archives/records management program.

STEP I: Inventory

All records generated, received, and maintained by parishes and schools should be identified in the records inventory. Information concerning each records series (i.e., file units or documents arranged in accordance with a filing system or maintained as a unit because they relate to a particular subject or function, result from the same activity, have a particular form, or because of some other relationship arising out of their creation, receipt, or user), such as contents, purpose, span dates, volume, and location, should be included in the inventory. This information is essential in appraisal and assignment of retention requirements to each records series.²

STEP II: Appraisal

² "A Basic Glossary for Archivists, Manuscript Curators, and Records Managers," The American Archivist, July 1974, p. 430.

The purpose of appraisal is to determine the value of a record in order to know how long and where to retain it. Each records series should be appraised applying five established appraisal considerations or criteria:

Administrative value: Records that document the establishment of policy and operations have administrative value. Policy records are generally retained permanently. Operations records are usually considered short-term.

Legal value: Records having legal value generally document legal or property rights of individuals or of the entity that created or maintained the records.

Fiscal value: Records having fiscal value usually relate to financial transactions and normally have a short-term retention. Records documenting fiscal policy may have permanent value.

Historical value: Records having historical (or research) value are retained permanently because they provide documentation on the origins, organization, development, functions, policy, activities, and events, of the originating entity, and/or provide information on associated persons, subjects, and events.

Sacramental value: Records documenting the administration of sacraments to the Faithful have sacramental value. Sacramental records are always retained permanently.

All five factors need to be considered when appraising parish and school records and assigning retention periods to records series. Other factors, such as legal and canonical requirements and reference frequency, also should be considered. Administrators should also be aware that certain records may have intrinsic value. Records having intrinsic value should be retained permanently because of their aesthetic or artistic qualities; age; unique or curious features; value for use in exhibits; or association with significant events, people, places, things or events. Charters, commissions, appointments, memorabilia, and early handwritten documents often have intrinsic value. Administrators will find that many records have more than one value.

Records assigned a permanent retention period are archival, meaning those records are of continuing value to the parish and/or school because their administrative, legal, fiscal, historical, sacramental, or intrinsic value(s) warrant long-term (permanent) retention. Identification of values of each records series and selection of the appropriate retention requirement is perhaps the greatest challenge in establishing a records management program.

STEP III: Preparing A Records Retention Schedule

After all records identified in the inventory have been appraised, a retention period is established and assigned to each records series. Information concerning each records series and its retention is then detailed in the records retention schedule. Administrators should refer to the sample records retention schedule in this manual to assist them in formulation of retention requirements and preparation of their own records retention schedule. A sample parish records retention schedule appears in Appendix 3.

STEP IV: Implementing the Records Management Program

All records should be organized according to a records retention schedule. All records should be organized in a records storage area. Records having a short-term retention period should be destroyed as specified. A duplicate copy of the parish and school records retention schedule should be sent to the Diocesan Archivist for permanent retention (Canon 491).

Each time records are destroyed, administrators should prepare a document describing records that were destroyed, their retention period, and the date of destruction. A copy of the records destruction document should be retained permanently.

Archival records should be maintained properly (see section on "Records Storage"). The pastor should require parishioners having archival parish records in their custody to transfer them to the parish archives once the records are inactive or no longer needed for current business. If convenient and economical, parishes and schools may store archival records in the same records storage area.

Retention periods delineated in a records retention schedule should be adhered to, preferably on an annual basis. Benefits from a records management program only can be appreciated when retention requirements are applied on a regular basis and records storage areas are maintained properly. Resorting to "records management" whenever a space crunch results from retention of unnecessary records does not make a "program." Proper records management is an ongoing process and is the business of both administrators and staff.

RECORDS STORAGE

Storage of Inactive Short-Term Records

Records storage areas should be clean, well lit and ventilated, and free from vermin and excessive heat, cold, and moisture. Environmental conditions for storage of inactive short-term records should approximate those for human comfort. In addition, records storage areas should be equipped with a fire extinguisher. Doors to records storage areas should have strong locks to prevent access to unauthorized personnel.

Inactive short-term records should be stored in standard size corrugated records storage boxes (e.g., Stor-all, Bankers Box, etc.). Records storage boxes are quite inexpensive when compared to the cost of new or used file cabinets. Preferably, these boxes should be stored on metal shelving. If possible, records series should not be mixed within records storage boxes. The contents of each box should be marked on the outside for easy identification. The retention period and date of disposal should be noted on the outside of the box as well. Use of standard size boxes and concise identification of contents will greatly facilitate the disposal of short-term records.

Storage of Archival Records

Storage area requirements for archival records are similar to those for short-term records. However, archival records have special environmental requirements. Ideally, the temperature in records storage areas should be 68° (±5°) with a relative humidity of 45% (±5%). These standards should be maintained with as little temperature and humidity fluctuation as possible. Archival records and records having short-term value may be stored in the same storage area, but should be physically segregated. Segregation of archival records and short-term records should prevent the accidental destruction of archival records. Administrators should maintain archival environmental conditions in records storage areas containing both archival records and short-term records.

Archival records require special treatment to insure preservation. Following is a list of suggested guidelines for the storage and handling of the records:

1. Place archival records in acid-free folders and boxes.
2. Do not store archival records near overhead water or steam pipes.
3. Protect archival records from direct sunlight and excessive artificial light.
4. Do not store archival records on the floor in case of flooding. Always place archival records on shelving, preferably metal. Records should be stored at least four inches above the floor and six inches away from walls.
5. Store large bound volumes horizontally, not vertically.
6. Remove all metal paper clips, binder clips, and staples as they will rust over time. Remove all rubber bands as they will disintegrate over time and adhere to the documents. Vinyl coated or plastic paper clips may be used in their place.
7. Transfer records stored in binders and plastic covers to folders. This will not only save on storage space, but prevent the metal and plastic from these items from damaging the documents as they begin to deteriorate.
8. Do not use self-adhesive tape on archival records. The chemicals in the adhesive will interact with the paper, causing not only discoloration, but permanent damage.
9. Do not laminate archival records. Many commercial lamination processes are destructive and irreversible.
10. Do not flex, fold, or crease documents when placing them in a box.
11. Do not store highly acidic materials, such as newsprint, with archival records.
12. All loose papers should be boxed.
13. Photographic material should be removed from non-archival quality albums and stored in acid-free folders or envelopes. Photographs larger than 8x10 inches should be stored flat. Caution: Photographic negatives manufactured before the 1950s may be nitrate and highly unstable and flammable. Nitrate negatives should be stored away from other photographs and records.

14. Maps, architectural drawings, and oversize documents should be stored flat, unrolled and unfolded in acid-free folders. Unoccupied vestment drawers are useful for storage of oversize archival material.

15. Boxes containing archival records should be labeled.

16. Eating, drinking, smoking, or use of fountain pens should be prohibited around archival records. Only use pencils when handling archival records.

The above guidelines for archival records storage obviously represent the ideal. However, administrators should strive to provide the best storage conditions possible for their records.

Administrators should retain the original filing order of archival records. Administrators should not disrupt the original filing order or rearrange archival records. However, archival records that are in disarray may be arranged by administrators to restore the original order.

Archival records of parishes, parish organizations, or schools should never be mixed or inter-filed. Archival records from different organizations or institutions may be stored in the same area, however but never mixed to create an artificial file. The integrity of archival records (their original order and origin) should always be respected and maintained.

USING A RECORDS RETENTION SCHEDULE

The purpose of a records retention schedule is to assist administrators in establishing an archives/records management program by:

1) Identifying and describing most of the records generated by parishes and Catholic elementary and secondary schools; and

2) Providing retention periods, justifications, and the appraised values for each records series. The records retention schedule is arranged in two columns: the first column (Records Title/Description) identifies and describes each records series and the second column (Retention Recommendation) provides a corresponding recommended retention period, any legal or canonical retention requirements, and the appraised value of the record. The retention recommendation column also includes the citation for any laws or canons justifying the retention period.

How Records Are Grouped

Records in a records retention schedule generally are grouped first according to generator (parish or school) and secondly by function, type or class, i.e. administrative records, financial records, property records, etc. Record series are arranged alphabetically within each function or class to facilitate use of the records retention schedule.

Retention periods in the records retention schedule are provided in a number of ways:

- 1) As a specific time period (e.g., retain three years, then destroy);
- 2) In relation to an event (e.g., retain until superseded; annual review, which means the record may be disposed of at the discretion of the administrator);
- 3) As a combination of both a time period and an event (e.g., retain five years after final payment of loan, then destroy).

A record retention schedule generally represents the minimum period of time records should be retained. Administrators may keep records longer, however, if they wish.

Sacramental Records within the Archdiocese of Baltimore are governed by Archdiocesan particular law with the promulgation of the Handbook for Sacramental Records in 2010. See <http://www.archbalt.org/about-us/chancery/loader.cfm?csModule=security/getfile&PageID=7105> for the most recent version of this document. The Handbook for Sacramental Records and this document are companions in good archival management for parishes and schools.

Disposition of many records generated by religious organizations and private schools is not governed by state or federal law. However, for the sake of convenience and uniformity, the retention periods for many of the records described in the sample records retention schedule attached hereto conform to state or federal regulations where applicable. A number of statutory retention requirements in the sample records retention schedule are specific to Maryland state law. Users of this manual outside of Maryland should refer to their local state codes for record keeping and retention requirements. Users also should be mindful that laws regarding record retention requirements may change, and should consider a periodic review of record retention periods that they implement. The Chancellor's Office will update the sample schedule posted on the Archdiocesan website as new information becomes available.

A parish or school may not generate or maintain all of the records identified in the attached records retention schedule. The records retention schedule attached to this manual is a composite that describes records frequently found at Catholic parishes and schools.

Certain files, such as a parish or school history file, should be created and maintained by administrators. A special history file can preserve certain types of records and information (concerning ethnicity, special liturgical and devotional practices, special events, etc.) that may not be evident through more conventional records.

Parishes may encounter records management situations requiring special attention beyond the scope of this manual, i.e., management of microforms, active records, machine-readable records, or special conservation or records storage problems. Please feel free to contact Dr. Diane L. Barr, Chancellor, Archdiocese of Baltimore, if you would like to discuss any such matter.

Users should note that, notwithstanding a retention schedule, records should not be destroyed if they are subject to a “litigation hold.” A “litigation hold” requires an entity to preserve relevant information when it learns, or reasonably should have learned of pending or threatened litigation. Whenever a parish or a school is faced with litigation or a foreseeable risk of litigation, the parish or school should contact legal counsel promptly to discuss the matter and the retention of documents relevant to the matter.

When disposing of records pursuant to a records retention schedule, care should be taken that the manner and means of the records destruction is secure (e.g., any records containing personal information is shredded or otherwise properly destroyed).

CANONS RELATING TO PAROCHIAL ARCHIVES

Diocesan Archives	Can. 491 - §1. A diocesan bishop is to take care that the acts and documents of the archives of cathedral, collegiate, parochial, and other churches in his territory are also diligently preserved and that inventories or catalogs are made in duplicate, one of which is to be preserved in the archive of the church and the other in the diocesan archive. §2. A diocesan bishop is also to take care that there is an historical archive in the diocese and that documents having historical value are diligently protected and systematically ordered in it. §3. In order to inspect or remove the acts and documents mentioned in §§1 and 2, the norms established by the diocesan bishop are to be observed.
Parish Archives	Can. 535 - §1. Each parish is to have parochial registers, that is, those of baptisms, marriages, deaths, and others as prescribed by the conference of bishops or the diocesan bishop. The pastor is to see to it that these registers are accurately inscribed and carefully preserved. §2. In the baptismal register are also to be noted confirmation and those things which pertain to the canonical status of the Christian faithful by reason of marriage, without prejudice to the prescript of can. 1133, of adoption, of the reception of sacred orders, of perpetual profession made in a religious institute, and of change of rite. These notations are always to be noted on a baptismal certificate. §3. Each parish is to have its own seal. Documents regarding the canonical status of the Christian faithful and all acts which can have juridic importance are to be signed by the pastor or his delegate and sealed with the parochial seal. §4. In each parish there is to be a storage area, or archive, in which the parochial registers are protected along with letters of bishops and other documents which are to be preserved for reason of necessity or advantage. The pastor is to take care that all of these things, which are to be inspected by the diocesan bishop or his delegate at the time of visitation or at some other opportune time, do not come into the hands of outsiders. §5. Older parochial registers are also to be carefully protected according to the prescripts of particular law.
Baptism Record	Can. 877 - §1. The pastor of the place where the baptism is celebrated must carefully and without any delay record in the baptismal register the names of the baptized, with mention made of the minister, parents, sponsors, witnesses, if any, the place and date of the conferral of the baptism, and the date and place of birth. §2. If it concerns a child born to an unmarried mother, the name of the mother must be inserted, if her maternity is established publicly or if she seeks it willingly in writing or before two witnesses. Moreover, the name of the father must be inscribed if a public document or his own declaration before the pastor and two witnesses proves his paternity; in other cases, the name of the baptized is inscribed with no mention of the name of the father or the parents. §3. If it concerns an adopted child, the names of those adopting are to be inscribed and, at least if it is done in the civil records of the region, also the names of the natural parents according to the norm of §§1 and 2, with due regard for the prescripts of the conference of bishops. Can. 878 - If the baptism was not administered by the pastor or in his

	presence, the minister of baptism, whoever it is, must inform the pastor of the parish in which it was administered of the conferral of the baptism, so that he records the baptism according to the norm of can. 877, §1.
Confirmation Record	Can. 895 - The names of those confirmed with mention made of the minister, the parents and sponsors, and the place and date of the conferral of confirmation are to be recorded in the confirmation register of the diocesan curia or, where the conference of bishops or the diocesan bishop has prescribed it, in a register kept in the parish archive. The pastor must inform the pastor of the place of baptism about the conferral of confirmation so that a notation is made in the baptismal register according to the norm of can. 535, §2.
Marriage Record	Can. 1121 - §1. After a marriage has been celebrated, the pastor of the place of the celebration or the person who takes his place, even if neither assisted at the marriage, is to note as soon as possible in the marriage register the names of the spouses, the person who assisted, and the witnesses, and the place and date of the celebration of the marriage according to the method prescribed by the conference of bishops or the diocesan bishop. §2. Whenever a marriage is contracted according to the norm of ⇒ can. 1116, a priest or deacon, if he was present at the celebration, or otherwise the witnesses in solidum with the contracting parties are bound to inform as soon as possible the pastor or local ordinary about the marriage entered into. §3. For a marriage contracted with a dispensation from canonical form, the local ordinary who granted the dispensation is to take care that the dispensation and celebration are inscribed in the marriage registers of both the curia and the proper parish of the Catholic party whose pastor conducted the investigation about the free status. The Catholic spouse is bound to notify as soon as possible the same ordinary and pastor about the marriage celebrated and also to indicate the place of the celebration and the public form observed. Can. 1122 - §1. The contracted marriage is to be noted also in the baptismal registers in which the baptism of the spouses has been recorded. §2. If a spouse did not contract marriage in the parish in which the person was baptized, the pastor of the place of the celebration is to send notice of the marriage which has been entered into as soon as possible to the pastor of the place of the conferral of baptism.
Parish Property	Can. 1283 - Before administrators begin their function: 1° they must take an oath before the ordinary or his delegate that they will administer well and faithfully; 2° they are to prepare and sign an accurate and clear inventory of immovable property, movable objects, whether precious or of some cultural value, or other goods, with their description and appraisal; any inventory already done is to be reviewed; 3° one copy of this inventory is to be preserved in the archive of the administration and another in the archive of the curia; any change which the patrimony happens to undergo is to be noted in each copy. Can. 1284 - §1. All administrators are bound to fulfill their function with the diligence of a good householder. §2. Consequently they must: 1° exercise vigilance so that the goods entrusted to their care are in no

	way lost or damaged, taking out insurance policies for this purpose insofar as necessary; 2° take care that the ownership of ecclesiastical goods is protected by civilly valid methods; 3° observe the prescripts of both canon and civil law or those imposed by a founder, a donor, or legitimate authority, and especially be on guard so that no damage comes to the Church from the non-observance of civil laws; 4° collect the return of goods and the income accurately and on time, protect what is collected, and use them according to the intention of the founder or legitimate norms; 5° pay at the stated time the interest due on a loan or mortgage and take care that the capital debt itself is repaid in a timely manner; 6° with the consent of the ordinary, invest the money which is left over after expenses and can be usefully set aside for the purposes of the juridic person; 7° keep well organized books of receipts and expenditures; 8° draw up a report of the administration at the end of each year; 9° organize correctly and protect in a suitable and proper archive the documents and records on which the property rights of the Church or the institute are based, and deposit authentic copies of them in the archive of the curia when it can be done conveniently. §3. It is strongly recommended that administrators prepare budgets of incomes and expenditures each year; it is left to particular law, however, to require them and to determine more precisely the ways in which they are to be presented.
Parish Report	Can. 1287 - §1. Both clerical and lay administrators of any ecclesiastical goods whatever which have not been legitimately exempted from the power of governance of the diocesan bishop are bound by their office to present an annual report to the local ordinary who is to present it for examination by the finance council; any contrary custom is reprobated. §2. According to norms to be determined by particular law, administrators are to render an account to the faithful concerning the goods offered by the faithful to the Church.
Pious Foundations	Can. 1306 - §1. Foundations, even if made orally, are to be put in writing. §2. One copy of the charter is to be preserved safely in the archive of the curia and another copy in the archive of the juridic person to which the foundation belongs.

Confidential information for a student should be maintained separately from academic records.

Purpose:

- To ensure confidentiality of student's non-academic records

 - Communication between counselor, parents, physicians, etc.
 - Communication and supporting documents related to the creation, implementation, and monitoring of a Student Accommodation Plan.
 - Student Behavior Analysis (SBA) and Student Behavior Plans (SBP)

The school does not allow a non-custodial parent access to his/her child unless the custodial parent has consented in writing or the school has a copy of a court order permitting access.

Purpose:

- To safeguard the child during school hours when the schools has temporary custody of the child.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The school maintains a file copy of the custody decree with the official seal of notarization. It is the parent's responsibility to provide this information and to keep it current.
- The school contacts the custodial parent when the non-custodial parent seeks access to his/her child.

Child Custody Issues for Schools
by Kathryn Kelley Hoskins

Under Maryland law, parents are the natural guardians of their minor children. In cases where children live with both of their parents, the parents also may be said to have joint legal and physical custody of their children.

In a sense, parents give up physical custody of their children (temporarily) each morning when they send them school. The School's staff assumes physical custody of the child during the school day and any scheduled after-school activities. At the end of the day, the School relinquishes physical custody back to the parents. Any deviation from the normal arrangements (e.g., taking children on a field trip, keeping them for an after-school event, releasing them to someone other than the parents) requires the consent of the parents. (Note: The use of field trip permission forms is essentially a custody issue, although the forms also include a liability waiver.)

In cases where parents are separated or divorced, their custody arrangements often are set forth in a written agreement or court order. The parents also may agree upon custody arrangements prior to court intervention, and may agree from time to time to deviate from the arrangements described in any legal documents. The School may accept any agreement of the parents with respect to custody arrangements.

Many divorced couples have joint legal custody, i.e., joint authority to make decisions about where the child lives and goes to school, significant medical treatment, etc. As for physical custody, the parents may alternate according to a schedule (e.g., child lives with mom one week, and with dad the next week), or one parent may have primary physical custody while the other parent has visitation rights.

Parents are responsible for communicating with the School about their custody arrangements (formal or informal) and any changes. The School also should request copies of any legal documents or written agreements that relate to custody; in the event of a dispute between the parents regarding custody, the School will need to rely on a current legal document. The parent with physical custody at the time in question must consent to any deviations from the normal arrangement.

It is essential to distinguish between the right to control physical access to the child (custody) and a parent's right under State and Federal law to review the child's educational records. The School may not deny a parent (including a non-custodial parent) the right to review his or her child's educational records unless a court order or legally binding agreement specifically revokes that right.

Financial record information may be disclosed to parents (including the non-custodial parent(s) unless court order states otherwise), guardians, and any other person acting as a parent in the absence of a parent or guardian.

Purpose:

- To ensure confidentiality of a student's financial records

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- These records shall not be released to any other persons or parties without the prior written consent of the custodial parent, guardian, or any other person acting as a parent in the absence of a parent or guardian.

Student Records

Student records are maintained in the school office or a designated administrative area. Access to records is governed by the Records Policy.

Records Policy (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act)

[School name] complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), which is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. In general, FERPA gives parents certain rights with respect to education records. (The rights granted to parents under FERPA automatically pass to the student when the student turns 18 or enrolls in college.) These rights and related procedures of [school name] are as follows:

- Parents have the right to inspect and review the student's education records maintained by the School. Parents should submit to [insert title of appropriate school official] a written request that identifies the record(s) they wish to inspect. The School will make arrangements for access and notify the parent of the time and place where the records may be inspected.
- Parents have the right to request that the School correct records they believe are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights. Parents who wish to request an amendment of the student's records should write to [insert title of appropriate school official, e.g., the Principal] and clearly identify the part of the record they believe is inaccurate or misleading and the information they believe should be included in a corrected record. If the School decides not to amend the record as requested, the School will notify the parent of the decision and the parent's right to request a hearing.
- Parents generally have the right to consent in writing to disclosures of information from a student's education record. However, there are certain exceptions to the consent requirement, including disclosures under the following conditions:
 - To School officials who have a legitimate educational interest in the information. A school official is a person employed by the School or the Archdiocese as an administrator, supervisor, instructor, or support staff member (including health or medical staff); a person or company with whom the School has contracted to provide a service (e.g., attorney); or a parent or student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his/her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his/her professional responsibilities or duties to the School.
 - To other schools to which a student is transferring.
 - In connection with financial aid under certain circumstances.
 - To specified officials for audit or evaluation purposes.

- To organizations conducting certain studies for or on behalf of the school.
- To accrediting organizations.
- In order to comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena.
- To appropriate officials in cases of health and safety emergencies.

The School also may disclose appropriately designated "directory information" without written consent unless a parent objects in writing. The primary purpose of directory information is to allow the School to include this type of information in certain publications. Examples of such publications include a playbill, showing the student's role in a drama production; the annual yearbook; honor roll or other recognition lists; graduation programs; and sports activity sheets.

The School has designated the following as directory information [Note: A school may delete items from this list or add items that would not be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed.]:

- Student's name
- Participation in officially recognized activities and sports
- Address
- Telephone listing
- Weight and height of members of athletic teams
- Electronic mail address
- Photograph
- Honors and awards received
- Date and place of birth
- Dates of attendance
- Grade level

Parents who do not want the School to disclose the above directory information without their prior written consent must notify [insert title] in writing by [insert date].

- A log must be maintained of each request for access to and each disclosure of educational record information other than disclosure to parents or students 18 or older or school officials. The log should contain the name of the person(s), the date, and the legitimate interests the person had in requesting or obtaining the information.
- Parents have the right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by [insert school name] to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA are: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-8520.

Parental Support/Compliance

In cases of serious or repeated noncompliance by a parent with school policies or procedures, the administration reserves the right to withdraw that parent's child/children from the school.

Acceptable Use Policy for the Internet and Technology Tools

Technology skills are necessary to ready our students for their future. Access to the Internet and technology tools (including software tools, web-based applications and services, computer equipment, I-Pads, and other personal electronic devices) allow students to conduct research, produce digital content, and communicate with classmates and teachers. The Internet and technology tools put enormous power at the fingertips of users. As such, they also place a great deal of responsibility on users.

It is imperative that technology resources be used to build community, encourage critical reflection, and foster readiness for future learning. Developments in technology at the School are to be used ethically, legally, and responsibly. As in other areas, our students are expected to make good choices with regard to their behavior.

Individual users are responsible for their activity on the Internet and technology tools, including the material stored and information shared. In order to protect private and personal information, unauthorized disclosure, use, or dissemination of personal information is prohibited. The School reserves the right to edit Internet accounts for child-only configurations, and to run filtering software for students' protection.

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that student users (and their parents) recognize the limitations the School imposes on the use of the Internet and technology tools and that they understand the standards of behavior the School expects of users.

All users of the School network and technology tools, whether on a School-owned or personal device, are responsible for adhering to the following guidelines for acceptable use.

Acceptable uses of the Internet and technology tools are for authorized academic and school-related activities that support learning and teaching and:

- Respect the privacy and property rights of others and the well-being of the School
- Are consistent with Roman Catholic values and morals
- Treat technology tools and computer equipment with respect.

Unacceptable uses of the Internet and technology tools include but are not limited to:

- Violating the rights or privacy of others, including by photographing, recording or filming an individual without consent
- Posting or distributing videos or photographs without consent of the persons depicted and the School
- Using technology to send profanity, obscenity, or other offensive or harmful language
- Unauthorized copying, downloading, or installation of content, software or applications (including plagiarism or "pirating" music)
- Sending false information or sending messages to the School community that fail to identify the sender (including anonymous messages or messages using a pseudonym)
- Using any program designed to disrupt network performance or breach network security, such as software designed to capture passwords or break encryption protocols
- Revealing personal information beyond what is required for login while using Internet or web-based resources
- Responding to inappropriate messages from others (which should be reported to the School)
- Downloading or copying information onto disks or hard drives without prior teacher approval
- Accessing, downloading, storing, or printing files or messages that are inappropriate or may be offensive to others (including pornography and other inappropriate images)
- Sharing of passwords or attempting to discover another's password (passwords should be changed frequently)
- Using or accessing another's account (network accounts are to be used only by those for whom the account has been established)

- Intentionally writing, producing, generating, copying or introducing dangerous codes or programs designed to cause harm, including, but not limited to viruses, bugs, 'worms', etc.
- Intentionally damaging, altering, or tampering with any hardware, software, printers, keyboards, speakers, etc.
- Accessing or searching files, directories, or folders for which the user does not have authorization
- Intentionally erasing, renaming, or disabling of anyone else's files or programs
- Accessing social media, email, or other off-task websites or apps during School without explicit permission of a teacher or adult supervisor
- Violating School conduct rules or the law.

Harassment/cyber-bullying of others online, whether against a student, non-student, or employee, is serious, is prohibited, and is contrary to the School's policy and values. Harassment/cyber-bullying whether it is initiated on campus or off campus, online or in person, should be reported immediately to a faculty member, and may lead to disciplinary action and possible criminal prosecution under Maryland's law prohibiting the Misuse of Interactive Computer Service ("Grace's Law").

Parents are responsible for:

- Reviewing and discussing this policy with their child as well as supporting the School in its enforcement
- Partnering with the School in monitoring their child's technology use
- Modeling appropriate Internet behaviors for their child
- Reporting any concerns regarding this policy or their child's use of the Internet or technology tools to School personnel.

Failure to adhere to the policy guidelines may result in a revocation of a student's Internet access and other technology privileges and disciplinary action up to and including suspension or expulsion.

Web-based Services

The School uses Google Apps for Education as well as other web-based education tools, sites, and services ("web-based services") to provide students with important web-based educational experiences and enhanced opportunities to communicate and share collaboratively with one another. As part of students' use of web-based services, certain educational records may be created, collected, or stored. Directory information, such as a child's name, email address, grade/age, and enrollment status, may also be shared with web-based services. The School may access, monitor, and review children's use of web-based services and Internet use and children shall not have any expectation of privacy with respect to any communications or activities through such services. Use of web-based services is for educational purposes only and subject to the conduct and acceptable use guidelines set forth in this Handbook. A list of the School's web-based services and corresponding privacy policies are available upon request. By enrolling a child in the School, the parent consents to the child's participation in the School's academic activities and programs, including the child's use of and access to web-based services as described in this paragraph. In order to withhold or withdraw consent for the use of web-based services, parents must contact the School principal in writing.

Change of Address

Change in Name or Family Status

If there is a change in the family status/or the change of a child's name, it is important that the school be informed promptly of the change. In case of a change of custody, a copy of the portion of the court order that describes the custody arrangements must be on file with the school.

Emergency & Weather related Closings/Delayed Openings

Communication to Parents

Describe your school's method of communication and expectations, such as the following:

In the best interest of students, the school welcomes and encourages communication between parents and teachers. Whenever a situation occurs that causes concern, the concern should be addressed first at the level at which the situation arose. Teachers are seen by appointment. Please contact them directly by email or phone to schedule a mutually convenient time to meet.

Parents whose phone numbers are unlisted must give the school either the unlisted number or a number where the parent(s) can be reached. It is essential that the school have this information in case of emergency. It will be kept in the strictest confidence. Any change of phone number or home address is to be given to the school office and homeroom teacher in writing within one week after change is effective.

Non-Custodial Parent

Emergency card information for each child is to be kept current. Children will only be released to the person(s) designated on the emergency card, unless otherwise instructed by the custodial parent/guardian.

Non-custodial parents are welcome to review their child's records unless there is a court order or legal agreement prohibiting such access. The school may notify the custodial parent of a request to review records.

(N) School does not allow a non-custodial parent physical access to his/her child during school hours or on school premises unless the custodial parent has consented or the school has a court order permitting access.

Harassment Policy

Policy

It is the policy of the Archdiocese to prohibit discrimination, including harassment, on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, disability or handicap, gender identity or expression, or protected activity (i.e., opposition to prohibited discrimination or participation in the complaint process) in its education programs and activities. Each Catholic school shall adhere to this policy with respect to students. (Employees are protected from harassment by a separate Archdiocesan policy.) A school is not required to adopt any rule, regulation, or policy that conflicts with its religious or moral teachings.

I. Scope

This policy applies to all students in Archdiocesan elementary, middle and secondary schools. The Archdiocese neither condones nor tolerates harassment of students at school, at school-related activities or functions, or in any school-related setting. Harassment of students, whether engaged in by other students, teachers, administrators, or others, is prohibited. Violation of this Policy is grounds for disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment or suspension or expulsion from school, depending on the nature and severity of the offense and the individual's disciplinary record.

II. Prohibited Conduct

A. For purposes of this Policy, "harassment" means verbal or physical conduct that denigrates or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual because of his or her race, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, disability or handicap, gender identity or expression, or protected activity, that:

- (i) Has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment;
- (ii) Has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic performance; or

(iii) Otherwise adversely affects an individual's educational opportunities.

- B. Harassing conduct includes, but is not limited to, epithets, slurs, negative stereotyping, or threatening, intimidating or hostile acts that relate to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age, handicap or disability, or gender identity or expression. "Sexual" harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for educational decisions or has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment.

III. Procedure

- A. Any person who believes that a student is being subjected to harassment should immediately report the harassment to any one or more of the following individuals: the student's teacher, the principal of the school, the Superintendent of Catholic Schools.
- B. Individuals are encouraged to report harassment early, before it becomes severe or pervasive, so that preventive action can be taken. All complaints will be investigated promptly, thoroughly and impartially, and will remain confidential to the extent possible.
- C. Any retaliation, reprisals, or intimidation, whether by the alleged harasser or from another source, directed toward the complaining party or anyone else as a result of the filing or investigation of a harassment complaint is considered a serious violation of this Policy and should be reported immediately.
- D. Once the investigation is complete, the school will take immediate and appropriate corrective action when it determines that this Policy has been violated. The complaining party and the complained-of party will be advised of the investigation's findings and conclusions. A report of the findings will be forwarded to the Department of Catholic Schools.

Bullying Policy Statement

Bullying, harassment, or intimidation (as defined below) of any student is prohibited in all Archdiocese of Baltimore Schools. Retaliation or reprisal against anyone who reports such behaviors or participates in an investigation of a report is also prohibited. Such behaviors are contrary to school life in a Christ-centered community, which respects the dignity and uniqueness of all of God's children. To foster a school environment where all students are educated in a safe and caring atmosphere, all Archdiocesan schools will follow established procedures for bullying prevention, intervention, and response.

Discrimination and harassment of students on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, disability or handicap, or gender identity or expression, are also addressed under the Archdiocesan Student Harassment Policy in the Code of Conduct. Suspected abuse or neglect of students is addressed under the Policy for the Protection of Children and Youth.

“Bullying, harassment, or intimidation” means intentional conduct, including written, verbal, or physical conduct or an intentional electronic communication, that:

- a. Creates a hostile educational environment by substantially interfering with a student's educational benefits, opportunities, or performance or with a student's physical or psychological well-being and:

Attendance

Absence

Regular attendance is considered essential for learning at (N) School. Students need to develop the work habits and responsibilities required of all of us as we go through life. When a student is absent from school, a parent/legal guardian must telephone the school between (time) and (time) to report the reason for absence. All absences and tardiness become part of a student's permanent record.

Absence from school during the academic year due to family vacations is strongly discouraged. Missed work and assignments may only be obtained upon return.

Students who are absent from school may not participate in any after school or evening school sponsored events such as sports, dances, etc.

When he/she returns to school, the student must bring a written note to his/her homeroom teacher signed by a parent/legal guardian stating the reason for absence. The school reserves the right to require a doctor's note for absences due to illness or injury or need for assessment/evaluation. A child may not return to school until he/she is well enough to participate in all school activities. If a student will be out of school for an extended period, whether continuous or intermittent, parents should consult with the administration regarding appropriate support of the student in fulfilling the school curriculum or alternative arrangements such as home and hospital services through the local public school district.

Truancy

Truancy is defined as a student absenting him/herself from school without parent/legal guardian permission, or leaving school grounds without permission during the school day. Truancy may result in disciplinary action up to and including suspension or expulsion.

Lateness/Assignments

Students may enter their homerooms at (time). The school day begins at (time). Any student arriving after (time) is considered late and must report to the office for a late slip. Tardiness is entered on a student's permanent record. It is the responsibility of the student to check with the homeroom teacher to receive the necessary communication or work that may have been missed due to lateness.

Early Departure/Late Arrivals

The school discourages early departures and requests that families arrange medical and dental appointments, etc. after school hours, on early dismissal days, or during vacation periods. Check the calendar for days when school is not in session.

Spell out what constitutes a full day absent/half day absent, e.g. arrival before (time) the student is marked a half day absent; arrival after (time) the student is marked a full day absent..

Regular Dismissal – State times/conditions

Early Dismissal Days – State school policy

DISCIPLINE

Statement on Philosophy of Discipline

(N) School strives to develop responsible, courteous, self-disciplined boys and girls whose pride in themselves, their parents, their school, and their community is reflected in their behavior. The development of such young people requires a consistent practice of thoughtful, responsible behavior during these formative years. Students are made aware that they are an integral part of the faith community and that their actions affect themselves as well as the entire community. The ultimate purpose is to develop true Christian character and a sense of responsibility: to establish an atmosphere conducive to academic excellence; and to protect the welfare of the individual, as well as the school community.

Students may be disciplined for conduct that occurs on school premises or at school-sponsored events, or for other conduct that adversely affects the interests or reputation of the school regardless of where the conduct occurs.

Behavior

To maintain a positive learning environment and standards that are consistent with our Christian philosophy, it is essential that students exhibit a sense of responsibility and respect for themselves as well as others. Listed below are some behaviors that are unacceptable:

Disrespect in manner and/or language

Rowdiness

Using the property of others without permission

Dishonesty

Disruptive Behavior

Failure to have necessary supplies for class work

Rudeness

Vulgarity

Dress code violations

Gum

Harassment of any kind by word or manner

Possession or consumption of any drug or look-alike drug while at school or while attending a school function

Possession or consumption of alcohol while at school or while attending a school function

Possession of knives/weapons or look-alike knives/weapons

Possession of pornographic material(s)

Smoking/using matches

Willful destruction of school property

Leaving school property without permission

Theft or extortion

Fighting or threats of violence

Harassment

Generally, the teacher will deal with infractions. Should circumstances warrant, the parent and/or the Administration involved will be consulted. In cases of serious or repeated violations, students may be subject to disciplinary suspension or expulsion. The school's fair procedure to be used in cases of possible suspension or expulsion is as follows: (review AOB policy 2.1 and 3.0)

While on suspension, the student is still responsible for missed work. After the specified amount of time for suspension, which shall not exceed three consecutive school days, the student and the parent(s)/guardian(s) will meet with the Administration for reinstatement. The Administration reserves the right to determine the conditions for reinstatement.

An expelled student forfeits all privileges of the (N) School student. The Administrator reserves the right not to re-admit an expelled student at a later date. If a student is to be expelled, the student is entitled to a prompt review procedure established by the Department of Catholic Schools. A written request for review must be submitted to the Superintendent of Catholic Schools within 10 working days of the notice of intent to expel. Parents are given the option to withdraw the student in lieu of expulsion.

Search and Seizure

(N) School reserves the right to search school property (e.g., lockers, desks), a student's belongings, and areas under the student's control in order to enforce school policies, rules and regulations or otherwise to preserve a safe and orderly learning environment.

Conflict Situations

Conflicts are a normal and healthy part of living and growing. The Administration will implement acceptable conflict resolution techniques to work towards a solution.

Health and Safety

AHERA – In October 1986, the U.S. Congress enacted the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA). Under this law, comprehensive regulations were developed to address asbestos problems in public and private elementary and secondary schools. These regulations require most schools to inspect for friable and non-friable asbestos, develop asbestos management plans that address asbestos hazards in school buildings and implement response actions in a timely manner. Our program for fulfilling these responsibilities is outlined in our asbestos management plan. This plan contains information on our inspections, re-inspections, response actions and post-response action activities, including periodic surveillance activities that are planned or are in progress. The plan is kept in the principal's office and may be viewed upon request during normal business hours.

Maryland School Immunization Requirements

A child may not enter school, unless he/she has submitted an official immunization record or other appropriate documentation of immunization status. The immunization record must have the month, day and year of each vaccination and be signed by a physician or health department official. In the case of religious objection or medical contra-indication, form DHMH 89, must be submitted and kept on file and be approved by the school. Exempted students are to be excluded from school if there is an outbreak of the disease for which they are not immunized.

Dispensing of Medication

The administration of medication in school is discouraged. However, if a student's physician recommends that the student receive prescription or over-the-counter medication during the school day, a written order from the student's doctor is required. Medication can only be dispensed with a written order from the student's physician, specifying start and stop date. The original medication container or box for inhalers must be brought to the school. These containers or boxes should include the following: name of medication, directions for use, time for dispensing, name of doctor ordering the medication, date of prescription, expiration date as stated by the pharmacist, strength of medication/dosage, and student's name and grade.

Students may not possess, dispense or distribute medication on their own. Under special circumstances, individual students may be authorized by their physician to carry and self-administer emergency medications (e.g. inhalers, epi-pens). In this case, the school nurse must be consulted. All medication must be delivered to school by a parent/guardian.

Communicable Diseases

Parents must call the school if their child is diagnosed with a communicable disease. The school must notify their county Health Department. All reports are confidential. Reportable diseases include the following:

Measles – regular or German (Rubella)

Meningitis

Hepatitis

Food Poisoning

Mumps

Adverse reactions to Pertussis Vaccine

Lyme disease

Chicken Pox (varicella)

Tuberculosis

Whooping Cough (Pertussis)

Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever

Human Immune Deficiency

Virus Infection (AIDS and all other symptomatic infections)

Animal bites / Rabies

Influenza

Any student with drainage from the eyes associated with conjunctivitis (pink eye) must be kept at home until under treatment from a doctor. A doctor's note will be required for readmission to school. Students who have chicken pox are excluded from school until all lesions are scabbed over.

Health Records

Parents are required to complete a Health Form listing any allergies, serious medical conditions, medications, and emergency contact information.

The school must be notified of any changes that occur during the school year.

Head Injury

If any injury to the head or any other serious injury occurs to a student, then nurse will call the parent and send home a report. The report is to be signed by the parent/guardian and returned to school. If the parent/guardian or alternative contact person cannot be reached in an emergency, the school will contact police/ambulance for assistance.

Insurance

The school provides the option for parents to purchase health insurance for their children.

Allergies

Parents must notify the school of their child's allergies including food allergies. School medication orders must be renewed each year by the physician and the order must be signed on or after July 1. If the student carries an EPIPEN with them, the physician must state this requirement on the order.

Bloodborne Pathogens

A complete Bloodborne Pathogens Standard Exposure Control Plan has been established by the school and can be found in each Faculty Handbook and on file in the Office.

Vision/Hearing Screening

The school follows the directives of (N) county/city Health Department and responds to parent's requests for individual testing.

This testing is usually done for:

- 1.) All new students who have not provided documentation for screening in the past year;
- 2.) All students the year they enter the school in Grades PreK, kindergarten, 1, and 8 or 9;
- 3.) Grade 3 or Grade 4 if funding is available;
- 4.) Any student with a suspected hearing or vision problem as reported by school staff or parents/guardians.

Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Policy Procedures

Maryland law requires that all educators and other school employees, including volunteers, report suspected child abuse or neglect to the proper authorities in order that children may be protected from harm and the family may be helped. Our school policy supports Maryland laws in this regard and requires that all school staff report suspected abuse and neglect to the Department of Social Services, Protective Services Division, and/or the local police department, as well as to the Principal.

Visitors

In order to ensure a safe environment for your child, all school doors will remain locked during the school day. All visitors must report to the office and receive an identification badge before visiting other parts of the school building.

Playground/School Supervision Provisions

(Include in a brief paragraph, local playground practices as well as the provisions made by the school for supervision.)

Supervision Responsibilities Before and After the Official School Day

Clearly state your school's arrival and dismissal times and the time when the school becomes responsible for a child's supervision.

Parents are required to follow the times stipulated when dropping off or picking up students. The school is not responsible for supervision of students before or after the times stated above. The school is not liable for any injuries or accidents which may occur before or after the times stated above. If the student is participating in a scheduled, supervised activity before or after the hours noted above, specific arrangements must be made for drop-off and/or pick-up at the designated times. If children are participating in before or after school care, parents must comply with the rules established by the program for drop-off and pick-up.

Use of School Grounds

(Stipulate your local practice)

STUDENT SERVICES

IEP Process

If a child is not progressing academically, the school may ask the parents/guardians to initiate or the parents/guardians may initiate on their own the process to request a professional consultation and/or evaluation through the local public school system. The evaluative process is generally called the IEP Process (Individual Educational Plan) and begins when a parent/guardian calls 'Child Find'. Following the initial phone call to the Local Educational Agency (LEA) Child Find, parents/guardians are given an initial meeting date within 30 days. At this initial meeting, parents/guardians and school faculty are invited to share their concerns, present information, and discuss whether an evaluation will take place. Catholic school staff, in particular the student's teacher, are a vital part of the process.

If an evaluation is deemed warranted and takes place, recommendations and an academic plan are developed and given to the parents/guardians at the summative meeting following the academic evaluation.

If such a plan is developed and the test results determine that there is a need for accommodations and/or modifications within a student's learning environment, the school administrator will consult with the parents/guardians to determine what accommodations, resources, plans, and school placements may be implemented. When appropriate, a Student Accommodation Plan is developed at your child's Catholic School.

Before and After School Care

Describe your program including hours and drop-off/pick-up regulations. It is better to keep the fee structure, etc., separate so that necessary changes are easier to manage. Make a statement similar to “for fee and other information, please call the school office or the director (Phone No.).”

Describe your own particular program(s)

School Activities/Organizations

Field Trips

Field trips are considered an integral part of the school's educational program and a valuable learning experience for students. Field trips are scheduled at various times during the school year. In advance of the trip, a permission form, required by the Archdiocesan Department of Catholic Schools, is sent home. A student will be permitted to attend the trip only if the permission form is signed by the parent/guardian and returned to the teacher by the specified date along with any fee.

If, for some extraordinary reason, a student is unable to participate, the student is expected to attend school on that day and fees must still be paid since the rates we are quoted reflect total participation. Work will be supplied by the teacher(s), and the student will be assigned a classroom in which to work under the supervision of a staff member. If a student is unable to attend because of illness, we cannot promise a refund. The teacher must be notified if a child will not participate in the field trip experience. Students who are kept home from the trip will be marked absent. Parent(s)/Guardian(s) are encouraged to participate as chaperones on field trips as the need arises. However, because of safety and liability factors, pre-school siblings and other school-age siblings are not allowed. We do not permit parents not selected as chaperones to join the group at the trip destination as this creates confusion.

All chaperones are required to complete Veritus training.

PBIS

The Archdiocese of Baltimore has implemented an evidence and research-based Anti-bullying Program, Positive Behavior Intervention and Support (PBIS). PBIS is a comprehensive framework in which schools focus on our Christ-centered teachings and values to create nurturing, safe, positive, and supportive learning environments. Consistent school-wide expectations are visible throughout the school and students' positive behavior is acknowledged and celebrated. The PBIS framework adopts behavioral interventions into an integrated continuum that is designed to enhance academic and behavioral outcomes for every student.

 - Shelter-in-place: Students and staff report to assigned locations. Ideally, the locations are away from windows and in the core of the building. Put signs in the windows about sheltering. For a chemical or biological event, turn off HVAC/air conditioning system and put tape on windows and on outside door

If an emergency at the school necessitates a closing, the principal notifies the Superintendent and radio/television stations (if appropriate), and then activates the local school's parent communication network.

Purpose:

- To ensure that the emergency information is communicated to all members of the school community
- To allow schools to respond to critical situations in a timely manner

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Each school establishes a network of communication which enables the school to contact all families in case of an emergency closing (e.g. Connect 5, websites, voicemail). This policy should be published in the Parent/Student Handbook.

ADM 12.5

Presidents/Principals should use discretion when communicating with media representatives.

Purpose:

- Effective media and public relations efforts bolster marketing programs and a sense of well being for the school.
- Appropriate disclosure of information may help to minimize damage to a school and speed recovery in crisis management situations.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Public communications, primarily through the media, can be useful for schools as they relate to crisis management and marketing.
- Complementary services are available from the Archdiocesan Communications Office.
- Media lists are maintained by the Communications Office to identify appropriate outlets for news on a school that is positive in nature. The Communications Office is also capable in helping format information in ways familiar to the media.
- Schools will find that media readily come to them for bad news. The Archdiocesan Communications Office, primarily but not exclusively, can help principals decide on what terms to meet media requests. When situations occur, refer to the Director of Communications. Principals are strongly encouraged to contact the Communications Office before responding to media requests if there is any concern regarding how the request should be handled. In general, when response to media is warranted, the principal should talk on-the-record with media, at a location close by but outside the school. In addition, the principal, and not other members of the school faculty or staff, should respond to media requests, except where otherwise indicated (e.g., interview of an athletic coach).

- When speaking to media, school representatives should always; decide beforehand what central message they wish to transmit, keep the scope of the conversation to the matter at hand, refuse to speculate for things that you do not know or on what others may be thinking, don't rush to fill silence since this is a simple media trap; remember that "I don't know" and "No" are valid answers that do not always require elaboration. Media will respect short, forthright answers that demonstrate that a principal is in control of the situation. Fair treatment by reporters is also more likely if a principal is cooperative, and where appropriate, willing to provide information and images necessary for the reporter to complete his/her assignment in a deadline driven environment. Care should be taken not to disclose educational record information in violation of FERPA.
- Offering faculty or students to the media for comment must be handled carefully. For adult faculty or staff, mere verbal assent is all that is required. Children generally may be videotaped or photographed in a group without identification unless a parent has requested this not be done. Students who are to be singled out for comment or identified in a photograph or videotape must have permission from their parent/guardian.

A plan for traffic safety and flow, designed by each school locally, is implemented before, during, and after school.

Purpose:

- To provide for the protection of students
- To ensure order when large numbers of the school community are concentrated on school property

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The traffic safety plan is communicated to the parents on an annual basis.

Arrival and Dismissal Policies
by Kathryn Kelley Hoskins

Many schools struggle with issues of safety and supervision of children who arrive at school early or are not picked up promptly at dismissal time. Some schools offer after-school programs on site and parents can be charged for this service on days when the students arrive early or stay late. In other schools, however, staff members are inconvenienced by having to provide "unscheduled" supervision of students.

This problem should be addressed through the development and distribution of written policies that clearly state the hours and places that supervision is (and is not) provided by the school. For example, such policies can state the earliest time that children may be dropped off, the latest time they may be picked up, and where and how they will be supervised during those hours. Parents should be notified that the School does not assume a duty of supervision beyond those hours. The policies should be reflected in the handbook, distributed to parents at least once a year, and reinforced verbally at meetings.

Early drop-offs and late pick-ups should have progressive consequences beginning with phone calls to the parents and proceeding to written warnings, monetary fines, and ultimately suspension, expulsion, and denial of re-registration for repeated violations. While a child should never be left alone or in a potentially dangerous situation, parents need to be held accountable for violation of the stated rules in order to promote compliance in the future. Parents should also be held accountable for violations by others who act on their behalf in bringing the student to school or picking up the student (e.g., babysitters, family members, car pool drivers). The School's failure to enforce arrival and departure times leads parents to (reasonably) rely on the School to provide supervision beyond the scheduled hours. Therefore, parents do not change their behavior, and the School may be viewed legally as having assumed a duty of supervision beyond the scheduled hours by providing it on a regular basis.

While "sanctioning" parents in this manner may seem harsh, enforcing arrival and departure policies is necessary in order to protect children. If parents do not take seriously the schedule published by the school, children may be on the premises, unsupervised, without the knowledge of any staff member. Inconsistent enforcement of rules also creates tension among families and staff members who perceive that some parents "get away with" violations of the stated policies on a regular basis. In the long run, holding people accountable is safest for the children and is fair to all school families and staff.

During inclement weather, all schools in the Archdiocese of Baltimore are to follow the directive of the jurisdiction in which the school is domiciled. The only exceptions to this policy are in the commentary.

Purpose:

- To ensure the travel safety of students, parents, teachers and staff in our schools

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- For schools domiciled in one jurisdiction, but which draws a large percentage of students from a surrounding jurisdiction, the school can elect to follow the directive of the neighboring jurisdiction. The school must follow the jurisdiction with the more restrictive travel decision. For example, a school located in Baltimore City which draws a large number of students from Baltimore County, may elect to follow either Baltimore City or Baltimore County. In such a case if one district is opening two hours late, and the other jurisdiction is closing schools for the day, the school must follow the jurisdiction that has closed for the day. For a school electing this multi-jurisdictional approach, the school must announce which jurisdictions will be included for consideration at the beginning of the school year and the school must adhere to the same jurisdictions for the entire school year.
- In circumstances where the local jurisdiction has closed or delayed schools solely due to extreme cold temperatures, a school that does not have any enrolled students using public school transportation to be transported to or from school and after consultations with the Superintendent of Catholic School may be given permission by the Superintendent to open school or remain open for the day.
- In circumstances where the local jurisdiction has closed or delayed schools solely due to extreme heat, a school that is fully air conditioned or has adequate space in the building that is properly air conditioned to accommodate all students and after consultations with the Superintendent of Catholic School may be given permission by the Superintendent to open school or remain open for the day. In those circumstances where permission is extended by the Superintendent to open or re-open on days of extreme heat, all after school programs planned to take place outside must either be canceled or moved inside to an area that is adequately air conditioned.

- Each school is to include information in the student handbook regarding the communication of school closures, delays and early dismissals.
- Schools need to remind parents they have the right not to send their children to school if they feel travel conditions are unsafe. However, it is to be noted that children will be marked as absent for the time they are not in school.
- In circumstances where school is either closed early or for the day on a Friday or before a holiday due to inclement weather, the school is not required to cancel weekend activities. Rather, each school is responsible for assessing the safety of accessing and using their campus in determining if the activities can proceed as scheduled or they should be rescheduled. The assessment is to include the directive of the local jurisdiction and consultation with the Superintendent of Catholic Schools, an evaluation of the public roads in the area, the condition of the roads, parking lots and sidewalks on the campus, as well as any increased cost considerations the school will incur to expedite work to make the campus safe for use.

An individual who drives a school vehicle must pass an appropriate medical examination and must have a Commercial Driver's License endorsed Passenger Vehicle. The medical examination includes drug and alcohol testing.

Purpose:

- To ensure the safety of the students.
- To comply with the regulations of the Federal Highway Administration.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Testing includes post-accident testing, random testing, reasonable suspicion testing, return-to-duty testing and follow-up testing for drug and alcohol use, as well as pre-employment testing for drug use.
- Driver includes, but is not limited to: full time, part-time, regularly employed driver; casual, intermittent or occasional driver, leased drivers and independent, owner operator contractors who are either directly employed by or under lease to an employer or who operates a commercial motor vehicle at the direction of or with the consent of an employer. The employer of the driver(s) is responsible for fulfilling the requirements of the law.
- Employer means any person who owns or leases a commercial motor vehicle, or assigns persons to operate such a vehicle. The employer is responsible for complying with the law.
- Principals must annually run a driving record for bus drivers employed directly by the school. If the driver has more than 3 or more points in Maryland or an out-of-state conviction, he/she is not allowed to drive for the school.

Principals comply with The Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 (the “Act”) and the implementing regulations.

Purpose:

- To comply with Federal Regulations and the Archdiocesan Code of Conduct, and to provide a safe and productive environment for all school staff and students.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Schools shall maintain a drug-free workplace by:
 - Publishing a statement notifying employees that the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use of a controlled substance is prohibited in the employee workplace and specifying the action that will be taken against employees for violation of the prohibition.
 - Establishing a drug-free awareness program to inform employees about: the danger of drug abuse in the workplace; the School's policy of maintaining a drug-free workplace; any available drug counseling, rehabilitation, and employee assistance programs; and the penalties that may be imposed upon employees for drug abuse violations.
 - Making it a requirement that each employee be given a copy of the School's policy maintaining a drug-free workplace.
 - Notifying each employee that, as a condition of employment, the employees shall (i) abide by the terms of the School's policy regarding the maintenance of a drug-free workplace, and (ii) notify the School of his or her conviction for a violation of a criminal drug statute occurring in the workplace (a “Conviction”) no later than five (5) days after such conviction.

The Division of Human Resources must also be notified of any such conviction.

- Notifying any federal granting agency required to be notified under the Act within ten (10) days after receiving notice of a Conviction from an employee or otherwise receiving actual notice of such Conviction.
- Taking one of the following actions within thirty (30) days of receiving notice of a Conviction of an employee: (i) taking appropriate personnel action against the employee, up to and including termination, or (ii) requiring the employee to participate satisfactorily in a drug rehabilitation program approved for that purpose by a federal, state, or local health, law enforcement, or other appropriate agency. The Division of Human Resource Services must be consulted before any such action is taken.
- Making a good-faith effort to maintain a drug-free workplace by satisfying all of the above requirements.

A policy statement designed to comply with the requirements of the Act is attached hereto and shall be adopted by each School to which the Act applies.

To the extent a School receives grants from any federal agency, such School also shall make an appropriate certification of the above to the granting agency in connection with each grant application or agreement.

School Policy Regarding a Drug-Free Workplace

I. GENERALLY. This policy is intended to insure compliance with The Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 (the "Act") and the implementing regulations.

II. PROHIBITIONS AND POLICIES.

- A. No employee shall, while at any employee workplace, unlawfully possess, use, distribute, dispense, manufacture or be under the influence of a "controlled substance" or other unlawful drug under federal or state law including, but not necessarily limited to, the Act and the Maryland Controlled Dangerous Substances Act.
- B. The School and all employees shall make a good faith effort to maintain a drug-free workplace through the implementation of this policy.
- C. As a condition of employment, each employee shall:
1. Abide by the terms of this policy; and
 2. Notify the Principal of the School, or in the case of the Principal, the appropriate Assistant Superintendent, of any criminal drug statue conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace no later than five (5) days after such conviction.
- D. Where an employee violates the terms of this policy or is convicted of violating a criminal drug statue for an offense occurring in the workplace, the employee shall be subject to sanctions, consistent with law and policy, which will include:
1. Appropriate personnel action against the employee up to and including termination; or
 2. Requiring that such employee satisfactorily participate in a drug rehabilitation program approved for that purpose by a federal, state, or local health, law enforcement, or other appropriate agency.

Such sanction shall be imposed within thirty (30) days of the School receiving notice of a conviction. Without limiting the scope of employee sanctions, it is specifically stated that violation of this policy shall constitute just cause for dismissal.

- E. To educate and assist employees in understanding this policy and the goals of achieving a drug-free workplace, the School shall take the following actions and such others as may appear appropriate:
1. The School shall provide to those currently employed and all other employees upon being employed a copy of this policy or a statement outlining the terms of this policy. An appropriate statement may also be included by the School in any employment manual or otherwise disseminated.
 2. The School shall undertake a drug-free awareness program to inform employees about: the dangers of drug abuse in the workplace; the School's policy of maintaining a drug-free workplace; any available drug counseling, rehabilitation, and employee assistance programs; and the penalties that may be imposed upon employees for drug abuse violations.
 3. The School shall notify any federal granting agency required to be notified under the Act within ten (10) days after receiving notice of a conviction of an employee for violating a criminal drug statute for an offense occurring in the workplace from an employee or otherwise receiving actual notice of such conviction.

Principals develop a written plan which describes management of exposure to blood borne pathogens in the school.

Purpose:

- To comply with the Maryland Occupational Safety and Health (MOSH) Regulations
- To ensure the health and safety of all persons in the school community

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Principal works in consultation with the delegating nurse to create an Exposure Control Plan
- A sample Exposure Control Plan may be obtained from the Department of Catholic Schools
- The Exposure Control Plan includes a list of job classifications of school employees who have "occupational exposure," defined as those employees who can reasonably anticipate being exposed to blood or other potentially infectious material in the performance of their duties. Such job classifications may include school nurses, physical education teachers and coaches whose job duties include first aid, maintenance personnel, some science teachers, etc.
- The Plan also identifies the schedule, means and methods that the school uses to comply with the regulations.
- The school ensures that all employees with "occupational exposure" participate in a training program at the time of initial assignment and at least annually thereafter. The school maintains training records as required by the applicable regulations.

- All Plans require the use of “universal precautions,” which means that all blood or other potentially infectious materials are treated as if known to be infectious for HIV (which causes AIDS), HBV (Hepatitis B) and other blood-borne pathogens.
- The Plan includes a section, which details the school’s procedures for hand washing. In general, these procedures require washing as soon as practical after blood contact with skin, eyes or mucous membranes, and after removing gloves or other protective equipment. If running water is not immediately available, the plan describes what alternative the employees use to clean their hands.
- Needles are not bent or recapped by hand unless absolutely necessary because of the nature of a specific medical procedure. The plan also requires that sharps be placed in identified, puncture-resistant containers which are located as close as practical to where sharps are used or likely to be found. (Example, nurses office)
- Equipment is decontaminated prior to being shipped or repaired so that those involved in the transportation, handling and repair are not exposed to potentially infectious material.
- The Plan specifies what personal protective equipment/clothing (e.g., gloves, masks, lab coats, etc.) are worn in specific situations (example, bio-labs).
- The Plan indicates the type of disinfectant, method, and schedule that the school uses to clean surfaces and equipment.
- The school makes available the hepatitis B vaccine and vaccination series to all employees who are determined to have “occupational exposure.” The vaccination is made available within 10 working days of initial assignment and after receiving training, at no cost to the employee (i.e., the school pays for the vaccine and any travel expense or lost work time associated with the vaccination). Employees who decline the vaccination sign a specific waiver. (See Appendix)
- The school provides an exposed employee with a confidential post-exposure evaluation and follow-up by a licensed healthcare professional at no cost to the employee. The school investigates and documents the circumstances of any exposure incident.
- The school establishes and maintains an accurate confidential medical record for each employee with “occupational exposure.”
- Each school makes its Exposure Control Plan accessible to all employees, and reviews and updates the Plan at least annually.

*This policy highlights only some of the requirements of the applicable regulations. Schools should refer to the full regulations and MOSH bulletins in developing their Exposure Plan.

Principals comply with regulations, regarding asbestos management from the state and federal health departments.

Purpose:

- To ensure the health and safety of students and staff

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The 1986 Congressional Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA) requires schools to:
 - inspect for friable and non-friable asbestos
 - develop asbestos management plans that address asbestos hazards in the school building
 - implement response actions in a timely manner
- Parents, teachers and other employees receive annual notification of their right to review the school's Asbestos Management Plan.
- Custodial employees are properly trained regarding federal and state regulations.
- All warning labels are posted in accordance with AHERA guidelines.
- Six-month surveillance inspections must be completed and documented by the custodian and placed in asbestos handbook.
- No asbestos abatement is to be done in any Archdiocesan facility without review and approval from the Division of Facilities Management.
- The Asbestos Management Plan is kept and maintained by the Principal. Copies of all actions are submitted to the Division of Facility Management.

Each Archdiocesan school shall establish a threat assessment team to monitor and respond information about behavior, statements, or plans that may pose a threat (as defined in section 3.0).

1.0 Establishing a Threat assessment team

- 1.1 Each threat assessment team can include persons at the local level with expertise in counseling and/or health, student instruction, and school administration. The principal shall serve as the team leader.
- 1.2 Each threat assessment team can include persons at the local level with expertise in counseling and/or health, student instruction, and school administration. The principal shall serve as team leader.
- 1.3 Each threat assessment team shall include a representative from the Superintendent's office (an Associate Superintendent and/or the Director of Student Support Services).
- 1.4 In appropriate cases, the threat assessment team may include representatives of the Department of Human Resources, the Office of Risk Management, and/or the Office of Child and Youth Protection.
- 1.5 The Superintendent may establish a committee charged with oversight of the threat assessment teams.

2.0 Threat assessment team Responsibilities

- 2.1 Provide guidance to faculty, staff, students, and parents/guardians regarding recognition of behavior that may pose a threat.
- 2.2 Identify to whom threats should be reported. Schools should also instruct students on how to report concerning behavior to the school administration, including providing confidential and anonymous methods for making reports.
- 2.3 Assess threats and intervene as needed with individuals whose behavior poses a threat.

- 2.4 In consultation with the Executive Director of Communications and/or legal counsel, as needed, prepare timely notifications to the school community regarding threats.

3.0 Definitions

- 3.1 A threat is a communication or behavior that indicates intent to cause physical harm, including self-harm, at school or a school activity or to one or more members of the school community. The threat may be expressed by spoken or written words, actions, drawings, electronic communications, or any other means. The threat may be observed by or communicated directly to the target(s) or observed by or communicated to a third party. Threats also may be reported anonymously or through “tips” or rumors. Threats may be direct (“I am going to beat you up”) or indirect (“I’m going to get him”).
- 3.2 A threat assessment is a fact-finding review process to identify potentially violent situations (including self-harm), assess them, and manage/address them. The goal of the threat assessment process is to maintain a safe and secure school environment.
- 3.3 Concerning behavior involves actions, statements, communications or responses that are unusual for the person or situation and that cause concern for safety. These can include (but are not limited to):
- 3.3.1 Unusual social distancing or isolation of subjects from peers and/or family members
 - 3.3.2 Sullen or depressed behavior from an otherwise friendly and positive person
 - 3.3.3 Out of context outbursts of verbal or physical aggression
 - 3.3.4 Increased levels of agitation, frustration and anger
 - 3.3.5 Confrontational, accusatory or blaming behavior
 - 3.3.6 An unusual interest in or fascination with weapons
 - 3.3.7 Fixation on violence as means of addressing a grievance
 - 3.3.8 “Cutting” or other self-injurious actions
- 3.4 A low risk threat does not appear to pose a threat of serious harm to self or others and any concerns can be resolved easily.
- 3.5 A moderate risk threat indicates a potential for serious harm to self or others that requires intervention.
- 3.6 A high risk threat indicates efforts to acquire the capacity to causes serious harm to self or others that requires intervention.

- 3.7 An imminent threat poses a clear and immediate danger of serious violence towards one or more other persons that requires containment and action to protect any identified or identifiable target(s).

4.0 Procedures

- 4.1 Anyone who believes that a person or situation poses an imminent threat shall call 911 immediately and take appropriate action to prevent harm in accordance with the school's emergency response policy.
- 4.2 All school employees, volunteers, and contractors are required to report any concerning behavior or potential threats to the school principal (or their designee) in a timely manner. Parents must be notified immediately of any threats of self-harm by students.
- 4.3 The principal may determine that a threat does not exist or that it is a low risk threat that can be handled at the local level. In the case of more serious risks, the principal will convene the threat assessment team.
- 4.4 The threat assessment team will:
- 4.4.1 Review the threat.
 - 4.4.2 Review records for any prior history or interventions with the individual(s) involved.
 - 4.4.3 Conduct timely and thorough interviews (as necessary) of the person(s) who reported the threat, the recipient(s) or target(s) of the threat, other witnesses who have knowledge of the threat, and where reasonable, the individual(s) who allegedly engaged in the threatening behavior or communication. The purpose of the interviews is to evaluate the threat in context so that appropriate action can be taken. Two school personnel should be present for each interview and for any reasonable searches of student or staff property or areas under their control (e.g., for weapons).
- 4.5 The threat assessment team should review the information gathered in a threat assessment in accordance with the questions set forth in Appendix A, as applicable.

5.0 Intervening, Monitoring, and Resolving Threats

- 5.1 The threat assessment team shall develop, implement, and monitor a plan to address the threat. (See Appendix B regarding possible responses based on the assessment of risk.)
- 5.2 The team leader (principal) shall maintain documentation of the plan.

- 5.3 The threat assessment team shall assist affected persons in accessing appropriate school- and community-based resources.
- 5.4 Where mental health or disability issues are reasonably believed to be causing or contributing to violence risk, and where it is anticipated that the subject will not be withdrawn or expelled (if a student) or terminated (if an employee), a mental health risk assessment should be conducted by a qualified medical/psychological professional. The school may require that the professional conducting the evaluation not have had a treatment relationship with the subject. The assessment should be based on a review of all available information including but not limited to interview of the subject by the professional. The written report should identify the problem or conflict that prompted the threat and recommend strategies to address the problem and to reduce the risk of violence.
 - 5.4.1 The threat assessment team leader will determine the conditions of returning to school that may include the requirement to cooperate in a mental health evaluation. (Note: Under the ADA, any medical examinations or inquiries of current employees must be “job-related and consistent with business necessity.”) If the subject is a student, the parents are to be notified of all requirements and any failure to comply. A meeting must be held prior to the subject’s return to school/work.
 - 5.4.2 Every effort will be made by threat assessment team members to obtain any required signed permission for release and exchange of information with mental health provider(s), if any, and where appropriate, local law enforcement agencies.
 - 5.4.3 After receiving the mental health evaluation report, the threat assessment team shall complete and implement a written safety plan to address the immediate steps taken to prevent the threat from being carried out and a plan for further action before the subject is permitted to return to school or an alternative educational environment. The safety plan should include:
 - 5.4.3.1 interventions, such as counseling or medication, that are needed to reduce risk;
 - 5.4.3.2 scheduled follow-up contact with the subject (and parent if subject is a student) to assess changes in risk and update the safety plan over time, until the perceived threat is resolved; and
 - 5.4.3.3 person(s) who are responsible for monitoring and verifying that the safety plan recommendations are being followed.
 - 5.4.4 If the subject poses a significant risk to the health or safety that cannot be eliminated by a minor adjustment of policies, practices, or procedures (i.e., a direct threat), the subject may be removed from school.
 - 5.4.5 If the subject is a student who has a disability, the determination of a direct threat may not be based on generalizations or stereotypes about the effects of a particular disability and must be based on an individualized assessment, based on reasonable judgment relying on current medical evidence or on the best available objective evidence, to determine: the nature, duration, and severity of the risk; the probability that the potential injury will actually occur; and whether minor adjustment of policies, practices, or procedures will mitigate the risk.

- 5.5 For each case, a member of the threat assessment team shall be designated as a case manager to monitor the implementation of the plan. The case manager provides regular updates to the threat assessment team until the threat is resolved.
- 5.6 The principal documents the resolution of the threat and closure of the case according to the "Threat Assessment Triage and Assessment Form." Completed forms should be emailed to the Associate Superintendent including a cc: Superintendent and Director of Student Support Services.

6.0 Communication

- 6.1 In accordance with the guidelines attached as Exhibit B, if appropriate, the principal or designee will promptly notify the intended target(s) and/or subject(s) and their parents or guardians (if students) of the threat. This notification should be made in person or by phone.
- 6.2 In appropriate cases, the threat assessment team will prepare a timely notification to the school community of the threat and how it has been resolved or is being addressed. Appropriate cases may include:
 - 6.2.1 Cancellations, late arrivals, or early dismissals are required based on the threat
 - 6.2.2 Searches, screenings, security, or other pro-active measures are recommended based on the threat
 - 6.2.3 One or more students, parents, faculty or staff are aware of the threat
 - 6.2.4 The threat is being discussed on social media
 - 6.2.5 Local media outlets (print, radio, television) are aware of the threat
 - 6.2.6 Law enforcement authorities have been seen at the school
- 6.3 The templates attached as Appendix C may be useful as a starting point for notification to the school community.

APPENDIX A

An interview conducted during a threat assessment can elicit important information that permits the threat assessment team to better understand the situation. This understanding, in turn, will help the threat assessment team to assess the risk of violence. Interviews also can generate leads for further inquiry.

An interview can also send the message to the individual that allegedly made the threat that his or her behavior has been noticed and has caused concern. Interviews give individuals of concern the opportunity to tell their perspectives, background and intent; to be heard and experience support/empathy where appropriate; and to reassess and redirect their behavior away from activities that are of concern. The interview may suggest to a person considering self-harm or harm to others that there are people who are interested in his or her welfare and that there are better, more effective ways to deal with problems or with specific people.

Although an interview with a subject of concern can provide valuable information, relying too heavily (or solely) on that interview as a basis for assessing the threat is likely to present problems. The information may be incomplete, misleading, or inaccurate. It therefore is important to collect information to corroborate and verify information learned from the subject.

Based on the information gathered, the threat assessment team should evaluate the following questions, as applicable (individualized questions for the interview should be prepared based on the specific situation):

- 7.0 What are the subject's motive(s) and goals? / What first brought him/her to someone's attention?
- Does the subject have a major grievance or grudge? Against whom?
 - Does the situation or circumstance that led to these statements or actions still exist?
 - What efforts have been made to resolve the problem and what has been the result?
- 8.0 Does the subject feel that any part of the problem is resolved or see any alternatives?
- 9.0 Has the subject previously come to someone's attention or raised concern in a way that suggested he or she needs intervention or supportive services?
- 10.0 Have there been any communications suggesting ideas, intent, planning or preparation for violence?
- What, if anything, has the subject communicated to someone else (targets, friends, co-workers, others) or written in a diary, journal, email, or website concerning his or her grievances, ideas and/or intentions?

- Do the communications provide insight about ideation, planning, preparation, timing, grievances, etc.?
- Has anyone been alerted or “warned away”?

11.0 Has the subject shown any inappropriate interest in, fascination, and/or identification with other incidents of mass or targeted violence (e.g., terrorism, rampage violence, school/workplace shootings, mass murderers)

12.0 Does the subject have (or are they developing) the capacity to carry out an act of targeted violence?

- How organized is the subject’s thinking and behavior?
- Does the subject have the means (e.g., access to a weapon) to carry out an attack?
- Are they trying to get the means to carry out an attack?
- Have they developed the will and ability to cause harm?
- Are they practicing or rehearsing for the violence?
- What is the “intensity of effort” expended in attempting to develop the capability?

13.0 Is the subject experiencing hopelessness, desperation, and/or despair?

- Is there information to suggest that the subject is feeling desperation and/or despair?
- Has the subject experienced a recent failure, loss and/or loss of status?
- Is the subject having significant difficulty coping with a stressful event?
- Has the subject engaged in behavior that suggests that he or she has considered ending their life?

14.0 Does the subject have a positive, trusting, sustained relationship with at least one responsible person?

14.1 Does the subject have at least one friend, colleague, family member, or other person that he or she trusts and can rely upon for support, guidance or assistance?

14.2 Is that trusted person someone that would work collaboratively with the team for the well-being of the subject of concern?

14.3 Is the subject emotionally connected to other people or becoming more socially isolated?

15.0 Does the subject see violence as an acceptable, desirable – or the only – way to solve a problem?

15.1 Does the subject still perceive alternatives to violence to address their grievances?

15.2 Does the setting around the subject (friends, colleagues, family members, others) explicitly or implicitly support or endorse violence as a way of resolving problems or disputes?

15.3 Has the subject been “dared” by others to engage in an act of violence?

15.4 Has the subject expressed sentiments of finality or desperation to address grievances?

16.0 Are the subject’s conversation and “story” consistent with his or her actions?

16.1 Does information from collateral interviews and from the subject’s own behavior confirm or dispute what the subject says is going on and how they are dealing with it?

16.2 Is there corroboration across sources or are the subject’s statements at odds with their actions?

17.0 Are other people concerned about the subject’s potential for violence?

17.1 Are those who know the subject concerned that he or she might take action based on violent ideas or plans?

17.2 Are those who know the subject concerned about a specific target?

17.3 Are persons around the subject engaging in protective actions (e.g. distancing, avoiding, minimizing conflict, etc.)

18.0 What circumstances might affect the likelihood of an escalation to violent behavior?

18.1 What events or situations in the subject’s life (currently or in the near future) may increase or decrease the likelihood that the subject will engage in violent behavior?

18.2 Are threat assessment team interventions escalating, de-escalating, or having no effect on movement toward violence?

18.3 What is the response of others who know about the subject’s ideas or plans?

Thoughtful consideration of the answers to the above key questions will produce a sound foundation for the threat assessment team’s response to the overarching question in a threat assessment: Does the individual of concern pose a threat of violence toward self or others?

APPENDIX B

Examples of Low Risk Threat Responses

The response to a low risk threat depends on the context of the threat, whether the threat requires some form of disciplinary action, and what is necessary to resolve the situation. Some low risk threat cases are generated from a misunderstanding of what was communicated, something taken out of context, or a statement made in the heat of the moment but with no actions to indicate intent to cause harm. Many low risk threats are resolved with a clarification, explanation, retraction and or an apology – all of which (in conjunction with the absence of any other behaviors of concern) indicate that the threat is non-existent or minimal, and is over.

Since low risk threats by definition do not appear to pose a serious risk of harm and can be easily resolved, action to protect the person(s) to whom the threat was directed should not be necessary. When the person to whom the threat was directed is a student, his/her parents or guardian may be notified, at the discretion of the threat assessment team or school administration. If parents of a threatened student are notified, they should be contacted promptly and reassured that the threat has been resolved. Parents of the student engaging in the low risk threatening behavior may also be notified so they are aware of the situation and that it has been resolved.

Some low risk threats may result in disciplinary action based on the school's handbook. The parent or guardian of the subject student is to be notified of the incident and of the disciplinary action taken. All applicable disciplinary processes should be followed.

When the threat assessment team determines a threat to be low risk, the case may be resolved entirely with no further action or resolved with referral to appropriate school or community-based resources. When subjects are referred for resources or services, a member of the threat assessment team may be designated to monitor the subject's reactions for a short period of time, and that the referral was made effectively.

If new information comes to the attention of the team, re-assess and update the case management plan.

Examples of Moderate Risk Threat Responses

A moderate risk threat will typically result in notifying the intended target(s) of the threat and taking precautions to protect them, taking steps to monitor and supervise the subject, and taking disciplinary action in accordance with the school's policy. The threat assessment team will also work to address the conflict or problem that led to the threat. Examples of strategies that may be employed include but are not limited to:

1. Consult with law enforcement to assist in monitoring and supervising the subject as well as determining the need, if any, for law enforcement action.
2. Provide direct supervision so the subject cannot carry out the threat while at school, at school functions, or on the bus.
3. Caution the subject who made the threat about the consequences of carrying out the threat.
4. Where the subject is a student, contact the student subject's parents or guardians to assume responsibility for supervision of the student and to enlist their support in preventing the student from carrying out the threat.
5. Notify the intended target(s) and (if they are students) their parents. The intended target(s) (and, where appropriate) their parents, must be notified of the seriousness of the threat, the identity of the subject who made the threat, and what actions are being taken to support the safety of the target and the school as a whole.
6. Follow applicable disciplinary procedures in accordance with conduct policy.
7. Where appropriate, refer the subject for counseling, conflict mediation, or other interventions to reduce the threat of violence and to address the underlying conflict or issues that led to the threat. The school administrator should involve school-based professionals (such as the school counselor or nurse) or community based professionals (e.g., Employee Assistance Program, community mental health services, etc.) who can provide assistance and appropriate intervention.

Examples of High Risk Threat Responses

Threatening behaviors indicating the intent, planning, or preparation to cause serious bodily injury or death (e.g., to commit suicide, to rape, physically assault and inflict serious injury, kill, or use weapons against others) requires the immediate involvement of the threat assessment team. When the threat is determined to be high risk, the threat assessment team must:

1. Notify law enforcement.
2. Provide direct supervision so the subject cannot carry out the threat while at school, at school programs, or on the bus.

3. Caution the subject who made the threat about the consequences of carrying out the threat.
4. Where the subject is a student, contact the subject student's parents and enlist their support in preventing the student from carrying out the threat; either law enforcement or the student's parents should assume responsibility for supervising the student.
5. Notify the intended target(s) and (if they are students) their parents. The intended target(s) (and, where appropriate) their parents, must be notified of the seriousness of the threat, the identity of the subject who made the threat, and what actions are being taken to support the safety of the target and the school as a whole.
6. Follow applicable disciplinary procedure in accordance with conduct policy.
7. Where appropriate, refer the subject for counseling, conflict mediation, or other interventions to reduce the threat of violence and to address the underlying conflict or issues that led to the threat. The school administrator should involve school-based professionals (such as the school counselor or nurse) or community based professionals (e.g., Employee Assistance Program, community mental health services, etc.) who can provide assistance and appropriate intervention

Examples of Imminent Threat Responses

An imminent threat exists when the person/situation appears to pose a clear and immediate threat of serious violence toward others. Such threats require immediate containment and action to protect identified target(s) and referral to law enforcement. Following immediate action to protect identified target(s), these threats require the involvement of the threat assessment team for the purpose of developing a safety plan.

Procedures for notification of the superintendent and parents of a student subject and/or intended target student(s) that are set forth for high risk threats are to be followed. A mental health risk assessment should be required if the subject will not be withdrawn or expelled (if a student) or terminated (if an employee) as a disciplinary matter.

- to reach out to those who have been abused by Church personnel

Key Points:

- Principal's role as responsible administrator
 - The principal of a school is responsible for all of the Archdiocese's child and youth protection policies, procedures, and decisions at his/her school. It is the responsibility of the principal to insure that all faculty and staff have a very strong knowledge and understanding of all of the child and youth protection policies.

- <http://www.archbalt.org/about-us/child-youth-protection/loader.cfm?csModule=security/getfile&PageID=7115>

- Reporting of Allegations

- The Archdiocese of Baltimore complies with Maryland laws requiring reporting suspected child abuse to civil authorities. Under Maryland Law any person who has reason to believe a child has been subjected to abuse must report the suspected abuse to civil authorities, even if the potential victim is now over 18 years old and even in cases where the alleged perpetrator is deceased. Church personnel who receive a report, suspect or allege child abuse on the part of Church personnel including clergy, employees, or volunteers of/in the Archdiocese of Baltimore are required to contact the Archdiocese's Office of Child and Youth Protection immediately, in addition to reporting to civil authorities under state law.
- Under Maryland law, all educators, health practitioners, and social workers report cases of suspected child abuse or neglect immediately and directly to the local Department of Social Services. Reports of abuse may also be made to the police. An oral report must be made as soon as possible, with a written report within 48 hours of the suspicion of abuse or neglect. The responsibility to report cases of suspected child abuse or neglect is mandatory. Failure to report cases of suspected child abuse or neglect may result in the revocation of an educator's certification. If a teacher or other staff member becomes aware of a possible case of abuse or neglect, the principal must be notified immediately.
- <http://www.archbalt.org/about-us/child-youth-protection/loader.cfm?csModule=security/getfile&PageID=7115>

- If it is learned that the child of a registered sex offender or someone who has been charged with a related offense attends an Archdiocesan school or parish, then school administration must contact the Archdiocese's Office of Child and Youth Protection (OCYP) immediately. The OCYP will notify the parent of his/her restrictions.
- Restrictions are placed on the parent regarding their participation in school/parish activities. The parent may not attend any school events and the parent's access to a school is limited to times when children are not present.
- A registered sex offender or someone charged with a related offense may participate in liturgical celebrations in the Archdiocese; however, his/her presence on Archdiocesan property other than attending a liturgical celebration will be considered trespassing.

The Department of Catholic Schools Archdiocese of Baltimore Technology Plan

1. Goals and Realistic Strategy

Goals:

The Department of Schools believes that technology has the power to motivate students toward life-long learning, encourage communication with students, staff, parents and teachers and make our entire Department more effective.

Technology in the Department of schools will provide an avenue for communication, collaboration, problem solving and efficiency. Our Department believes everyone on our staff should be encouraged to effectively use the ever evolving tools of technology. We recognize that training is an important part of our success as we model for administrators, staff, students and parents the tools necessary for 21 Century learning.

Strategy:

To ensure our goals evolve with the technological opportunities and in line with our budget, the Department of Schools of the Archdiocese of Baltimore has a technology committee consisting of the Superintendent of Schools, the Associate Superintendents and Directors. This committee will meet twice a year to evaluate our use of technology and suggest plans to keep current. This committee will also discuss current resources, replacement plans, new technology ideas and professional development opportunities for the entire school community. With evaluations of staff competency, increased Internet and telecommunications access, the Central office Department of Schools will grow to ensure that our students are prepared for the future, our teachers integrate technology into the curriculum, our staff uses technology to increase school efficiency and our whole community experiences expanded opportunities for communication and problem solving. Through evaluation and planning the technology committee will steer our schools toward greater progress each year.

2. Professional Development:

The Director of Academic Technology works with our team on a one-to-one basis to encourage and ensure that current technology helps with our daily operation. The Director of Academic technology trains teachers throughout the system to be innovative thinkers and trainers of teachers at their own schools. The Technology Leaders at each school communicate via a listserv and are trained to teach their teachers to form technology teams at each school.

Professional development training offered by the Archdiocese of Baltimore is ongoing throughout the year and teachers are encouraged to attend conferences, technology meetings as well as take classes for Maryland State Department of Education recertification credit which emphasize the use of technology for personal learning.

In addition, classes are offered during the school year in training for optimal use of new equipment, software and programs. The Technology Showcase offers a not only a yearly venue to evaluate each school's progress in innovate teaching with technology but also offers the opportunity for technology leaders in all our schools to network and share.

The Factors of Viability list technology standards each school must meet, including the approval of a technology plan, professional development opportunities and school wide resources.

Purpose:

- To ensure that the relationship between the parish/school and a third party/program/activity/event is/are clear.

Camps/Events/Activities are to be evaluated by their relationship to the parish/school to determine applicable requirements as stated below.

Purpose:

- To determine if/when the applicable requirements for a third party (vendor, lessee, outside organization, etc.) using your parish/school, it is necessary to evaluate the relationship between the parish/school and the program/activity/event

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- If the camp is (1) being run by teachers that are on your faculty and (2) the school is being paid directly for the all fees for the camp, then the teacher, camp and school are covered under the liability coverage already provided to your location under the Archdiocesan insurance program and nothing further is needed. Keep in mind under this structure the school administrator is ultimately responsible for the oversight of the camp or program and the teacher(s) is merely the agent of the school in delivering this program.
- If the camp is (1) being run by others than teachers and members of your faculty or a teacher on your faculty is hosting the camp, having payments issued directly to them by the parents of the children and the only relationship between the school and the teacher is that the school is allowing the teacher to use the school facilities, then such camps and program need to be handled as being operated by a third party vendor. If the camp or program is structured as noted in this section, the following is required:
 1. There must be a lease agreement between the school and the operator of the camp or program;
 2. The program needs to provide evidence of their own liability insurance;
 3. The program needs to provide evidence of their own sexual misconduct coverage;

4. The program needs to verify that all employees, agents and contractors working for that camp have had current criminal background checks done;
5. All advertisements, parent forms, permission slips and any other communication issued by the camp or program must include a statement that the program is not sponsored by or associated with the school. The statement is to read as follows:

The (Name of Organization/Camp) is not sponsored by or affiliated with (School Name), (Parish Name), or the Archdiocese of Baltimore. (School Name), (Parish Name), or the Archdiocese of Baltimore does not direct, supervise, or control the activities of the Name of (Organization/Camp).

- Prior to allowing the use of the facility, your school needs to have in its possession the following:
 1. The executed lease agreement;
 2. A certificate of insurance showing $1,000,000 in general liability per occurrence with $2,000,000 in the aggregate and the school and Archbishop must be named additional insured entities;
 3. A certificate of insurance showing $300,000 in sexual misconduct coverage must be provided and the school and Archbishop must be named additional insured entities;
 4. A letter verifying all employees, agents and contractors working on behalf of the camp or program have undergone a criminal background check;
 5. A copy of all communications showing the disclaimer language that the camp is not sponsored by or associated with your school, parish or the Archdiocese.

Archdiocese of Baltimore Fingerprinting Procedures

In compliance with the Code of Conduct for Church Personnel of the Archdiocese of Baltimore, every Archdiocese of Baltimore parish and school must fingerprint prospective employees during the hiring process. To provide a safe work environment and avoid negligent hiring practices, the following procedures must be followed:

Prospective employees must be fingerprinted for criminal background checks to be completed by the State of Maryland and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). The hiring process is not complete until fingerprinting for criminal background checks has been done.

Employment cannot start until the fingerprinting has been completed by the prospective employee.

Results from the criminal background checks do not have to be obtained prior to start of employment.

Criminal Justice Information System (CJIS)

The Criminal Justice Information System (CJIS) processes all fingerprints and sends the criminal background results to each location that has requested the criminal background check information. CJIS is located in Pikesville, Maryland and has a Call Center to handle inquiries:

Baltimore City local number: 410-764-4501; Toll free number: 1-888-795-0011

The website address for information about fingerprinting services and related forms is: <http://www.dpscs.state.md.us/publicservs/bgchecks.shtml>

Each location must have an authorization number, issued by CJIS, in order to submit fingerprints and receive background check information on prospective employees.

To receive a CJIS authorization number, each location must complete and submit a General Registration Form (see General Registration Form- Attachment #1)

In Section I of this form the Pastor, Pastoral Life Director, Temporary Administrator or Principal of each location should be recorded as the Contact Person and should be the only person receiving criminal background check information.

In Section II of this form each location should check the box next to the words: Child Care.

In Section III of this form each Pastor, Pastoral Life Director, Temporary Administrator or Principal signs beneath the certification statement to ensure that he/she understands Maryland laws pertaining to criminal background check information dissemination.

The form can be mailed or faxed to CJIS; the address and fax number are located at the bottom of the form.

Fingerprinting Sites

There are several sites providing fingerprinting services located throughout Maryland.

A list of fingerprinting sites with contact information is located on:

<https://www.dpscs.state.md.us/publicservs/fingerprint.shtml>

CJIS recommends that prospective employees use the LiveScan inkless fingerprinting process which doesn't require fingerprint cards. Please contact individual fingerprinting service providers to make fingerprinting appointments for prospective employees.

Since fingerprint cards are not required for LiveScan fingerprints, CJIS asks that a Pre-Registration form be completed and submitted at the time fingerprints are being taken (see LiveScan Pre-Registration Form- Attachment #3).

Prospective employees will need to pay for fingerprinting at the time of service. Each fingerprinting site collects both a CJIS and a FBI fee.

Private providers of fingerprinting services may charge a processing fee also and those fees vary among providers. CJIS recommends that providers be contacted directly for current fees and acceptable payment methods (check, debit card, etc.)

All Archdiocesan parishes and schools must pay the costs of fingerprinting. If a prospective employee incurs any fingerprinting fees, he/she must be reimbursed by the employer.

LiveScan Pre-Registration Application Form

The Applicant Information section at the top of the form is self-explanatory. This section asks for the applicant's personal information, such as citizenship (e.g. USA, Canada, etc.) hair color, eye color, etc.

The Agency Information section in the middle of the form asks for information identifying the employer requesting the fingerprinting and the reason for the fingerprinting. The Agency Authorization # is the number that CJIS has assigned to a parish or school; applicants should be given that number on the form. The ORI # section is not necessary to complete; applicants should leave that section blank. In the Reason Fingerprinted section applicants should state "employment" as the reason. In the Position Applied For section applicants should state "child care" regardless of the position applied for within a parish or school. In the Request Type section, applicants should always choose Child Care.

Internal Applicants

When a current or former Archdiocesan employee applies for another parish or school position, fingerprinting is required for the new location.

The only time an employee/applicant is not required to be fingerprinted is when he/she has been fingerprinted, for employment purposes, within the last year. If fingerprinting has been done for the State of Maryland and the FBI within a year, the employee/applicant can complete a 365 Day Form to have the criminal background check information sent to the new employer(see 365 Day Form- Attachment #5).

Receipt of Criminal Background Information

Criminal background information should be directed to the Pastor, Pastoral Life Director, Temporary Administrator or Principal to review. This information is highly confidential and should not be disseminated to other staff members.

Criminal background information can be e-mailed to a parish or school. To set up a certified email account to receive criminal background information, parishes and schools should call the CJIS Call Center at 410-764-4501. The information sent from CJIS via email is retained on its server for only 30 days.

CJIS recommends that parishes and schools keep a log to record each time criminal background information is shared. This log would include the date of the release of information, the name of the person receiving the information, and the purpose for the information being shared (e.g. sent applicant's criminal background information to Connie Vagrin in Human Resources on December 10, 2017 due to charges listed on documents).

CJIS recommends that the State of Maryland and FBI criminal background information be filed in a separate, secure area (not within the personnel files). These documents can be kept in a binder or file/s and kept in alphabetic order for easy accessibility. If any charges or convictions are noted on either of the criminal background information documents, the Principal, Pastoral Life Director, Temporary Administrator or Pastor must contact Human Resources:

Connie Vagrin Employee Relations Manager 410.547.3410

connie.vagrin@archbalt.org

Regina McCurdy Employee Relations Manager 410.547.5541

rmccurdy@archbalt.org

Human Resources will contact the applicant and investigate the criminal background information.

Human Resources will document the investigation and make a recommendation regarding hiring the applicant.

Rejected Fingerprints

On occasion a parish or school will receive notification from a fingerprinting site that fingerprints are illegible and cannot be processed. When this occurs, CJIS requires that the applicant be re-fingerprinted to attempt to get a clear set of prints. CJIS requires two rejected sets of fingerprints before criminal background information will be released to an employer. If the fingerprints are illegible and cannot be processed after a second attempt, CJIS will submit a criminal history report that is not supported by fingerprints but by other identifying factors, such as date of birth.

Retention of Criminal Background Information

CJIS does not require the criminal background information be retained for any specified period.

CJIS suggests that each parish and school develop a retention policy and document that policy for future reference.

Human Resources requires that criminal background information be kept for the duration of employment.

When an employee leaves a parish or school, CJIS should be informed that the employee is no longer employed. The method and frequency of this reporting is up to the parish or school. CJIS does not have any requirements related to when this reporting should occur. To notify CJIS regarding terminated employees, contact the Call

Responding to Individuals with Disabilities

by Kathryn Kelley Hoskins

Is a Catholic school required to admit a child who uses a wheelchair, or a child with significant learning disabilities? Is a parish or school required to hire a job applicant who is blind or deaf or HIV positive? Must a school or parish alter its buildings to make them handicap-accessible?

Unfortunately, these and other questions regarding accommodation of disabled individuals are almost impossible to answer in the abstract because the legal analysis is fact-specific and depends on a variety of factors. However, some general legal principles should be kept in mind when presented with a request for accommodation.

The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) prohibits discrimination by employers with 15 or more employees. (While Church employers generally are covered by the ADA, the ADA exempts church buildings from its prohibition against discrimination in places of public accommodation.) Long before the ADA was passed, recipients of Federal financial assistance, including many Catholic schools, were prohibited from discriminating against handicapped students or employees under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Furthermore, Maryland state law and many local jurisdictions have long prohibited discrimination against the disabled in employment, public accommodations, and housing. While these laws may or may not apply to a parish or school in a particular situation, a school or parish should never assume that it does not need to comply with handicap discrimination laws simply because it is a religious organization.

None of the handicap/disability discrimination laws, in themselves, require that an individual be hired, a student be admitted, or a building be modified. Rather, the laws require "reasonable accommodation." The determination of what is "reasonable" is based on a dialogue with the disabled individual in each case. What does he or she need? How much would it cost? Are there other sources of funds to pay for it? How could it be made available? How much disruption would it cause? What are other alternatives? An accommodation is not "reasonable" if it imposes an "undue hardship;" however, some expenditure of funds, disruption or inconvenience may be required. The parish or school cannot reasonably take the position that any accommodation that requires change is an "undue" hardship.

The most important aspect of compliance with the disability discrimination laws is the process used to determine whether a reasonable accommodation can be made. If the parish or school is open to listening to the disabled person, considers alternatives, engages in respectful dialogue, and makes good faith efforts to solve problems to the extent feasible, both parties will likely accept the outcome and the parish or school will have fulfilled its legal obligations. More importantly, being respectful, inclusive and open to disabled individuals furthers the organizational missions of Catholic schools and parishes.

HR 2.4

In view of the requirements of the Pregnancy Discrimination Act and the Church's pro-life teachings, it is the policy of the Archdiocese of Baltimore that no adverse employment action will be taken against an employee on the basis of pregnancy if the employee is not considered a "minister" under the law. In the case of unmarried employees who are deemed to be "ministers," adjustments in the terms of employment may be necessary. Supervisors who learn that an employee is pregnant outside of marriage shall immediately consult with the Executive Director of Human Resources or the Chancellor to ensure due consideration of the moral issues involved, in accordance with the "Code of Conduct for Church Personnel for the Archdiocese of Baltimore".

Scope:

This Policy applies to employees serving in parishes, schools, Central Services, institutions, programs, and ministries subject to the control, under civil law, of the Archdiocese of Baltimore (with the exception of Catholic Charities). This Policy is not meant to cover the full range of behavioral and moral issues that arise with Church personnel, male and female, but is limited to pregnancy.

Background:

The Pregnancy Discrimination Act of 1978 clarified that sex discrimination includes discrimination on the basis of pregnancy. Courts have recognized, however, that churches must be free to make employment decisions regarding their "ministers" without interference by civil authorities. This exception to the Pregnancy Discrimination Act and other laws has been called the "ministerial exception." Determining exactly who is a "minister" under this legal exception requires an analysis of the specific position and duties of the employee. While the ministerial exception extends beyond ordained ministers, it does not encompass all Church personnel. The limited definition of "minister" for purposes of the legal exception in no way diminishes the important contributions that all Church personnel make to the ministry and mission of the Church.

No adverse employment action will be taken against employees who become pregnant outside of marriage if the employee is not considered a "minister" under the law. In the case of "ministers," however, it may be necessary to adjust the terms and conditions of employment so as to minimize confusion regarding Church teachings.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- In accordance with the Code of Conduct for Church Personnel, supervisors who learn that an employee is pregnant outside of marriage shall immediately contact the Executive Director of Human Resources or the Chancellor.
- In order to ensure due consideration of the moral issues involved, and to promote fair and consistent treatment of Church personnel throughout the Archdiocese, the Executive Director of Human Resources or the Chancellor shall facilitate consultation among the parish/school leadership and appropriate individuals in Central Services regarding the situation.
- Decisions regarding whether a particular employee is a "minister" under the law, and decisions regarding the treatment of "ministers" who are pregnant outside of marriage, must be made in consultation with the Chancellor and Archdiocesan legal counsel.
- In the cases of "ministers," efforts will be made to reach an agreement with the employee as to any modifications of the terms of employment. If an agreement cannot be reached, the employee may be subject to termination.
- In all cases, decisions will take into account applicable Church teachings and the interests of the pregnant employee, her unborn child, and the local community.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Employing several members of one family can cause a perception of unfair hiring practices and discrimination

HR 13.0

The Archdiocese of Baltimore is committed to promoting a collegial and professional work environment in which all individuals are treated with respect and dignity consistent with Catholic social teaching. Accordingly, it is the policy of the Archdiocese to maintain a working environment free from discrimination and harassment on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, religion, age, disability or handicap, genetic information or other legally protected classification.

Purpose:

- This Policy applies to all Archdiocesan employees serving in parishes, schools, Central Services, institutions, programs and ministries operating under the jurisdiction of the Archdiocese of Baltimore (with the exception of Catholic Charities which has a separate policy). The Archdiocese neither condones nor tolerates harassment, whether at the office, work assignments outside the office, employer-sponsored social functions, or in any work-related setting. Harassment of staff, whether engaged in by co-workers, supervisors, or non-employees, is prohibited. Violation of this Policy by an employee is grounds for disciplinary action up to and including termination, depending on the nature and severity of the offense and the employee's disciplinary record. Ordained ministers are also expected to observe the standards set forth in this Policy

Commentary/Procedural Points:

Prohibited Conduct

- A. For purposes of this Policy, “harassment” means verbal or physical conduct that denigrates or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual because of his or her race, color, sex, national origin, religion, age, disability or handicap, genetic information or other legally protected classification that:

- (i) Has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment;
 - (ii) Has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance; or
 - (iii) Otherwise adversely affects an individual's employment opportunities.
- B. Harassing conduct includes, but is not limited to, epithets, slurs, negative stereotyping, or threatening, intimidating or hostile acts that relate to race, color, sex, national origin, religion, age, handicap or disability, genetic information, or any other legally protected classification. "Sexual" harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when submission to or rejection of such conduct is made a term or condition of employment, is used as the basis for employment decisions, or has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

Procedure

- A. Any employee who believes that he or she is being subjected to harassment should immediately report the harassment to any one or more of the following individuals: the employee's supervisor, the Executive Director of the Department of Human Resources, the Chancellor of the Archdiocese, or the Superintendent of Catholic Schools, t, , or Employee Relations Manager. Supervisors who receive reports of alleged harassment are expected to contact the Executive Director of Human Resources for assistance in conducting the investigation.
- B. Employees are encouraged to report harassment early, before it becomes severe or pervasive, so that preventive action can be taken. All complaints will be investigated promptly, thoroughly and impartially, and will remain confidential to the extent possible.
- C. Any retaliation, reprisals, or intimidation, whether by the alleged harasser or from another source, directed toward the complaining party or anyone else as a result of the filing or investigation of a harassment complaint is considered a serious violation of this Policy and should be reported immediately. Retaliation, reprisals, or intimidation will result in disciplinary action up to and including employment termination.

- D. Once the investigation is complete, the employer will take immediate and appropriate corrective action when it determines that this Policy has been violated. The complaining party and the complained-of party will be advised of the investigation's findings and conclusions. A report of the findings will be forwarded to the Executive Director of the Department of Human Resources .

Dissemination

A copy of this Policy will be given to every current employee and to all ordained ministers at the time of its adoption and will be posted at every Archdiocesan location. In addition, a copy of the Policy will be given to all new employees at the time of hire and to all ordained ministers who are newly assigned in the Archdiocese of Baltimore.

HR 14.0

Consistency in compensation and paid time off assists Archdiocesan school leaders to treat their employees with greater fairness and equity, to ensure compliance with all Federal, State and local laws and regulations, and to enable the flexibility that school leaders need to maximize the staffing of their schools.

Purpose:

A goal of the Department of Catholic Schools is to establish a more consistent approach to compensation and leave administration throughout the schools of the Archdiocese

Commentary/Procedural Points:

I - LEGAL/REGULATORY

The primary law governing employee compensation is the federal Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA). The FLSA was enacted in 1938, and among other matters, establishes the federal minimum wage and overtime pay requirements. Maryland law augments the FLSA and frequently establishes a minimum wage rate that differs from the federal rate. (See the Appendix for the latest Maryland minimum wage schedule.)

There are two categories of employees identified in the FLSA:

- a) Employees who are covered by the Provisions of the FLSA are referred to in the law as Nonexempt employees... these employees generally are paid on an hourly rate basis, and must be paid one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for hours worked in excess of 40 hours in a workweek; and,
- b) Employees who are not covered by the overtime provisions of the FLSA are referred to in the law as Exempt employees... these employees are generally paid on a "salary basis" (as this term is defined in the regulations) and not by the hour.

Exempt employees are not entitled to overtime pay. Also, because Exempt employees are paid on a salaried basis, their pay cannot be "docked" in amounts less than a full day's pay. Because the leave systems available for use in schools allow employees to utilize leave in less than daily increments, docking of an exempt employee's pay is rare. Additionally, the following are categories of staff who are not covered (Exempt) in any way by the FLSA:

- Clergy and religious who are working in a ministerial capacity are not considered "employees" and are not subject to the overtime rules of the FLSA.

- All Teachers, (including substitute teachers, tutors, and teachers who are not yet certified,) are covered by the Professional exemption regardless of pay level. This exemption does not apply to teaching assistants/aides.
- Coaches who work in schools and spend much of their time teaching student athletes the rules and fundamentals of their respective sports are also considered as “teachers” and are exempt regardless of pay level.
- Employees whose primary duty is performing administrative functions directly related to academic instruction in a school can meet the minimum salary requirement for exemption if they are paid a salary at least equal to the entrance salary for teachers at their school.

A - Exempt or Nonexempt?

A two-step process is used to determine whether an employee is covered by or exempt from the overtime provisions of the FLSA.

Step One – Salary Test

The Salary Test determines if the position is eligible for consideration for exemption.

- If a position salary does not meet or exceed the current Federal minimum salary requirement of $35,568 per year or $684 per week, the position is determined Nonexempt and no further review is undertaken.
- If the position salary meets or exceeds the minimum salary requirement, further review under Step Two must be undertaken.

Step Two – Duties Test

If the Salary Test indicates the annual/weekly salary meets or exceeds the minimum requirement, the work of the employee is then reviewed to determine if the position qualifies for exemption from the FLSA. The most common exemptions applicable to schools are the Administrative exemption, the Professional exemption, the Executive exemption, and the Computer Employee exemption. If one or more of the exemption categories applies to a position with a salary meeting or exceeding the minimum salary requirement, then the position is considered Exempt, i.e., it is not covered by the FLSA overtime rules.

Regardless of salary level, employees who do not meet the Duties Test are Nonexempt. The assistance of the AOB Human Resources staff should be sought when applying the Duties Test for exemption.

B - FLSA CLASSIFICATION OF TYPICAL SCHOOL POSITIONS

The following school positions with primary duties making the position Nonexempt, (regardless of salary level) are:

Accounting Clerk/Accounts Payable or Receivable Clerk
Administrative Assistant/Secretary
Before Care/Daycare/After Care Worker Bookkeeper
Cafeteria Worker
Custodian/Janitor/Housekeeper/Maintenance Worker

Health Room Assistant (includes L.P.N. and Nursing Aides)
Instructional/Teaching Assistant or Aide
Lunch Room Coordinator/Monitor
Office Manager
Receptionist
Security Guard
Screening Coordinator
Tuition Coordinator

These positions are paid on an hourly basis, only for work performed or for paid time off.

School positions with primary duties making the position Exempt from the FLSA regardless of salary are: Teacher, Substitute Teacher, Tutor, and Coach (regardless of pay level)

Principal
Assistant Principal

Provided the salary test is met/exceeded, school positions with primary duties making the position Exempt from coverage of the FLSA are:

Academic/Guidance/School/College Counselor
Business Manager
Admissions Director
Nurses (B.S. degree in Nursing or R.N. only) Technology Coordinator/Specialist
Campus Minister
Athletic Director and Assistant Athletic Director
Athletic Trainer

C - Employees with Multiple Jobs

Situations where an employee works more than one job in the same entity in the Archdiocese are particularly challenging. Determining the primary duties is an important part of dealing with employees with multiple jobs.

1. Employees with multiple jobs within the same AOB entity:

- A teacher in a parish school also provides after school care for the parish school after care program. As previously indicated, teachers are exempt regardless of salary level. Conversely, before/after care workers are typically nonexempt. Since the employee performs exempt and nonexempt work, the primary duty must be identified. In most cases, teaching is the primary duty and the employee would be exempt from FLSA overtime regulations. (See Calculating overtime pay rates at c. below.)
- An employee works as a parish secretary for 25 hours per workweek and as an after care worker in the parish school for 20 hours per week. Both positions are nonexempt. In this example, the employee would be working 45 total hours in a workweek for the same employer, with 5 of the hours worked being overtime work that is compensable at the time and one-half pay rate.

(See Calculating overtime pay rates at c. below.)

2. Nonexempt Employees with multiple jobs where hourly rates for each job differ
Nonexempt employees who work multiple jobs with each job having a different rate of pay must receive overtime pay calculated on the basis of a weighted average of the two rates. To calculate the regular hourly rate upon which overtime pay must be based, the earnings from all hourly rates within the week in which the overtime is worked are added together. That total is then divided by the total number of hours worked at all jobs. The result is the “weighted average” regular hourly rate of pay, upon which overtime pay is based.

Example 1: a nonexempt maintenance employee regularly works 20 hours per week for the parish and 20 hours per week for the parish school; for overtime purposes, the school and parish are considered joint employers. The employee works for $18.00 per hour in the parish job, and $15.00 per hour in the job with the school. The employee works 45 hours in a workweek due to a flood in the parish center, 5 hours of which are to be paid at the overtime (time and one half) hourly rate. The following calculation must be accomplished:

Step 1) Calculate the Total # of hours:

Entity	Hourly	#Hours	Workweek Pay
Parish	$18.00	X 25	= $450.00
School	$15.00	X 20	= $300.00
		TOTAL 45	$750.00

Step 2) Determine the average regular hourly rate:

$750.00 ÷ 45 total hours worked = $16.67 regular hourly rate

Step 3) Calculate the additional amount per hour (one half) for overtime pay:

Average hourly rate of $16.67 X .5 = $8.34 per hour

Step 4) Calculate Overtime Pay:

5 hours X $8.34 per hour = $41.70

Step 5) Determine total workweek pay:

$750.00 base pay + $41.70 overtime pay = $791.70

Example 2: a nonexempt instructional aide works 37 hours per week for the school and 10 hours per week as a nonexempt aide in the school's after-care program; the school and after-care program are considered the same employer. The employee is paid $15.00 per hour for the instructional aide job in the school and $12.00 per hour in the job with the after-care program. The following calculation must be accomplished:

Step 1) Calculate the Total # of hours:

Entity	Hourly	#Hours	Workweek Pay
School	$15.00	X 37	= $555.00
After-care	$12.00	X 10	= $120.00
		TOTAL 47	$675.00

Step 2) Determine the average regular hourly rate:

$675.00 ÷ 47 total hours worked = $14.36 regular hourly rate

Step 3) Calculate the additional amount per hour (one half) for overtime pay:

Step 4) Calculate Overtime Pay:

7 hours X $7.18 per hour = $50.26

Step 5) Determine total workweek pay:

$675.00 base pay + $50.26 overtime pay = $725.26

II – WORK SCHEDULES AND PAY CYCLES

Employee Work Schedules are Critical to Pay

All school employees should have a fixed work schedule that defines the usual days and hours in which the employee is expected to work. This is an integral part of the school planning and budgeting process and can be a significant factor in the determination of the employee's compensation, paid time off and, in many cases, the employee's eligibility for benefits. The school calendar outlines the planned classroom days as well as the days in which some or all of the school's staff will not be required to work during the academic year; the calendar should identify the days for which employees will be paid and the days that will not be paid (e.g., paid holidays, teacher professional development days, Winter and Easter breaks, scheduled half-days, summer schedule work days and hours for 12-month staff, etc.) For nonexempt staff, the established employee work schedule and the designation of paid and not paid days are especially important. NOTE: Full-time work is normally considered to be 40 hours per work week.

- Nonexempt staff are not salaried and, therefore, must be paid for the hours they actually work at an hourly rate. This includes any overtime hours worked in excess of 40 hours of work in a work week which, by law, must be paid at a rate of one and one-half times the hourly rate.

Example: John is a 12-month Nonexempt school maintenance worker who is scheduled to work an 8-hour day Monday through Friday. Thursday is a paid holiday and he is not required to work. A boiler problem occurs Friday and John must work for 8 hours on Saturday to fix the problem. John did not actually work on Thursday, so he is entitled 48 hours of pay at the regular rate (had Thursday not been a paid holiday, John would have worked 8 hours Thursday and would be entitled to 40 hours of pay at the regular rate and 8 hours at time and a half).

- To accommodate summer scheduling for 12-month staff, schools can exercise the option to pay a nonexempt employee at the regular hourly pay rate for hours the employee does not work (subject to the 40-hour per work week overtime requirement.)

Example: Susan is a Nonexempt School Secretary who is a 12-month employee and works 40 hours per week during the school year. During the summer months, the school office is open only 20 hours per week and she is precluded from working a full 40-hour work week. The school is only obligated to pay Susan for the 20 hours she works each summer week, but she is available to work 40 hours. Although the school is not required to do so (by stating the summer schedule on the School Calendar at the beginning of the School Year,) the school elects to pay Susan for a full 40 hours for those summer weeks the office is open for the limited hours. Susan works for only 20 hours but is paid for 40 hours. However, when Susan wants to use a week of vacation leave during the summer, she will be charged for 40 hours of vacation leave for that week because she is being paid for 40 hours.

Treatment of 10-Month and 12-Month Employees

Generally, Federal law and regulations require that employees have the right to be paid for work that they perform within a reasonable amount of time. Rules established by the Internal Revenue Code place restrictions on employers which ordinarily disallow 10-month employees from being paid over 12 months.

a. 10-month employees who can be paid over 12 months

The IRS has made a nationwide exception to its restrictions on paying employees in advance for Teachers based on their blanket exemption from the FLSA, which allows for Teachers the option to be paid on a 12-month basis. The IRS rules require that teachers who elect to be paid on a 12-month basis must do so in writing before the beginning of the school year. This election may be utilized in subsequent years unless the teacher changes the election at the beginning of a subsequent school year. Once a teacher exercises this option, it cannot be changed during the course of the school year. To avoid costly payroll errors that can occur with multiple pay situations, it is encouraged that schools providing pay to their teachers on a 12-month basis do so for all teachers on their staff.

b. 10-month employees who must be paid on a 10-month basis.

Because they are covered by the FLSA and are paid on an hourly and not on a salaried basis, Nonexempt employees who work only during the school year can only be paid on a 10-month basis. This includes all teaching aides/assistants.

Standardizing Pay Cycles

Schools generally use either a biweekly pay cycle, or pay their employees twice monthly. Because most regulations and legal requirements are based on a 7-day work week, the Department of Catholic Schools requires all Archdiocesan schools to adopt the biweekly (14-day) pay cycle. Once the biweekly pay cycle is adopted, the Archdiocesan payroll system will best and most efficiently complete payroll activity on a single standard pay day every two weeks for all AOB schools. Human Resources will provide support to schools making the transition from twice monthly to biweekly pay and to a unified pay day for all schools.

III - PAID TIME OFF (PTO)

School employees who meet Archdiocesan eligibility requirements to be offered employee benefits are provided paid time off. The Leave Year for schools is July 1 to June 30. PTO is comprised of varieties of paid absence, which may include some or all of the following:

- Paid vacation leave (12-month employees only)
- Paid sick leave (Maryland requires a modest amount of paid sick leave is to be offered to most employees)
- Paid personal time off
- Paid holidays

Paid Vacation Leave (Benefit-eligible Employees)

The Principal makes the final decision on the accrual and use of vacation leave by 12-month employees who are benefit-eligible in the school within Archdiocesan Compensation Guidelines. A leave year may be either coincident with the school year or with a calendar year. The dispensing and tracking of vacation leave should be done on an accrual basis rather than by crediting employees with an annual “lump sum” of vacation leave at the beginning of the leave year. The use of planned vacation leave must be requested by the employee and approved in advance by the Principal or other designated approver.

NOTE: Principals should identify the particular dates/times where it is inadvisable for staff to use leave due to work commitments (e.g., teacher-parent conferences, Catholic Education Week, etc.)

1. Vacation Leave Accrual (based on full-time employee work schedules)

Employee accrual of vacation leave is on the basis of years of service to the Archdiocese. The following outlines the framework for leave accrual.

Employee Years of Service	# of Weeks Vacation	Biweekly Vacation Accrual
1 st to 3 rd year	3 weeks of vacation	.0576 per hour worked; maximum of 4.6154 hours per pay period
More than 3 years	4 weeks of vacation	.0769 per hour worked; maximum of 6.1538 hours per pay period

Vacation Leave Carryover. Regarding the carryover of vacation leave from one year to the next, Schools have two options from which to choose:

OPTION 1 – Eligible employees may carry over no more than 80 hours of vacation leave into the next Fiscal Year,

OPTION 2 – Eligible employees may carry over no more than 40 hours of vacation leave into the next Fiscal Year,

NOTE: Vacation leave amounts will be prorated for those 12-month benefit-eligible employees working a less than full-time schedule.

2. Vacation Leave Usage

Upon approval of leave requests, vacation leave may be used in increments of full, and less than full workdays to allow employees to take the minimal amount of time off from workdays for personal matters. Vacation leave may not be used to cover those days identified in the school calendar where employees will not be paid (e.g., Christmas and Easter breaks.)

3. Paying Out Vacation Leave

Under Maryland law, unused vacation leave must be paid out to the employee when their employment is terminated. This means that the carrying over of unused vacation leave constitutes a financial obligation on the school's balance sheet, and it is advisable to limit the amount of this obligation. Employees accruing vacation leave may be allowed to carry over unused vacation leave into the next leave year. The Archdiocese has placed limits on the unused vacation leave time that may be carried over at the end of the leave year and available for use in the next leave year to a maximum of 80 hours. Any amount of unused vacation leave from the previous leave year that exceeds 80 hours at the end of the leave year is no longer available to the employee.

NOTE: Schools that previously allowed an annual carryover of more than 80 hours of unused vacation leave should establish a plan to transition from the existing vacation leave carry over policy. One of two options are available:

- 1) At the end of the leave year, schools may pay out to the employee the value of the vacation leave hours remaining that exceed 80 hours; or,
- 2) Schools may establish a two-year transitional period in which employees are able to use their vacation leave to draw the balance of unused vacation to 80 hours by the end of the second leave year.

Paid Holidays

The Principal makes the final decision on the school policy regarding the paid holiday schedule. All Archdiocesan schools will provide paid holidays for benefit-eligible staff, to include, at a minimum:

- | | |
|--------------------------|------------------------------------|
| - Labor Day | - Martin Luther King, Jr. Birthday |
| - Thanksgiving Day | - Presidents Day |
| - Day after Thanksgiving | - Good Friday |
| - Independence Day | - Easter Monday |
| - Christmas Day | - Memorial Day |
| - Christmas Eve | - New Years Day |

When a paid holiday falls on a Saturday, the observed paid holiday will be the Friday before the actual holiday; when a paid holiday falls on a Sunday, the observed paid holiday will be the Monday after the actual holiday. Employees who are not eligible for benefits do not receive paid holidays.

NOTE: Employees in Short-Term or Long-Term Disability status are not eligible to be paid for holidays. Employees who are not eligible for benefits are not eligible for paid holidays.

Paid Sick Leave

1. Maryland Sick and Safe Leave

The Maryland Healthy Working Families Act requires organizations that employ 15 or more employees to provide paid sick and safe leave to the employees who are regularly scheduled to work at least 12 hours per week (regardless of their eligibility for benefits.) The minimum sick/safe leave benefit is accrued at the rate of 1 hour for every 30 hours worked, for a maximum of 64 hours per year. Employees accrue .0333 hours of Sick and Safe Leave for every hour worked. With few exceptions, all school employees, including non-benefit eligible employees, are covered by this law. Excluded from the coverage of the law's requirements are:

- Independent Contractors;
- Employees regularly scheduled to work less than 12 hours per week; and,
- Employees younger than 18 years old at the beginning of the year.

2. Archdiocesan Paid Sick Leave Policy

Paid sick leave is provided on an accrual basis to all Benefit-eligible employees, and to all school employees who work at least 80 hours per month. The accrual of sick leave is prorated for employees who are regularly scheduled to work less than full-time. (This benefit meets the requirements for Maryland Sick and Safe Leave.) Sick leave will be accrued according to the following:

- Employees scheduled to work 40 hours per week will earn 8 hours of sick leave per month worked.
- Employees scheduled 35 hours per week will earn 7 hours of sick leave per month worked.
- Employees scheduled 20 hours per week will earn 4 hours of sick leave per month worked.

Employees paid sick leave will accrue at a rate of .0462 hours for every hour worked (equivalent of 1 day per month). Sick leave may accumulate up to a maximum of 320 hours of sick leave; amounts of sick leave exceeding 320 hours will be forfeited. 10-month employees do not accrue sick leave during the 2 summer months. Sick leave does not accrue during absences of greater than two (2) or more weeks.

Unused sick (and sick or safe) leave is not compensable upon employment termination, however, employees are eligible to transfer unused accrued sick leave between locations participating in the Archdiocesan benefit plans. Employees who have terminated employment and have been rehired within 37 weeks must have their sick leave balances restored to the level accrued at the time of their employment.

termination. Schools should enact procedures under the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) for absences of eligible employees due to personal or family member illness or injury greater than 5 days. (Consult with Human Resources in the handling of all FMLA matters and the possibility of coverage under the Americans with Disabilities Act.)

Upon approval of a sick leave request, sick leave may be used in increments of full, and less than full workdays to allow employees to take the minimal amount of time off from workdays that they need for their own medical condition or for the care of a sick family member. Sick leave benefits for medical leave due to pregnancy are the same as sick leave benefits for other medical disabilities. It is appropriate to use sick leave for such matters as medical appointments and care of a family member, as appropriate.

Bereavement Leave

Benefit-eligible school employees are entitled to be paid leave in the event of a death in the immediate family. Typically, bereavement leave does not exceed 3 work days per bereavement instance. In situations where funeral and interment are being held out-of-state, the employee may be granted up to 5 days of paid bereavement leave at the principal's discretion. "Immediate family" consists of spouse, parents, siblings, children and relatives residing with the employee.

One day of paid bereavement leave may be provided in the event of death of other relatives, with up to 3 days provided for out-of-state situations approved by the principal.

Personal Leave

Benefit-eligible school employees have 2 days of paid leave each school year for the conduct of personal business. If any personal leave remains unused by the end of the school year (or when terminating employment,), it will be forfeited and not cashed out.

Pay for Emergency Closures

From time to time, emergencies will occur that may close a school for a partial or complete school day. Some examples of emergencies causing school closures include, but are not limited to: snow and other weather-based closures; and, building/facility emergency repairs (floods, power, water, etc.) In such cases, exempt and nonexempt employees who were otherwise scheduled to work and who are prevented from working by the emergency closure, are to be paid for the hours/days they would have otherwise worked.

Jury Duty/Court Leave

The schools of the Archdiocese encourage and support employees in fulfilling their civic responsibilities. Schools will provide paid time off to employees for performing jury duty or for serving as a witness under subpoena. Ordinarily, paid time off for these purposes will be provided for up to a maximum of five work days. Such paid time off exceeding five work days will be considered on a case-by-case basis by the Principal. While jurors are typically provided a stipend for the purpose of defraying their expenses for meals, travel, and parking, these amounts will not be deducted from the employee's paid Jury Duty Leave.

Tuition payments may not be characterized as charitable contributions for income tax purposes. Therefore, schools do not issue documentation to substantiate a tuition payment as a charitable contribution.

Purpose:

- To comply with State and Federal Law

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Tuition paid for the education of children is an expense of the taxpayer, not a charitable contribution to the school. A tuition payment to a parochial school generally is not considered a charitable contribution because the taxpayer making the tuition payment receives something of economic value, i.e., educational benefits, in return.
- If tuition is paid by someone other than a parent, (e.g., a grandparent, other relative, or friend) on behalf of a particular student or students, no charitable contribution can be claimed.
- A contribution to a scholarship fund or to a tax-exempt school for the purpose of awarding scholarships will not qualify as a charitable contribution if the donor selects, or can select, one or more particular recipient(s) of the scholarship.

Withholding School Records for Nonpayment of Tuition

by Kathryn Kelley Hoskins

May a Catholic school refuse to forward records to another school in which a student plans to enroll if there is an outstanding tuition balance? The answer generally is yes, subject to the following important qualifications:

1. Parents always have the right to review their children's education records, even if there is an outstanding tuition balance.
2. Records may not be withheld if the debtor has filed for bankruptcy. Once a person is protected by the bankruptcy laws, no further attempts may be made to collect the debt, which means that records must be forwarded to a transfer school upon request.
3. Health records should always be forwarded to a transfer school.
4. The school should have a clear written policy, communicated to parents, in which the school reserves the right to withhold records for nonpayment of tuition. Withholding records is a "last resort" to be invoked only after many attempts to contact the parents and work out a payment plan or tuition assistance have been unsuccessful.
5. Withholding records is not an effective solution to the problem of unpaid tuition. The school should take steps to ensure that unpaid tuition balances do not accumulate. The school's policy should provide for suspension, expulsion, and refusal to re-register in cases of nonpayment. The school's failure to consistently enforce reasonable policies regarding tuition non-payment results in a hidden "subsidy" by the parents who do pay.
6. An Archdiocesan school may not register a student who has an outstanding tuition balance at another Archdiocesan school. The new school should verify the tuition status at the prior school before offering admission to the student.

FIN 7.1

If a student transfers without having fulfilled all financial obligations, the school is only required to release health records and grade level to the new school.

Purpose:

- To ensure fulfillment of financial obligations to the current school
- To protect the health of the former student and the new school community

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Copies of academic records will be released once all financial obligations are met.

ARCHDIOCESE OF BALTIMORE CASH CONTROL PROCEDURES

(For cash collections and counting, bank accounts and deposits, parish/school office internal controls)

Introduction

Parishes have experienced several very sizeable and unhappy losses of collection proceeds over the years. Often the loss or theft is made possible by a lack of proper attention to the Archdiocesan procedures for handling, transporting, counting, and accounting for monies. It is the responsibility of the Board of Corporators, Pastors, PLDs, Parish Administrators, and Principals to ensure that prudent procedures for handling cash are being followed every weekend and during the week where necessary. Adherence to reasonable procedures discourages loss, helps to spot losses early, and can be of great assistance in determining the exact amount of any loss which does occur. The Archdiocesan insurance carrier can attest to this statement.

The following are detailed guidelines dealing with accounting procedures, regulations regarding titling of parish bank accounts and location of financial records, and procedures for handling, transporting, counting, and storing cash receipts. Corporators, Pastors, PLDs, Parish Administrators, and Principals are responsible for knowing these regulations and procedures and ensuring that they are followed. The procedures set a standard for reasonable conduct and failure to meet this standard may be considered negligence. We cannot assume that the people handling the money and the books are doing a proper job—the Board, Pastors, PLDs, Parish Administrators, and Principals must be active and aggressive in ensuring that those procedures are being followed. Losses in a parish can have a devastating impact on future giving and morale, as well as impacting insurance premiums and deductibles to the parish or school. Parish finance council members should diligently review cash handling procedures and parish financial reports with the pastor.

Internal Controls

Internal controls are the procedures put in place which help prevent or detect errors and irregularities. Although ideal internal controls in parishes or schools may be difficult to implement due to a lack of personnel, certain incompatible functions should be divided to ensure proper stewardship of resources. A recurring theme in the Archdiocesan guidelines is that the same person should never count or otherwise have access to the collection on a regular basis.

PARISH COLLECTIONS

Collecting and Storing Funds

After the collection is taken, the head usher should bring the collection up in a basket and place it on the altar. To safeguard the basket, it should be positioned away from doors or entrances. After the liturgy, two ushers should take the basket to the sacristy and wait for the celebrant. Two people should take the funds to the rectory where a priest, religious, PLD or corporator should place the funds in a locked safe. The funds can be locked in a safe in the sacristy if that is where the safe is located. Safe combinations should be used properly at all times (not bypassed) and knowledge of safe combinations should be limited to clergy, religious, PLDs, and/or corporators. Safe combinations should be changed every four to five years or with a change in pastor or individual with safe access. If the parish safe has a key, access to each key must be safeguarded in the same fashion as if it had a combination. Funds (except for petty cash) should not be stored in a locked desk or file cabinet. In addition, funds should never leave the parish premise to be counted.

Safekeeping of Deposits

Safekeeping of monies is also a critical concern. Cash or valuables should never be left in a drawer or closet until a deposit is made. Safes should be used to hold funds from the time of collection until the count, and again until transportation for deposit. Money should always be deposited as soon as possible. No one should ever be left alone with Church funds. Opportunity for disaster arises when parishes have informal procedures, shortcuts, lack of ongoing contact and supervision of workers, and a false sense of security stemming from a history of few discovered losses.

Money Counting

The counting of funds should be done as soon as possible, preferably right after the last Mass:

- Counting should be done in teams of at least three unrelated persons, preferably more than three.

- Counting teams should rotate each week.

- Counting should be done by at least three teams.

- In no situation should the same people be allowed to count funds week after week.

- The parish bookkeeper should not be involved in the counting process nor have access to the collection funds.

- Each parish should have written counting procedures.

Each member of the counting team should have an assigned task such as:

1. Removing money from envelopes, noting proper amounts on the envelope face, or entering amounts contained therein on the envelope face if the envelope is blank;
2. Counting notes and coin separately for each type of collection;
3. Recounting;
4. Examining the propriety of the checks received, stamping them –for deposit only– and recording the amounts received by check;
5. Recording the cash count/recap sheet; and
6. Preparing the deposit slips.

Separate totals must be obtained for loose and envelope monies for each type of collection. For example, regular envelope, regular loose, special parish envelope, special parish loose, Diocesan envelope, Diocesan loose, etc. One member of the team should record the cash counts in ink on a cash count/recap sheet. The recorder should not be the same person week after week. Both the counter(s) and the recorder should sign and date the count/recap sheet. The signed count/recap sheet should be turned over to the pastor who should review the document, initial, and file the form (Section 2-21 – Count/Recap Sheet).

Bank Deposits

The counter(s) should prepare the deposit slips. All collected funds should be deposited intact. All funds to be deposited, deposit slips, and adding machine tapes of checks should be placed in a special lock-up bag. Two individuals (excluding the bookkeeper) should transport the funds to the bank immediately after the count and place the funds in a night depository. For parishes using an armored carrier, the counted funds in locked bags should be returned to the safe, again by two persons, to provide for safekeeping overnight and then turned over to the armored carrier on Monday.

Administrative Procedures – Collections

Validated deposit slips, when returned by the bank, should be turned over to the bookkeeper with a copy of the signed cash count/recap sheet. The bookkeeper should compare the deposit slip to the cash count/recap sheet noting agreement, staple them together, and then record the amounts per the count/recap sheet in the general ledger. Once the amounts on the envelopes are entered into the Parish's census data system, a report should be printed and tied to the count sheet and general ledger. Any differences should be investigated and documented.

Record Keeping

Another recurring theme is the importance of accurate record keeping. There must be accurate counting, noting proper amounts on envelopes, recording the count/recap sheet in ink, preparing deposit slips, totaling figures, running adding machine tapes, and so on. Volunteers must be encouraged to check and recheck their work. Stress to volunteers the importance of accuracy and thoroughness. Parishes should send a statement of donations to each active parishioner.

Additional Comments on Collection Control Procedures

The key element of these collection procedures is that from the time of collection to the time of deposit, cash receipts should either be in a locked safe or in the possession of at least two persons. One individual should never be left alone with the church funds. Additional controls to further safeguard collections include: locking a safe compartment inside the safe if there is one; where there is a large safe, by storing a small locked cabinet within the safe to hold the funds; or through the use of a drop safe. These additional controls become especially important when the safe is used to hold other items in addition to the collected funds.

Conclusion

The control procedures detailed in this section must be followed to adequately protect all those who handle or transport the funds and should not be construed to be an implication as to the honesty or integrity of the transporters or counters.

PARISH/SCHOOL GENERAL ITEMS

Discount Vouchers and Coupons

Vouchers and coupons purchased by the parish or school for use in fund raising efforts must be treated as if they are cash. The same care and diligence for managing cash must be applied to discount vouchers and coupons. Discount vouchers and coupons are not like raffle tickets and should never be distributed as if they are.

Vouchers and coupons must be kept locked in the parish or school safe. Cash or checks received must be promptly deposited, and vouchers and coupons given to the purchaser only after payment has been received.

For a more detailed discussion of the required controls, see Section 2-25 – Control Procedures for Parishes & Schools.

Office Internal Controls

Someone other than the check signer(s) should reconcile the bank statement to the cash balance on the books. The individual preparing the bank reconciliation should not prepare deposit slips or write checks. In addition, the person writing checks should not prepare deposit slips. Also, bookkeepers should not count money or have access to collection funds.

Schools, in addition to the above, should issue pre-numbered receipts for cash received and retain a carbon copy. Tuition revenue should be compared with enrollment data prepared by an individual other than those who maintain tuition records or receive tuition payments. Any discrepancies found should be resolved.

The pastor, PLD, a corporator, or the finance committee chair should regularly (at least quarterly) receive the unopened bank statements and review them and review bank reconciliations and financial records for propriety. The reviewer should initial and date the documents reviewed.

Titling Bank Accounts

Every checking account, savings account, certificate of deposit and investment accounts containing funds belonging to the parish or school should be registered only in the name of the parish or school corporation. No such accounts, certificates, or investments should ever be in the name of an individual, whether clergy, religious, or laity.

Authorized Check Signers and Withdrawers

The Archbishop, the parish pastor or PLD, the associate pastor and/or corporators should be named as an authorized signer on every parish checking and savings account. For schools, the appropriate signers could include the pastor, the associate pastor, the principal, the assistant principal, and an active school board president. In extraordinary situations, a pastor may delegate another person to sign checks, but this person must not be the bookkeeper or any other person who handles cash funds or prepares financial records. Those who sign checks and withdraw funds must do so with the consent of the corporators. Facsimile signature stamps are not recommended because the person whose signature is on the stamp must physically control it; otherwise, whoever holds the stamp has check signing ability. Requiring dual signatures on checks over a predetermined amount should be adopted.

Related Organizations' Accounts

Since parish and school organizations are parish life entities which benefit from the tax-exempt status of the parish, the supervision of the activities of these organizations falls within the responsibility of the pastor.

The accounting and recordkeeping for all major parish entities such as the religious education program, fund raising groups, the choir, and youth groups should be handled through the parish books. Other smaller, more indirectly related groups such as Sodality, Holy Name Society, and Scout groups can be accounted for separately although all entities should be subject to the full range of internal controls described above.

The pastor's name should head the list of persons authorized to sign checks and withdraw funds from all entities' bank accounts. Because the pastor's name is on the checking and savings accounts for these smaller, indirectly related organizations does not mean that the pastor necessarily controls the use of these funds. The pastor should obtain a financial report at least annually, showing the results of the group's activities for the year. A brief narrative explaining the year's activities and promoting the organization's strengths and values could accompany this report.

For a more detailed discussion of controls for parish and school organizations see Section 2-25.

Location of Financial Records

All financial records, including checkbooks, savings passbooks, bank statements, journals, ledgers, etc. should always be kept on the church or school premises.

IMPACT ON PARISH/SCHOOL INSURANCE COVERAGE

In the past, a number of Archdiocesan locations have suffered losses of funds due to some form of fraud, theft, loss, or embezzlement. Because of this situation, in the past the Archdiocese experienced difficulty in renewing the fidelity bond coverage.

As a result of these losses, the increased Archdiocesan fidelity coverage deductible, and to encourage the adoption of better control procedures, the parish and school fidelity deductibles were changed several years ago. If a parish or school suffers a loss and did not follow the required controls, they will be assessed a higher deductible or possible denial of claim.

ARCHDIOCESE OF BALTIMORE

RECOMMENDED ACCOUNTING PROCEDURES UNIFORM SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTING

1. Disbursements

All expenditures should be made by check and each check should be recorded in the general ledger, indicating the date of payment, to whom payment was made, the expenditures purpose and the check number. Checks should always be issued and posted in sequential order. If checks are not simultaneously posted to the general ledger through the check creation process then disbursement entries should be made at least weekly.

Use the approved account names and numbers in the Chart of Accounts for the proper classification of check disbursements. A more detailed breakdown can be made at your discretion by increasing the 4th digit in the account number, e.g., Utilities #5010 can be expanded by using #5011, #5012, etc. Do not change or add to the first three digits of the account number nor add an entirely new account.

2. Receipts

All receipts should be entered in a Receipts (Deposits) Journal as received, indicating the date received and the source. The receipts journal for offertory is often the count sheet; however, for funds received throughout the week not included in the offertory process, a daily receipts listing must be maintained. All receipts in the form of a check should be immediately stamped "For Deposit Only." See Item #27 for a discussion of schools' receipts journals.

No matter what type of journal you use, the name of the person from whom the funds were received should be indicated. Obviously this is not a requirement where the contributor is not known (loose collection) or where the contributor is listed in another supporting record (envelope collection). The journal should also contain identifying information such as the name of the Diocesan Collection or the name of the fund-raising event.

All receipts or deposit journals should be forwarded to the bookkeeper for entry into the accounting system, at least weekly. Parishes and schools should use only the account names listed in the Chart of Accounts or otherwise approved by the Archdiocese for the proper classification of income.

All monies should be kept intact and promptly deposited. The validated deposit slip, once returned, should be attached to the journal and the amount deposited verified.

3. Collection Count/Recap Sheets

Collection Count/Recap Sheets, which are used to record the cash counts and to classify the type of income are required supporting documents for the entries in the general ledger and as such should not be destroyed (Section 2-1 – Record Retention Guidelines). These forms should include the applicable account numbers, be completed in ink, dated, and signed by the counters, headed with the church name and turned over to the pastor immediately after the count. The pastor should review & initial the form and give it to the bookkeeper (Section 2-21 – Collection Count/Recap Sheet)

4. Internal Control

Certain additional procedures should be adopted to improve controls and segregate incompatible duties, such as not allowing bookkeepers to count or otherwise have access to collection money, not giving check-signing duties to individuals who handle bookkeeping functions, having different people reconcile the bank records and make out the deposit slip and write checks, having someone other than the bookkeeper open mail and list receipts, never having checks signed in blank, keeping and accounting for all voided checks & assigning those with safe access & check signing authority read-only access to the general ledger

5. No Netting

Income should never be netted against expenses, and expenses should never be netted against income. Such netting understates both income and expenses and violates a basic accounting principle.

An apparent exception to this statement is the recording of an insurance company reimbursement check as a reduction of a fire repair expense. This receipt is not income and the repair of the fire damage, up to the amount of the reimbursement, is not a church expense.

All collections, specific or non-specific donations, votive light receipts, bulletin income, flower donations, Catholic Review receipts, etc. are church income and should not be netted against expenses in the accounts.

6. Special Purpose Collections

Monies received from Special Parish Collections such as drives to defray the cost of repainting the church or rectory, cost of floral decorations for Christmas, Easter or other festive occasions, cost of repairing the church or rectory roof, school collections, fuel collections must be recorded in #4050 – Special Parish Collections. Special collections to reduce a mortgage balance must receive written exemption from the Archbishop in order to be tax-exempt.

7. Special Approved Campaign Funds

Proceeds from a special campaign for new construction or major renovations must be recorded in #4150 – Special Approved Campaign Funds. The campaign must be limited to a definite period of time and dollar goal, and must have prior written approval of the Archbishop.

8. Capital Campaign - Parish Share & Grants

The parish share from Capital Campaigns and any Grants must be recorded in #4151 – Archdiocesan Capital Campaigns – Parish Share & Grants Received. Parishes who are self-administering the Capital Campaign should show their net parish share in this account.

9. Lenten Appeal Rebates & Grants

The rebate to the parish of 25% of the Lenten Appeal funds raised as well as Lenten Appeal Grants must be recorded in #4160 – Lenten Appeal Rebates & Grants.

10. Donations and Gifts

Donations, gifts, and bequests received (for Special Parish Collections see #6 above) should be posted to either of two accounts depending on the intention of the donor. General donations, gifts, and bequests lacking a specific purpose or use of the funds should be posted to account 4220. Donations, gifts, and bequests received that specifically state the donor's intended use of the funds should be posted to 4720 – Specific Bequests under a Will.

Gifts in Kind (in lieu of cash)

If parish organizations or individuals purchase items for the parish or otherwise pay parish expense, the transaction should not go unrecorded. The Donation Income and Other Expense accounts should be increased depending on the church expense paid. The books should reflect every church expense paid by it or for it, and every donation as income whether received in actual dollars or in-kind, such as fixed assets, supplies, or repairs.

The preferred handling of the foregoing would be for the organization or person to donate the funds and let the Church record the income and then make the expenditure.

(See Section 2-6 - Classification of Accounts for further specifics on other accounts.)

11. Exchange Account

The Exchange Account (#1290) is used to record both receipts and expenditures connected with only actual exchanges, where funds are collected and disbursed such as for a bus trip. This account should never be used to net income and expenses, as noted in #5 above. In fact, it should contain no church income or church expense, e.g., specific donations and related expenditures do not belong in the exchange account. There should be very little activity in this account, since there are few actual exchanges.

This account, as all accounts, should be in the General Ledger and should be clearly marked or otherwise analyzed to show the offsetting receipts and expenditures. The account must net zero at year-end.

12. Petty Cash – Imprest System

A parish or school may employ the use of a small cash fund to pay small charges such as postage, delivery costs, and other small items which are not readily paid by check. When the fund is established, a check is drawn payable to the person responsible for the fund, the petty cashier, in the amount decided to provide an adequate fund. The check is cashed and the notes (bills) and coins are placed in a secure container along with a supply of petty cash voucher slips. According to the imprest system, the cash fund will be maintained at the set amount. As the money is used, invoices/receipts are attached to a petty cash voucher slip which is completed in ink, signed by the person receiving the money, and is filled out by indicating the amount withdrawn, the date, the reason for the expenditure, and an account number. At the end of the month, or sooner if the fund is low, the voucher slips are grouped together according to account number, the amount for each account number is totaled and the expenditures are approved. A check made payable to the custodian of the fund, equal to the total of all voucher slips, is drawn. The check is cashed into bills and coins and the petty cash container is replenished.

Note that the exact amounts expended are entered in the proper expense accounts. Do not round the dollar charges. The replenishment check is generally for an uneven amount and not a flat sum.

Note also that only one person should be responsible for a petty cash fund and therefore have sole access to it.

13. Invoices and Documentation

Invoices or other supporting documents should be obtained for every expenditure other than salaries to employees, payroll tax payments, clergy fees, Cathedra Tax payments, Diocesan Collections remitted, and school subsidies. They will be supported in other ways. Paid checks alone are not adequate support for expenditures. In addition, credit card statements are not sufficient evidence to support the expenditure, receipts must be attached. Petty cash expenditures should be supported by invoices and/or vouchers. Independent contractors must submit bills for the work done. Such invoices must show dates, description of work, and amount due. Reimbursements to someone for a church expense paid by that person should be made only upon receipt of the invoices which he/she paid.

If only one invoice is received, keep the original and include a photocopy with the check when forwarding payment. Do not pay any amount based only on a vendor statement or receiving report. Payment should be made only from an invoice.

All invoices should be reviewed and approved by the pastor, pld or applicable department head prior to payment. This approval should be indicated in writing.

Invoices and other supporting documents are part of the required records and must not be destroyed, but retained as support for the cash disbursements (Section 2-1 – Retention Guidelines).

The invoices should be cancelled by entering the check number and date paid. They should then be placed in an alphabetical file by vendor for the fiscal year July 1 through June 30. Keep separate files for each fiscal year.

14. No Checks to "Cash" or Blank Checks

All checks should be made payable to persons or to businesses, and not to "Cash" or left blank. Checks made payable to "Cash" or left blank are negotiable by anyone. As noted in the Petty Cash comments, even petty cash reimbursements should be made payable to the petty cashier by name.

15. Capital Expenditures (#5930 Church; #5500 School)

Capital expenditures are expenditures of $2,500 or more for the purchase or construction of fixed assets such as land, building, building improvements, machinery, equipment, furniture, and fixtures. Expenditures for the same type purchases under $2,500 should be entered in #5020 – Ordinary Repairs, or one of the supply accounts such as #5190 – Other Church Supplies.

Account #5920 – Extraordinary Repairs is to be used for repairs that are in fact major replacements. Extraordinary Repairs are defined as those that occur infrequently, but are nevertheless caused by normal wear and tear, and cost $5,000 or more (e.g., roof replacements, parking lot repair, extensive electrical repairs, etc.)

16. Property, Plant, and Equipment (Fixed Assets)

Fixed Assets such as furniture, fixtures, machinery, equipment, building, and building improvements and extensions are recorded in #5930 – Capital Expenditures in the Church, and #5500 – Capital Expenditures and New Non-Instructional Equipment in the School, or #5080 – New Instructional Equipment in the School.

Necessary Supporting Records

You should maintain supporting fixed asset records for each capital expenditure category, such as Furniture & Fixtures, Machinery & Equipment, Building, Land, and Building Improvements. These supporting records should contain the date, vendor name, asset description and cost of each fixed asset item purchased.

17. Payroll Records

Complete payroll records should be maintained confidentially at the parish. Items to be included are to be included in individual personnel files are specifically addressed in Employee File Documents in Section 2-26.

- A. Earnings record sheets on each employee – This record should be used when the parish/school is processing payroll, without the assistance of a payroll service and it shows the gross and net pay and withholding for each payroll period and is the source for the W-2s, withholding tax statements.
- B. Payroll Journal – A summary payroll record prepared for each payroll period and containing appropriate columns for gross salaries, withheld taxes and insurance, and net pay and check number. All the payroll periods for the month are summarized into monthly totals on a separate page. Totals are obtained for each column and then the monthly amounts are posted directly to the General Ledger Accounts as shown in the current Chart of Accounts.

- C. Withholding Tax Returns – Maryland State and Federal quarterly withholding tax returns and year-end Employee Earnings Statements (W-2s) must be filed accurately and on-time.

Timely deposits of withheld taxes must be made. For example if the amount of withheld FICA, Medicare, and Federal Income Tax plus the matching employer FICA and Medicare exceeds $333 for the month, the entire amount must be deposited with a federal depository bank by the 15th of the following month. For larger payrolls where the federal liability exceeds $1,000 for a quarter, see the instructions on Federal Form 941.

If a payroll service is used they should be provided the parish/school with copies of the filed reports mentioned above. These copies should be maintained with the parish payroll records.

- D. W-4s – Current signed payroll tax withholding authorizations (W-4s) which show the number of claimed exemptions for employees who claim to be exempt from taxes, should be obtained yearly. Current W-4s for other employees should also be maintained, however they are not required to be obtained annually.
- E. Rate Authorizations – At each wage rate change, individual wage rate authorizations or a list of employees with the new rates of pay should be prepared, dated and signed by the pastor, pld or principal and kept on file. Also, signed wage rate authorizations should be prepared for each new employee. These authorizations should also contain the number of sick and vacation days an employee is eligible for.
- F. Time Sheets – If employees are paid on an hourly basis, time sheets indicating the dates and hours worked, and signed by the employee and approved by the pastor or supervisor should be on hand to support the wages. Salary employees should also complete and sign timesheets for each pay period indicating any holiday, sick or vacation time taken.

Salaries should always be paid by check. If an exception is made and an employee is paid in cash, the employee should sign a form which states the payroll period, date paid, and the amount received. Such forms should be kept on file.

- G. Calendar Year Earnings Report – Parishes and schools are responsible for submitting annually a report of gross salary, excluding overtime and bonuses, for all employees, to the Archdiocese of Baltimore.
- H. HIPAA – Employers are responsible for maintaining the privacy of Protected Health Information (PHI). PHI is medical records and other confidential health information that identify (or could reasonably be used to identify) an individual and relate to a past, present or future physical or mental condition of the individual or the payment of health care for that individual. Employers must therefore maintain in a separate file the insurance enrollment/waiver form, medical information, a disability claim, a workers compensation claim, family medical leave requests, T. Rowe Price Enrollment, Garnishments and Unemployment information.

18. Employee vs. Non-Employee

According to the opinion of the Archdiocesan legal counsel, all normal parish personnel fit the definition of an employee. Their duties and hours are set by the pastor and can be regulated and changed by him. He has the power to discharge the worker, to set vacation periods and to offer benefits and pay raises.

All persons determined to be employees must be included in the payroll records, have taxes withheld from their pay according to the tax tables, and receive Withholding Tax Statements (W-2s) at calendar year-end.

If an independent contractor does work for you, he/she must issue a proper invoice for the work done. Be certain that he/she fits the definition of an independent contractor and not an employee before excluding the person from the payroll. IRS regulations state that you must reports all amounts of $600 or more in a calendar year paid to independent contractors. Use IRS Form 1099 for this purpose.

19. Bank Reconciliations

Written bank reconciliations must be prepared and maintained monthly and in a timely fashion. The bank balance of cash at month-end must be reconciled to both the checkbook balance and the general ledger cash balance at the same date. (In Item #22 below, the General Ledger is explained.) Reconciling items should be investigated, documented and properly disposed of. The back of the bank statement is a convenient place to reconcile cash. This form has places for the bank balance, the book balance and for outstanding checks. A copy of the completed reconciliation, along with the outstanding check listing and the deposit in transit listing should be maintained and should be dated and initialed by the person completing it. The completed bank reconciliation should then be forwarded to the pastor or his designee for review.

All bank statements, bank reconciliations, deposit slips and checks must be kept on hand for at least seven years. Voided checks must also be kept to verify the complete sequence of checks.

20. One Checking Account Limit

Each church and school should have only one checking account into which every cash receipt is deposited and from which every cash disbursement is made. A separate payroll checking account used exclusively for payroll is an exception. This type of account operates through transfers from the regular checking account.

One checking account is adequate to record all church income and expense. Additional accounts only complicate a simple system. Additional sets of books, additional bank reconciliations and the consolidation of the activity of the accounts are all complications of additional checking accounts. Savings accounts can always be used to receive transfers of funds from the regular checking account when you wish to separate certain funds.

21. General Ledger

The General Ledger is an integral part of the uniform system of accounting and all parishes and schools should be maintaining a computerized general ledger. This system must contain a complete and accurate accounting all activity and holdings of the parish. This system will contain a detailed listing of transactions for every account classification used by the organization. It is a summary record and provides a continuing and monthly cumulative record of the financial activity in each account. Multiple ledgers/companies should not be maintained, whether for different programs or different bank accounts. All transactions of a parish or school must run through one ledger.

All activity must be posted to the general ledger and assets and liabilities must be maintained in the general ledger. At year-end the results of operations should be closed to equity.

22. Savings Accounts and CDs

Savings account and CD balances should be set up in the General Ledger and adequate documentation to support the current balances should be maintained.

Cash Receipt deposits should never be made directly into savings accounts, and disbursements for expenses should never be made directly from savings accounts. Activity in these accounts should be entered as transfers to or from the regular checking account.

The interest on savings accounts should be recorded monthly. Remember when posting interest to the General Ledger at month-end, this amount increases the savings balance.

23. Notes Receivable/Payable

As noted in Item #21 above, all assets and liabilities should be recorded in the General Ledger. Therefore, Notes Receivable, Notes Payable, Debenture Payable, Mortgage Payable, etc. should be set up in the General Ledger as their own individual accounts. Each asset or liability should have appropriate supporting documentation to support its current balance.

The setting up of previously unrecorded Notes Receivable will at the same time increase Equity by the same amount. The setting up of previously unrecorded Notes or Mortgage Payables will decrease Equity or perhaps turn the Equity into a debit or deficit in the General Ledger. See the Equity Comments #26 below.

24. Debt Payments

When the Mortgage Payable or Notes Payable (liability) is set up in the General Ledger as Notes in Item #21 above, payments on the mortgage or loan must be applied to reduce this payable.

Parishes that do not have the payable set up in the General Ledger should enter all debt payments in #5940 – Debt Payment.

25. Equity

Equity represents the ownership in the Assets. It is equal to the Assets (Cash-Checking, Cash-Savings, Petty Cash, Notes Receivable, etc.) less the Liabilities (Withheld Payroll Taxes, Notes Payable, Mortgage Payable, etc.) As stated in Item #21, the results from operations should be closed to equity at each year-end, thus resulting in the Equity account increasing when the income (4000 accounts) exceeds the expenses (5000 accounts) for the year or Equity decreasing when the expenses exceed the income.

Equity normally shows a credit balance but a debit balance or deficit may well appear on your books. This situation could occur because the Fixed Asset values on Land, Buildings, Machinery and Equipment, and Furniture and Fixtures are not yet established and set up in the books.

26. Trial Balance

A Trial Balance is a listing of the number, name, and balance on each account found in the General Ledger and must be maintained on a monthly and annual basis. The accounts with debit balances should be listed in one column and the accounts with credit balances in an adjacent column. For proof of the mechanical accuracy of the account balances and of proper entries in the General Ledger, the total of the accounts with debit balances must equal the total of the accounts with credit balances. All computerized accounting packages have the ability to print a trial balance.

School and Religious Education Programs

All of the above comments except numbers 3, 6, 7, 8, and 9 also pertain to Schools and Religious Ed. In certain comments, only the account numbers would be different since the Chart of Accounts for these organizations is different.

The following comments are only for Schools and Religious Ed Programs:

27. Daily Cash Listing

All school cash receipts of tuition and fees should be scheduled on a Daily Cash Listing in the order of receipt. The listing should contain the date, grade, name of payor and amount of each receipt. Each page of the listing should be totaled. In addition, a total should be obtained each time a deposit is to be made. The total of each deposit and of each tuition or fee summary total entered in the Cash Receipts Journal should agree with the total of the day or group of days in the Daily Cash Listing. If a school uses FACTS or SMART, this same type of listing should be obtained.

28. Receipt Slips

Each time tuition or fee money is received, by cash or check, a pre-numbered, duplicate receipt slip should be prepared. The original should be given to the student or parent and the copy retained for the records. The receipt slips should show whether tuition or fees were collected. In lieu of Item #27 above (Daily Cash Listing), a calculator tape of the receipt slip copies for each deposit can be run and retained. With the use of pre-numbered receipts a reconciliation of the numbers used for each deposit can also be maintained. If the Daily Cash

Listing is used in addition to transporting types of receipt envelopes, you can limit the above receipt slips to "cash" only.

29. Tuitions Receivable

At each month-end, a listing (trial balance) of unpaid/overdue tuition should be developed. This listing should contain the school year dates, name of student, grade, and amount owed. The amounts due should be reviewed as to collectibility. If an amount is considered "uncollectible," this fact should be stated next to the amount and initialed by the pastor or his designee. Otherwise, a listing of uncollectibles should be prepared and signed by the person authorized to write off receivables as "uncollectible." Only the open items on the original list would be considered collectible. The original typed or handwritten listing should be retained for reference and/or audits so that the balance of receivables at June 30 can be determined.

Schools should however, actively pursue outstanding receivables and the appropriate records should be withheld until collection is made.

30. Reduced Tuitions

Reduced or forgiven tuitions should always be supported by a credit memo. This form should contain the school year, the student's name, the student's grade, the amount of tuition reduction, and the signature of the pastor or principal. Such a form can be used for the tuitions receivable at June 30 that were determined to be uncollectible (Item #31 above).

Tuition payments should be expected from every student on the class lists other than those for whom credit memos have been issued or those who are exempt due to a family tuition plan.

These credit memos and the class lists should be retained as supporting records and should be available for reference in future audits.

31. Additional School/Religious Ed Records

Adequate records should be maintained to enable someone other than the person who handles tuition records or deposits, to calculate the tuition and fees that should have been collected and deposited. This calculation should be compared to the actual money collected and recorded in tuition income and fees income for the school year. Such records would be:

- A. A class listing as of the beginning of the year with the oldest student in the family so marked and the rate to be paid (only if multiple child or family rate of tuition exists)
- B. The number of students (families) enrolled at the beginning of the year and the rates charged
- C. The names of the students withdrawn during the year and the balance of the tuition unpaid by each
- D. The names of students added during the year and the reduced rate charged to each
- E. The listing of unpaid tuitions at June 30 referred to in General Comment #29 above.
- F. The students on reduced tuitions, Item #30 above

- G. Tuition Computation Form – A Schedule showing computation of the tuition for the school year to be collected per Item B above, reduced by deleted students (Item C), increased by additional students (Item D), and reduced by unpaid tuitions and reduced and forgiven tuitions (Items E and F).

Explanations for the variance between the actual recorded and deposited, and the amount calculated should be made when the difference is substantial.

In order for the above computation to be comparable, you must distinguish in the books between current and past years' tuitions collected and deposited.

Tuition Card File

If a card file is used for tuitions and one card is used for each student for all his years at the school, all tuition cards removed from the active roles should be filed by year of removal. If this procedure is followed, the tuition cards of the entire enrollment for any one year can be re-established.

The faith formation program is under the jurisdiction of the Archbishop. The curriculum integrates the six tasks of catechesis and is developed in accord with the Archdiocesan religious education curriculum guidelines published by the Division of Catechetical and Pastoral Formation.

Purpose:

- To implement a comprehensive curriculum in accord with the National Catechetical Directory, #215 and #232 which will attend to:
 - Catholic doctrine
 - Having a unified curriculum
 - Planning for worship experiences at the level of the student
 - Fostering sense of community, interaction with others
 - Programming for service opportunities
 - Prioritizing scheduling to safeguard the time for Catechetical instruction

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The six tasks of Catechesis are: proclaiming the Christian message and promoting knowledge of the faith, preparing people for prayer and worship, instructing for moral formation, motivating people for Christian living and service, building a sense of community, and fostering missionary initiatives.
- The faith formation curriculum is comprehensive. It provides a systematic presentation of the message of the Catholic faith in accord with the levels of psychological and faith development of the students and with their cultural and ethnic background and family configurations of the student.
- The faith formation curriculum also enables the students to participate in prayer and worship experiences, understand and experience community and understand and be involved in opportunities for service.
- The remote and continuing catechesis for the sacrament is an essential element of the school religion curriculum (Cf. Signs of God's Love). The family and parish community also share responsibility for these phases of sacramental catechesis. The immediate catechesis for and the celebration of sacraments are the responsibility of the parish in cooperation with the family.

- Trimesters have been established for elementary schools with corresponding end and store dates for PowerSchool.
- A minimum of eight [8] professional days (including work days and PD) must be included in the annual school calendar; one of which is a faculty retreat. These days may be scheduled prior to, during, or at the end of the school year.

- At the end of each marking period, computer-generated progress reports are issued for students in grades Prek4 - 8.
- A copy of the final progress report is placed in the student's permanent cumulative record folder.

INST 4.1

When a learning disability is suspected in a student, principals must communicate with the parents about available educational services and diagnostic resources.

Purpose:

- To serve as a resource for parents

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Since identification of learning problems is so essential to the educational process, parents should be advised as soon as a problem is suspected.
- Open and on-going communication is essential between school and parents.
- Documentation of communications with parents should be maintained in the confidential file.
- It is the parents' responsibility to initiate and follow through with the available educational services and diagnostic resources.

INST 5.0

If a student fails to successfully complete the required educational program, after appropriate interventions have been provided, the principal reserves the right to retain the student at the current grade level or recommend alternative placement.

Purpose

- To provide students with maximum opportunity for success

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The teacher addresses the student's problem at the earliest possible date and provides the student all possible assistance to remedy this situation.
- The teacher communicates with the parents on a regular basis regarding the child's progress.
- The teacher informs the principal by the mid-point of the second trimester of the possibility of the student's retention or failure of course/grade level..
- By mid-February the teacher, principal, parents, (and student) review the student's work performance to date and discuss his/her educational needs for the remainder of the year and the possibility of failure and/or retention. This meeting is followed by a written communication to the parents reviewing the content of the meeting, including the educational plan.
- No later than the end of the second trimester, the school informs the parents in writing of the possibility of failure/retention during the next academic year.
- The teacher continues to provide appropriate interventions and maintains regular communication with the parent.
- By the mid-point of the final marking period the school informs the parent in writing of its decision regarding the student.

SS 1.0

Students in Catholic Schools must comply with Maryland State law concerning compulsory attendance. The law requires regular attendance during the entire school year. Students are held accountable for time(s) they are absent from school. A principal may excuse a student for a necessary absence.

Regular school attendance is expected in order for students to achieve their academic potential. Each student's attendance is carefully recorded and permanently retained. Therefore, absence for reasons such as a vacation is strongly discouraged. Excessive absence has a serious impact on the student's academic performance.

Purpose:

- To ensure the continuous development and progress of the child's education.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Unlawful absences are considered truant. The school informs parents that if truancy persists, the public authorities will be notified.
- More than 20 days absence per year is considered excessive. The school establishes local regulations regarding the consequences for excessive absenteeism and outlines these policies in the Parent/Student Handbook. These cases are brought to the attention of the appropriate Associate Superintendent.
- A student can only be marked "Present" if he is physically in school.
- When a student has a chronic or intermittent health problem, parents should contact the Local Educational Agency (LEA) for Home and Hospital Services.
- For home hospital services, the parent must enroll the student in the local public school.

A school must maintain written documentation for all absences.

Purpose:

- To ensure proper maintenance of the student's permanent record.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The decision for a student to be absent from the school is the responsibility of the parent.
- Parents are pre-advised of the consequences of unscheduled absences.
- The school's policy regarding assignments and make-up work is communicated to parents on an annual basis.
- The school's policy regarding the impact of absences(s) on receiving awards or other honors is communicated on an annual basis.
- School requires and maintains written absentee notes from parents or guardians for the duration of the school year.

SS 1.2

When a student transfers to another school or school system or withdraws from a school for the purpose of home-schooling, written documentation of both the withdrawal and enrollment in an approved program is required.

Purpose:

- to comply with student compulsory attendance law

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- This information is to be placed in the permanent record folder and noted on the front.
- Careful consideration should be made when custody issues exist. If any suspicions arise, the authorities should be notified.
- Once the decision has been made to withdraw a child for the purpose of home-schooling, the parent/guardian must submit their intention to the school in writing.
- It is the responsibility of the parent/guardian to contact their local Board of Education to inform them of their decision.
- A Home-School Consent Form, obtained from the Board of Education, is to be completed within fifteen days and returned to the school.
- The school has no further responsibility once the parent has been advised in writing to contact the local Board of Education.
- If a student is withdrawn from school and the parents do not provide information on how the student will be schooled, the principal must document the attempts made to determine the placement of the student. In addition, the principal must contact the LEA where the family resides.

SS 2.0

Discipline must be administered in a manner consistent with Catholic Christian principles. Catholic schools' personnel may never use corporal punishment.

Purpose:

- To guide students in a manner which is consistent with the belief that all people are made in the image and likeness of God
- To teach good behavior through positive reinforcement

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- A staff member may not use verbally abusive language or display emotionally abusive behavior toward a child.
- The school's discipline philosophy and procedures are printed in the school's handbooks.

SS 2.1

A student has a right to fairness.

Purpose:

- To insure that decisions that impact the individual, are not arbitrary or capricious, and recognize the uniqueness of each being as loved by God.
- A fair decision is the result of a fair process. A fair process includes, at a minimum, the following steps:

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The parent is informed in writing at the earliest reasonable date that the teacher and principal/assistant principal are dissatisfied with specific behaviors.
 - This dissatisfaction is put in written form only after the teacher has met with the parent to discuss the child's behavior.
 - The written statement is signed by the teacher, the student, the parent, and the principal/assistant principal.
 - The written statement is dated and stipulates a date by which improvement must occur.
 - The written statement contains concrete behavior changes, which the student must make.
- The student is given all assistance necessary to rectify his/her behavior from the teacher.
 - The parent is advised by the teacher of any additional tutorial work the child might require beyond normal school hours.
- Periodic follow-ups are made between the student and the teacher.

- The teacher documents these follow-up meetings in writing to the parent on a regular basis.
- The teacher keeps the principal informed about the student's progress on a regular basis.
- If the student's behavior remains unchanged, the parents are again informed, at the earliest reasonable date, by the principal that the student's behavior is threatening his/her place in the school.
 - A document is prepared, signed by all pertinent parties; clearly stipulating what the student must do in order to change behaviors.
 - A specific date is indicated for the principal/assistant principal, parents, student and teacher to meet again and assess the student's behavior.
- The student continues to receive necessary assistance from the teacher.
- The student is informed that he/she will/will not be dismissed.
- This information is given to the parent no later than the end of May NOTE: This process does not prevail in "extreme situations" which call for immediate dismissal. An example of such "extreme situations" would be: (a) bringing a weapon to school (b) aggressive sexual behavior (c) life-threatening behavior (d) possession, distribution of drugs and/or alcohol. Because it is not possible to list all conceivable "extreme situations," the principal confers with the appropriate associate superintendent before dismissing the student.

SS 2.2

In cases of serious or repeated violation(s) of school rules and regulations or policies, students may be suspended or expelled in accordance with fair procedures outlined in the School's handbook.

Purpose:

- To maintain an acceptable learning environment
- To create local discipline codes that are fair and consistent throughout the Archdiocese

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The School designs and communicates a fair procedure to be used in cases of possible suspension or expulsion.
- In the case of an infraction that may warrant suspension or expulsion based on the severity of the incident and/or the student's disciplinary history, the School documents the incident, the communication with all appropriate parties, and the disciplinary action to be taken.
- The School may recommend or require (as a condition of continued enrollment) psychological evaluation in appropriate cases, based on the student's behavior.
- Suspension shall not exceed three consecutive school days on the elementary level. In-school suspension should be considered as a first option.
- The principal communicates with the appropriate Associate Superintendent, in advance, about possible expulsion.
- In cases of expulsion, the School's handbook gives the student a right of review in accordance with the procedure established by the Department of Catholic Schools.

- In presenting expulsion to parents, the option to withdraw is to be extended in consultation with the Department of Catholic Schools
- Secondary schools will determine the length of suspension in consultation with the direction of the Department of Catholic Schools.

In cases of student pregnancy, the principal consults with the Canonical Representative and Superintendent and then meets with the student and parent/guardian to discuss the plan of action.

Purpose:

- To support the pro-life values of the Catholic Church
- To provide for the continuing education of the student

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The plan of action considers: what is best for the student; what is best for the school; (any) recommendations from the student's doctor(s); how progress in studies is to be maintained.
- Expulsion is never considered advisable in this situation; transfer to another school may be considered appropriate.
- It is strongly recommended that the student receive formal counseling.
- If the father of the unborn child is identified as a student in a Catholic school, he also receives counseling.

SS 4.0

Field trips and group instruction at locations other than the school require written parental permission, adequate supervision, and appropriate precautions.

Purpose:

- To ensure each student's safety
- To be aware of any student's special health needs

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- A field trip is related to the student's course of study if it is to be counted as a school day. It is not recreational in nature.
- Children ride in a school vehicle that carries proper insurance. Parents drive their own children only.
- A Release and Waiver form is signed by the parent for each field trip. The form contains:
 - student's name
 - site and location to be visited
 - departure and arrival time
 - accompanying teachers
 - any special considerations
 - parent signature line
 - phone number of parent on day of trip
 - release of liability to include the Archbishop of Baltimore and his designees.
- All chaperones must be in compliance with procedures described in the AOB Procedures for Implementation and Compliance: A Statement of Policy for the Protection of Children and Youth.

- School personnel do not drive students in their own vehicles.
- When chartering a bus, the school must obtain the Certificate of Insurance showing adequate limits of liability coverage.
- Buses used for field trips out of state must be properly licensed under Section 390 of the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations.
- If a school is using an owned bus to transport students across state lines, the school must ensure that a number of the sections of the FMCSR are met. Most importantly the driver must have the applicable license, have met the controlled substance and alcohol use testing and other qualifications. Moreover the vehicle must be equipped with all of the parts and accessories as required under section 393 of the FMCSR regulations.
- The school must comply with procedures for the distribution of medication during the field trip.
- In arranging field trip experiences, the school must provide reasonable accommodations to include students with physical limitations and/or medical conditions.

Responding to Individuals with Disabilities

by Kathryn Kelley Hoskins

Is a Catholic school required to admit a child who uses a wheelchair, or a child with significant learning disabilities? Is a parish or school required to hire a job applicant who is blind or deaf or HIV positive? Must a school or parish alter its buildings to make them handicap-accessible?

Unfortunately, these and other questions regarding accommodation of disabled individuals are almost impossible to answer in the abstract because the legal analysis is fact-specific and depends on a variety of factors. However, some general legal principles should be kept in mind when presented with a request for accommodation.

The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) prohibits discrimination by employers with 15 or more employees. (While Church employers generally are covered by the ADA, the ADA exempts church buildings from its prohibition against discrimination in places of public accommodation.) Long before the ADA was passed, recipients of Federal financial assistance, including many Catholic schools, were prohibited from discriminating against handicapped students or employees under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Furthermore, Maryland state law and many local jurisdictions have long prohibited discrimination against the disabled in employment, public accommodations, and housing. While these laws may or may not apply to a parish or school in a particular situation, a school or parish should never assume that it does not need to comply with handicap discrimination laws simply because it is a religious organization.

None of the handicap/disability discrimination laws, in themselves, require that an individual be hired, a student be admitted, or a building be modified. Rather, the laws require "reasonable accommodation." The determination of what is "reasonable" is based on a dialogue with the disabled individual in each case. What does he or she need? How much would it cost? Are there other sources of funds to pay for it? How could it be made available? How much disruption would it cause? What are other alternatives? An accommodation is not "reasonable" if it imposes an "undue hardship;" however, some expenditure of funds, disruption or inconvenience may be required. The parish or school cannot reasonably take the position that any accommodation that requires change is an "undue" hardship.

The most important aspect of compliance with the disability discrimination laws is the process used to determine whether a reasonable accommodation can be made. If the parish or school is open to listening to the disabled person, considers alternatives, engages in respectful dialogue, and makes good faith efforts to solve problems to the extent feasible, both parties will likely accept the outcome and the parish or school will have fulfilled its legal obligations. More importantly, being respectful, inclusive and open to disabled individuals furthers the organizational missions of Catholic schools and parishes.

Bullying, harassment, or intimidation (as defined below) of any student is prohibited in all Archdiocese of Baltimore Schools. Retaliation or reprisal against anyone who reports such behaviors or participates in an investigation of a report is also prohibited. Such behaviors are contrary to school life in a Christ-centered community, which respects the dignity and uniqueness of all of God's children.

Purpose:

- To foster a school environment where all students are educated in a safe and caring atmosphere, all Archdiocesan schools will follow established procedures for bullying prevention, intervention, and response.
- Discrimination and harassment of students on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, religion, disability or handicap are also addressed under the Archdiocesan Student Harassment Policy in the Code of Conduct. Suspected abuse or neglect of students is addressed under the Policy for the Protection of Children and Youth.

Commentary/Procedural Points: (As used in this policy)

1. Definitions

“Bullying, harassment, or intimidation” means intentional conduct, including written, verbal, or physical conduct or an intentional electronic communication, that:

- a. Creates a hostile educational environment by substantially interfering with a student’s educational benefits, opportunities, or performance or with a student’s physical or psychological well-being and:
 - i. Is motivated by an actual or a perceived personal characteristic including race, national origin, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, ancestry, physical attributes, socioeconomic status, familial status, or physical or mental ability or disability; or
 - ii. Is sexual in nature; or
 - iii. Is threatening or seriously intimidating; and
- b. Occurs on school property, at a school activity or event, or on a school bus, or substantially disrupts the orderly operation of the school.

Electronic technology means a communication transmitted by means of an electronic device, including a telephone, cellular phone, computer, pager, etc.

Retaliation means an act of reprisal or revenge, i.e., getting back at a person for an act he/she committed (such as reporting misconduct).

2. Prevention

Education on the prevention of and responses to bullying, harassment, and intimidation will be delivered to all students in kindergarten through grade twelve through orientation, religion classes, guidance lessons, or other age appropriate means.

School faculty will ensure that students are involved in activities that address bullying, cyber-bullying, harassment, or intimidation and in creating a culture of peer support and mutual respect.

School faculty will promote student involvement in the anti-bullying efforts, peer support, mutual respect, and a culture which encourages students to report incidents of bullying to adults.

School principals will ensure that professional development is provided to school faculty and staff on how to respond appropriately to students who bully or are bullied, and how to empower bystanders.

School principals will provide parents with education on the negative impact of bullying for students, the family and the school community as well as proactive strategies to prevent bullying, harassment, and intimidation.

School principals will educate School Board members on the negative impact of bullying for students, the family and the school community and the school's bullying preventions, intervention and response policy and education protocols.

3. Intervention

School principals and/or their designee are responsible for providing appropriate assistance to students who have been affected by behavior prohibited in this policy. Remedial measures should be designed to correct the bullying behavior, prevent another occurrence, and protect the victim.

A student who violates this policy may be required to participate in appropriate counseling/intervention determined by the school principal that is designed to increase the student's understanding of the offense and its impact on others.

School principals will collaborate with the Department of Catholic Schools to address students who repeatedly commit acts of bullying, harassment or intimidation.

4. Procedures for Reporting

- i. All staff members will respond quickly and appropriately to intervene in any reported incident of bullying, harassment or intimidation (whether the report is made verbally or in writing) and shall immediately inform the school principal of the report.
- ii. If a student (including a witness or bystander) wishes to discuss an incident of bullying, harassment, or intimidation with a staff member, the staff member will make an effort to provide the student with a practical, safe, private, and age appropriate way of doing so.
- iii. All reports will be documented using the Bullying Prevention, Intervention and Response Reporting Form. A student may request assistance from a staff member, parent or close adult relative to complete the Form at school. If the student and the student's family do not complete the Form, a staff member should complete the Form based on the information provided by the reporter(s).
- iv. The student, the student's parent or close adult relative, or a staff member should complete and submit the Bullying Prevention, Intervention and Response Reporting Form to the school principal in person, by mail, or electronically.
- v. Reporting forms should be available in all schools in the main (front) office, counselor's office, and other locations determined by the school principal.
- vi. The principal or designee will notify the parent/guardian of the alleged victim of a report of bullying, harassment or intimidation within three (3) business days after the incident is reported. The principal or designee will notify the parent/guardian of the alleged perpetrator of a report of bullying, harassment or intimidation within five (5) business days after the incident is reported.
- vii. Principals will submit the written Bullying Reporting Form and Investigation Form for all bullying investigations that result in in-school or out-of-school suspension or possible expulsion to the Associate Superintendent and cc: the Superintendent and Director of Student Support Services.

5. Procedures for Investigating

- i. All reports of bullying, harassment or intimidation must be investigated promptly and appropriately by the school principal or designee.
- ii. Pending the outcome of the investigation, the school principal will implement interim measures as needed to protect the victim or others from additional bullying, harassment, or intimidation, and from retaliation.

- iii. All parties involved should be informed that any information gathered during the investigation will be confidential, i.e., disclosed only on a "need to know" basis.
- iv. If the investigation determines that there was a violation of this policy, the school principal will apply consequences and/or remedial actions consistent with school disciplinary policies.
- v. The school principal will create a written summary of the investigation, the outcome, and any corrective or remedial actions taken. Investigative records, including written statements and physical evidence, will be maintained in a separate confidential file.
- vi. Without regard to the outcome of the investigation, the school principal will monitor the resolution of the alleged bullying, harassment, or intimidation incident. Separate conferences with the victim and alleged offender will occur within two weeks after the conclusion of the investigation. Both should be reminded of the prohibition against retaliation under this policy. In addition, another follow-up conference will be held with the victim four weeks after the initial follow-up conference.

6. Consequences

Consequences and remedial actions should be consistently and fairly applied for students found to have engaged in bullying, harassment, or intimidation; retaliation; or intentionally making false accusations. The following list of consequences and remedial actions is provided as a guide and by no means limits the school from implementing other consequences and remedial actions. The seriousness of the behavior and prior conduct of the involved students are considered when determining appropriate consequences.

Student Consequences:

- Parent notification
- Time out (primary students)
- Loss of a privilege
- Verbal reprimand
- Completion of letter of acknowledgement of action, with apology to the victim (after review by the principal and not in a case of sexual harassment or intimidation)

Each school establishes and implements a School Inclusion Plan.

Purpose:

- To include and educate students for whom services/programming can be designed, funded, and provided.
- To provide guidelines and tools for educators to use to help identify, aid, and monitor students with learning differences.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- School Inclusion Plans will include the following elements:
 - Self-study to examine how the pastoral call for inclusion is being answered in the workings and mission of the school:
 - How is the importance of inclusion communicated in the admissions process?
 - How is the importance of inclusion communicated to the school community?
 - What is the current state of practices, policies, programs, services and supports being used for inclusion in the school? Include strengths, weaknesses, and challenges.
 - What funding sources are currently being used to support inclusion?
 - What trainings, workshops, coaching opportunities, etc. have been offered to faculty/staff to educate on best practices for inclusion?
 - SMART goals may address:
 - Professional development
 - Best practices implementation for inclusion in the classroom.
 - Programming and supports for students with special needs
 - Incorporating the importance of inclusion as a value in the school community

- School Inclusion Plans will be written as part of a collaborative process involving input from all stakeholders including faculty, staff, board members, and families. Plan components may become part of the school's yearly Continuing Improvement Plan.
- The School Inclusion Plan will be reviewed according to the following timeline:
 - The initial plan will be written by May 1, 2020.
 - The Inclusion Plan will be reviewed and updated annually.
 - The Inclusion Plan will become part of the cycle for the School's Strategic Plan Update Process.

Each school establishes and maintains an active Student Advocacy Team (SAT).

Purpose:

- To serve as a resource for educators with concerns about student academic progress
- To help identify and support the success of students with special needs while following the mission of the school.
- To document the collaborative efforts and actions made by the school to support student needs.

Commentary and Procedural Points:

- The SAT is interdisciplinary and is comprised of a teacher from each academic division, a special area teacher, a special educator/resource teacher (if the school has one), the school counselor (if the school has one), and/or the school nurse.
- The SAT should convene a minimum of once a month to identify and address concerns on student progress.
- The SAT can be used to aid in addressing academic, social, emotional, and behavioral concerns.
- The SAT uses the specified AOB forms, as identified in the AOB Resource Handbook, to document efforts made in addressing student needs.
- Records are kept of each meeting and maintained in a confidential file.

In the exceptional circumstance that a student requires a modified curriculum, the curriculum may be modified only for students who have the necessary documentation.

Purpose:

- To allow students in need of a modified curriculum to have access to a Catholic education.

Commentary and Procedural Points:

- Modifications are defined as a practice or procedure that lowers, or reduces learning expectations
- Necessary Documentation for academic modifications consists of:
 - a psychoeducational evaluation completed within three years of the time of review, that clearly demonstrates and specifically states the need for modified assignments, assessments, and/or curriculum, and
 - A Student Accommodation Plan that clearly outlines the ways in which modifications will be made.
- If a student is receiving academic modifications, a standard comment should be recorded on the student's progress report for each class in which the curriculum is being modified to indicate that a modified curriculum is being used.
- Principals should inform their Associate Superintendent if a student is receiving a modified curriculum.

A student may be exempt from the World Language requirement under the following circumstances:

- If it is explicitly stated in the recommendation section in the student's evaluation(s).
- If the student has a language based learning disability, such as Specific Learning Disorder with Impairment in Reading, and appropriate accommodations and/or modifications cannot be made in the world language class to make the material accessible to the student.

Purpose:

- To allow students with special needs who would benefit from exemption from the World Language requirement to have access to Catholic education.

Commentary and Procedural Points:

- If a student has world language exemption as a selected accommodation on his/her SAP, the school should notify their Associate Superintendent.
- The school needs to plan for what the student will be doing while his/her class is taking world language. This will vary depending on the school's resources. Students may remain in the world language class and audit it, giving them exposure to a world language, but not penalizing them for having difficulty learning it. Schools may also create alternative programming for these students if they have the resources needed for implementation.
- World language exemption is indicated on the student's progress reports through the use of a standard comment in the World Language section of the report.

Students who qualify as recently arrived English learners may be exempted from one administration of the standardized testing in their first year of testing.

Purpose:

- To offer flexibility to schools who have students who are recently arrived English learners.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Qualifications to be a recently arrived English learner are as follows:
 - The student has been assessed through Title III services and met criteria as an English learner (EL)
 - The student has an active Student Accommodation Plan that documents the EL accommodations being given on a day-to-day basis for instruction and/or assessment.
 - The student has been enrolled in a United States school for fewer than 12 months, counting back from the first day that the test is to be administered.
- Principals must notify their Associate Superintendents of this in advance of the test administration.

The Archdiocese of Baltimore Department of Schools supports the use of one-to-one instructional assistants (one-to-one) for appropriate students, subject to the conditions of this policy.

Purpose:

- To allow students who need the support of an one-to-one instructional assistant to access a Catholic Education.

Commentary and Procedural Points:

- An appropriate student is one who has an up-to-date psychoeducational evaluation the results of which demonstrate the need for one-to-one assistance in the school setting.
- The school:
 - bears no financial obligation towards the one-to-one or the student's family.
 - is not liable for any injury or misfortune that should happen to the one-to-one while on school property or at a school function.
- The one-to-one must be Virtus certified and complete any other necessary paperwork and trainings before he/she is allowed to begin services at the school. Other necessary paperwork and trainings are defined at the discretion of the principal and the AOB.
- The one-to-one is expected to uphold the school's values and code of conduct.
- The one-to-one is expected to be with the child every school day, through every activity. Should this schedule be disrupted in any way, there needs to exist a contingency plan for the student and the school.
- Communication about the student's progress and needs should go through the student's parent/guardian, as it would with any other student. Communication with the student's one-to-one is not to be used in lieu of this.
- The one-to-one is not allowed to use restraints or safety holds with the child, nor any form of discipline that is not approved by the AOB.

- The one-to-one may be asked to leave the school at any time and/or discontinue service at the discretion of the principal. The parent/guardian must be notified if this occurs and alternative plans must be made for the student.
- The parent/guardian may request the removal of the one-to-one at any time and/or choose to discontinue service.
 - The parent/guardian must notify the school administration in advance of this decision.
 - If the family does not provide another one-to-one and the school believes that the student can only be successful with one-to-one support, the school reserves the right to request that the student seek a different school placement where his/her needs can be met. This is done at the discretion of the principal.
- If a student has a one-to-one instructional assistant assigned to them, a standard comment should be recorded on the student's progress report for each class in which the one-to-one is present with the student.

INCL 8.0

The Archdiocese of Baltimore Department of Schools supports the appropriate use of service animals by students, subject to the conditions of this policy.

Purpose:

- To allow students who need the use of service animals to access a Catholic Education.

Definition

- Service animals are defined as dogs that are individually trained to do work or perform tasks for people with disabilities. Examples of such work or tasks include guiding people who are blind, alerting people who are deaf, pulling a wheelchair, alerting and protecting a person who is having a seizure, reminding a person with mental illness to take prescribed medications, calming a person with Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) during an anxiety attack, or performing other duties. The work or task a dog has been trained to provide must be directly related to the person's disability.
- Dogs whose sole function is to provide comfort or emotional support do not qualify as service animals.

Commentary and Procedural Points:

Admissions and Inquiries about Service Animals

- Schools are limited in the inquiries that they are allowed to ask when it is not obvious what service a service dog provides
- Staff may ask two questions:
 - Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability?
 - What work or task has the dog been trained to perform?
- Staff may not ask about the person's disability, require medical documentation, require a special identification card or training documentation for the dog, or ask that the dog demonstrate its ability to perform the work or task.

- Also, schools may not charge a service dog fee to families whose students require the use of a service dog.

Allergies and Concerns

- Allergies and fear of dogs are not valid reasons for denying access or refusing service to people using service animals.
- Should a conflict involving allergies or fear of dogs arise between students, both students should be accommodated by assigning them, if possible, to different locations within the room or different rooms in the facility
- If a compromised solution cannot be reached, the principal should consult their Associate Superintendent and/or the Director of Student Support Services for guidance.

Preparing for the Service Animal

- The student/family must inform the school of this in advance of bringing the dog on school property.
- A plan must be formulated regarding the care of the dog addressing the following:
 - Where and when the dog will get to eat.
 - Where and when the dog will get to drink.
 - Where and when the dog will relieve itself
 - What staff member(s) will provide supervision for the student when he/she takes the dog out to relieve itself.
- The plan should be written in as part of the Student Accommodation Plan (SAP).
- It should be made clear to the family that the school is not financially responsible for providing the dog's care or food.

Expectations of the Service Animal

- When a student has a service animal, it is expected that the dog be kept under control at all times.
- Service animals must be harnessed, leashed, or tethered, unless these devices interfere with the service animal's work or the individual's disability prevents using these devices. In that case, the individual must maintain control of the animal through voice, signal, or other effective controls.
- A service animal may be asked to leave under the following circumstances:
 - The dog is out of control and the handler does not take effective action to control it, or
 - The dog is not housebroken (DOJ, 2011).

- If a service animal has to be asked to leave, the school should notify their Associate Superintendent and/or the Director of Student Support Services for guidance on next steps.

The school maintains a health file for each student for the duration of enrollment.

Purpose:

- To comply with applicable laws and regulations

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- The following information is maintained in the health file, if applicable:
 - copy of physician's physical report, if required
 - immunization record
 - vision and hearing results
 - dental report
 - authorization for medications and individual health plans
 - injury reports
 - documentation of communicable diseases
 - health inventory form
- Health records are to be stored in a locked location separate from the cumulative folders.
- Records may only be accessed by authorized personnel.
- Principals should encourage parents to share information with the school about any new or existing medical conditions, medications, or treatments which may affect the child's well-being.
- When a pre-kindergarten operates in a separate building, the health records for these students must be maintained in the building where the program is conducted.

All students in Catholic schools must be immunized in accordance with Maryland State Law.

Purpose:

- To ensure the safety and well being of all members of the school community

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Immunization records must be maintained at the school for each student.
- Schools inform parents that the child may have up to a maximum of twenty (20) calendar days from the time the child starts school to obtain the immunization record, get needed doses of vaccine, or get started on the vaccination series. If there is no verification of immunization record presented within twenty (20) calendar days of entry, the student is to be excluded until the record is obtained.
- In case of religious objection or medical contraindication for one or more immunizations, form DHMH 896 must be submitted and kept on file.
- Exempted students are to be excluded from school if there is an outbreak of the disease(s) for which they are not immunized.

Principals notify their local health department in cases of student absences due to a reportable communicable disease.

Purpose:

- To prevent the spread of communicable disease in the school

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Before the student returns to school, a release card from the local health department or a letter from a licensed healthcare practitioner must be provided, indicating that the health department regulation has been met.
- Notes from parents/guardians are not accepted as assurance that the health department regulation has been met.
- The local health department has listings of the types of diseases and procedures for possible school closings and the communications to notify the school families and general public.

A student is not permitted to possess, administer, or distribute medication, whether prescription or non-prescription.

Purpose:

- To insure that medications are administered in a supervised and safe environment

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- If medication is given during school hours, written administration procedures from the student's doctor/licensed health care practitioner are given to designated school personnel.
- Unauthorized personnel do not dispense medication.
- Written medication authorization from the student's doctor/licensed health care practitioner is to be submitted annually, or as needed, and is kept on file as long as the student is enrolled in the school.
- During a school-sponsored field trip, designated school personnel transport and dispense medications.
- All medications must be kept under lock and key and inventory properly monitored.
- If medication is missing, parents must be notified, and a police report must be filed.
- Under special circumstances, individual students may be authorized by their physician/licensed health care provider to carry and self-administer prescribed medications (e.g. inhalers, epipenes).

HE 7.0

The Office of Risk Management is to be notified of any student injury which occurs during school activities, regardless of whether the injury occurs on or off premises, if the injury requires medical attention outside the health suite.

Purpose: To communicate and document student injuries.

Commentary/Procedural Points:

- Reporting modes:

- PowerSchool

For those schools using PowerSchool to document visits to the health suite, if the visit is coded as an injury visit in the “reason for visit” field, the report is automatically downloaded into a daily report reviewed by the Office of Risk Management. If the injury requires outside medical attention, the nurse (or individual to whom the responsibility of reporting has been delegated) should designate “ORM” in the “reason for office visit field” in the health suite module in PowerSchool. By designating “ORM” the Office of Risk Management receives and reviews the student injury report. A confirmation of receipt is sent to the nurse within 48 hours, along with any further instructions.

- Fax/Email

For those schools not using PowerSchool to document student injury visits to the health suite, a “Report of Injury Form” should be completed and submitted to the Office of Risk Management, either by email or fax, within 24 hours, if the injury requires outside medical attention. This report can be found on the Office of Risk Management webpage at www.archbalt.org/risk on the left hand side of the page under Schools. A confirmation of receipt is sent to the contact within 48 hours, along with any further instructions.

- As with all student documentation, please limit all comments to facts only. Please do not provide commentary. Also, be thorough in your documentation. Lastly, maintain a copy of all reports in accordance with your school’s record retention policy.

Protocol for Suspected Head Injuries:

Background: Students who are suspected of having sustained a head injury in the school setting must be carefully evaluated by trained personnel in order to correctly identify those individuals who need immediate medical evaluation and, to prevent the possibility of further trauma or injury. The potential for head injury can occur anytime a student's head comes into contact with a hard object, or when the student receives a blow or jolt to the head. Head injury may also occur from a blow to the body which causes the head and brain to move rapidly back and forth or side to side.

The Archdiocese of Baltimore has developed a policy and recommendations for school nurses, faculty and staff to follow in the event a student is suspected of having sustained a head injury. These recommendations include; documents to aide in assessment and communication and, head injury awareness education for students, parents/guardians, faculty and staff. Resources are provided to train school faculty and staff on head injury awareness and return to school protocols for students diagnosed with concussion.

To maintain confidentiality and ensure privacy, this protocol, the Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form and the Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist are intended for use by appropriately trained school professionals; defined by the Archdiocese as school nurses, athletic trainers, coaches, athletic directors, and school administrators.

Note, this protocol is adapted from documents created by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Procedural Expectations:

1. Students suspected of having sustained a head injury will be evaluated by the School Nurse or trained school personnel.
2. If a School Nurse or trained staff member is available he/she will be alerted of the suspected injury by a supervising adult.
3. If student is unresponsive, convulsing or seizing, vomiting repetitively, slurring speech, experiencing weakness, numbness or decreased coordination or, if one pupil is larger than the other, school staff will immediately activate EMS by calling 911. Refer to Danger Signs on the Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form
4. If student is able to safely ambulate to the Health Room, they will do so directly, escorted by a responsible adult or classmate. Students suspected of having sustained a head injury will not be left alone.
5. School Nurse or trained staff member will assess the nature of the injury including the cause and force of the hit, bump, jolt or blow to the head.
6. School Nurse or trained staff member will assess victim's memory of the incident, paying close attention to memory lapses of events leading up to or immediately following the injury.
7. If a witness is available he/she will assist in determining the accuracy of the victim's account.
8. School Nurse or trained staff member will administer first aid as needed.
9. School Nurse or trained staff member will interview the victim and complete the Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form and Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist.

10. School Nurse or trained staff member will contact parent/guardian to report incident, assessment and status of injured student.
11. In the absence of symptoms, the School Nurse may determine the student is able to return to class.
12. If the student returns to class, School Nurse will make a plan with the student for alerting the nurse in the event symptoms develop during the school day.
13. School Nurse will plan follow-up same day visit(s) to the Health Room for reassessment.
14. School Nurse will notify appropriate teacher(s) and Administrator(s) of incident.
15. Teachers, administrators and staff will alert the School Nurse to any signs or symptoms of concussion observed or reported by student.
16. School Nurse completes Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form and the Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist to include documentation of communication with parents/guardians, teachers/administrators and additional assessments made following the first 30 minutes, vital signs if indicated and interventions, i.e. first aid.
17. The School Nurse signs the Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form and the Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist, makes and maintains a copy in the student's health record, and sends the original home along with Know Your Concussion ABCs Fact Sheet for Parents.
18. Parents/guardians sign the completed Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist and return it to the Health Room
19. The School Nurse maintains the signed Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist in the student's health record.
20. If student is referred for medical evaluation, the School Nurse will complete Report of Accident on School Grounds Form and send to Risk Management.
21. School Nurse completes additional documentation as required.
22. School Nurse receives follow-up health care evaluation(s) and return to school care plan, communicates and supports students and faculty in providing academic accommodations and activity restrictions if indicated.

Procedure for assessing, documenting and reporting students who have possibly sustained a head injury during the school day, on the school grounds:

1. Refer to the Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form. Begin by assessing the student using the Head Injury Danger Signs Checklist. If the student has one or more of the indicated symptoms, the student should be seen by emergency medical health care providers immediately. If the student requires immediate care, contact the parent/guardian and/or emergency services to arrange for emergency health care delivery. The student must be continuously monitored until discharged for emergency care. Provide first aid as needed. Complete the Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form and provide a copy to the parent/guardian (a second copy may be provided to the emergency health care professional by the parent/guardian or, by school personnel.)
2. Complete the Archdiocese of Baltimore Report of Student Injury form for any student who is injured on school grounds who is referred for medical evaluation/treatment. This form may be obtained from the Office of Risk Management.
3. If the student does not have one or more of the symptoms on the Head Injury Danger Signs Checklist, administer the Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist and provide first aid as needed. The Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist requires the student be assessed at least three times in thirty minutes. Do not return the student to class prior to completing the checklist at “0”, “15” and “30” minutes.
4. If the student shows one or more signs of a concussion based on the completed checklist, contact the parent to arrange for the student to be further evaluated by a health care professional. Continue to monitor the child using the checklist until the parent/guardian arrives to take the child for medical evaluation.
5. Complete the Archdiocese of Baltimore Report of Student Injury form for any student who is injured on school grounds and is referred for medical evaluation/treatment. This form may be obtained from the Office of Risk Management.
6. If after administering the Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist as requisite over 30 minutes, the student does not show symptoms indicating the need for referral to their health care provider, the student may return to class. Complete the Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form. Contact the parent/guardian to report the event, assessment, interventions and student disposition.
7. Share a copy of the completed Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form with the parent/guardian of any child for whom the form has been completed. Parents/guardians should be notified that it is appropriate to share a copy of the form with the child’s health care provider(s), and a second copy of the form may be provided for this purpose.
8. Provide a copy of the CDC form “Heads Up to Schools: Know Your Concussion ABCs, A Fact Sheet for Parents” for the parent/guardian.
9. Provide a copy of the CDC form “Acute Concussion Evaluation Care Plan – School Version” for the parent/guardian of any student referred for medical evaluation of a suspected head injury for the health care provider’s consideration in planning for the student’s return to school.

Procedure for assessing, documenting and reporting students who indicate they have or, may have sustained a head injury outside of school or, on a previous school day:

1. Refer to the Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form. Begin by assessing the student using the Head Injury Danger Signs Checklist. If the student has one or more of the indicated symptoms, the student should be seen by emergency medical health care providers immediately. If the student requires immediate care, contact the parent/guardian and/or emergency services to arrange for emergency health care delivery. The student must be continuously monitored until discharged for emergency care. Provided first aid as needed. Complete the Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form and provide a copy to the parent/guardian. A copy of the completed Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form may be provided to the emergency health care professional by the parent/guardian or by school personnel.
2. Complete the Archdiocese of Baltimore Report of Student Injury form for any student who is injured on school grounds who is referred for medical evaluation/treatment. This form may be obtained from the Office of Risk Management.
3. If the student's symptoms indicate the student does not require immediate attention from his/her physician or emergency services per the Head Injury Danger Signs Checklist, administer the Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist and ask about his/her sleep patterns. Drowsiness, sleeping more or less than usual, or difficulty falling asleep may be signs of concussion. If the student does not demonstrate signs or symptoms of concussion per the Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist and denies a change in sleep patterns, the child may be returned to class. If the student indicates he/she is experiencing an alteration in normal sleep patterns, assess the student for symptoms listed on the Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist. If the student does show one or more signs of a concussion based on the completed checklist, contact the parent to arrange for the student to be further evaluated by a health care professional. Continue to monitor the child using the checklist until the parent/guardian arrives to take the child for medical evaluation.
4. Complete the Archdiocese of Baltimore Report of Student Injury form for any student who may have been injured on school grounds and is referred for medical evaluation/treatment. Send the report to the Office of Risk management. This form may be obtained from the Office of Risk Management.
5. If after assessing the student for symptoms listed on the Concussion Signs and Symptoms Checklist the student does not show symptoms indicating the need for referral for medical evaluation, the student may return to class. Complete the Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form. Contact the parent/guardian to report the visit, assessment, interventions and student disposition.
6. Share a copy of the completed Suspected Head Injury Assessment Form with the parent/guardian of any child for whom the form has been completed. Parents/guardians should be notified that it is appropriate to share a copy of the form with the child's health care provider(s), and a second copy of the form may be provided for this purpose.

Training and Educational Resources:

Youth concussion can have long term impacts on young students such as their health, memory, learning and even their survival. To improve prevention, recognition and response to suspected head injury and sports-related concussion, suspected head injury and concussion awareness education will be incorporated into annual faculty and staff training sessions. Below listed are links to educational and training materials developed by the CDC which may be useful to enhance the training experience.

Introduction

This document was developed to assist schools wishing to implement a general use epinephrine program. The purpose of this document is to provide schools with a template for a general use epinephrine program that, when completed, is compliant with the standards set forth by Maryland State Law.

Please note that schools in the Archdiocese are not required to have a general use epinephrine program. If a school does elect to enact a general use epinephrine program, it must be registered with the Archdiocese of Baltimore Office of Risk Management as explained in this document.

Included is a template for a policy and procedure and related documents. The policy and procedure has blank areas that are for individual schools to input their unique information. It also contains a number of examples, such as a sample statement for a parent handbook. All of these fields need to be completed with the individual school's information. Schools may use the examples provided or their own version.

To properly establish the program, it must meet all criteria in the General Use Epinephrine Compliance Checklist (Appendix H). This should be used as a guide when working on an individual school's program and procedure. This checklist and required documents should be kept on hand in the health room, as well as submitted for approval by the Archdiocese of Baltimore Office of Risk Management. Programs need to be renewed annually or with any change in the physician/licensed prescriber or school nurse/other licensed health care practitioner.

For staff training resources, epinephrine auto-injector specific information, and information on programs that may help with the cost of auto-injectable epinephrine, please see the accompanying document "Epinephrine Resources."

General Use Epinephrine
Policy and Procedure

Statements of Authorization

Statement of Program Authorization

Due to the rising incidence of anaphylaxis and the adoption of both Maryland State and National laws encouraging “stock” epinephrine, ENTER SCHOOL NAME., in accordance with its rules of governance, has authorized the implementation of this policy and procedure in accordance with Education Article 7-426.3 of Maryland State Law (Appendix B) as it relates to the availability and use of general use epinephrine. Through the adoption of this policy and procedure, ENTER SCHOOL NAME. has chosen to establish a policy authorizing school personnel to administer auto-injectable epinephrine, if available, to a student who is determined or perceived to be in anaphylaxis, regardless of whether the student has been identified as having an anaphylactic allergy or has a prescription for epinephrine.

ENTER SCHOOL NAME. has submitted a copy of this policy and procedure for the ENTER YEAR school year along with the completed “General Use Epinephrine Compliance Checklist” (Appendix H) to the Archdiocese of Baltimore Office of Risk Management.

ENTER SCHOOL NAME. has provided notification of the adoption of this policy to the school through the following means: ENTER DESCRIPTION

Furthermore, the following statement has been included in the parent handbook for the ENTER YEAR school year.

(Sample Statement) As of [DATE], [SCHOOL NAME] has adopted a policy allowing the availability of stock epinephrine in the health suite for use in the event of an anaphylactic emergency. This epinephrine is for emergency use during normal school days and is not dependent on allergy history. It is not available outside of normal school hours or on field trips. Students with a known history of severe allergies are still expected to maintain emergency action plans, medical orders, and their own supply of emergency medication.

Statement

ENTER SCHOOL STATEMENT HERE.

Statement of Authorization to Obtain and Store Auto-injectable Epinephrine

In order to establish this policy and procedure, ENTER SCHOOL NAME., in accordance with its rules of governance, has authorized the school nurse or other licensed health care practitioner to obtain and store auto-injectable epinephrine to be used in an emergency situation.

ENTER SCHOOL NAME. stocks both .15 mg and .30 mg doses of auto-injectable epinephrine in an unlocked supervised cabinet available during the regular school day. During off school hours or if the cabinet(s) containing the auto-injectable epinephrine pen(s) is not supervised, the cabinet must be locked. This epinephrine will not be sent on field trips or be available outside of regular school hours. Emergency stock epinephrine is available during the school day to all students, staff, and school visitors regardless of their history of anaphylaxis. It is expected that individuals who have a known history of severe allergies continue to obtain individual medical orders, maintain an individual supply of emergency medications, and follow the school's procedures for students at risk for an anaphylactic reaction.

It is further required that the school nurse or other licensed health care practitioner noted below be responsible for implementing this policy and maintaining the school's auto-injectable epinephrine.

ENTER NAME OF SCH NURSE/LICENSED PRACTITIONER.

Name of Authorized School Nurse or Other Licensed Health Care Practitioner

School Administrator(s) Name(s) and Signature(s)

Medical Authorization and Direction

ENTER NAME OF PHYSICIAN/LICENSED PRESCRIBER. has agreed to and understands the requirements of providing medical authorization (a prescription) for procuring auto-injectable epinephrine, as well as for providing on-going medical direction for the implementation of the school's general use epinephrine program in accordance with Education Article 7-426.3 of Maryland State Law (Appendix B).

By signing this document, ENTER NAME OF PHYSICIAN/LICENSED PRESCRIBER. has provided a standing order for auto-injectable epinephrine administration for anaphylaxis (See example- Appendix D), and acknowledges he or she has reviewed this document and found ENTER SCHOOL NAME to be in compliance with Education Article 7-426.3 of Maryland State Law. It is further understood by ENTER NAME OF PHYSICIAN/LICENSED PRESCRIBER. that this policy must be reviewed and signed again annually or sooner in the event of a change in the physician/licensed prescriber or school nurse/other licensed health care practitioner.

In an effort to afford protection to the physician/licensed prescriber, school nurse/other licensed health care practitioner, and other school personnel, this policy has been developed in accordance with article 7-426.3 of Maryland State Law. According to this article: Except for any willful or grossly negligent act, school personnel who respond in good faith to the anaphylactic reaction of a child in accordance with this section may not be held personally liable for any act or omission in the course of responding to a reaction.

Under the Baltimore Archdiocese insurance plan, prescribing physicians/ licensed prescribers who are acting as a volunteer for the school are covered under the Archdiocesan policy as long as the resources are available at a school for this policy to be fully implemented by the school nurse/other licensed health care practitioner, and the physician/ licensed prescriber does not provide hands-on care.

Statements of Training

Training for All Staff Members

ENTER SCHOOL NAME. provides annual training for all school personnel on how to recognize the signs and symptoms of anaphylaxis. This training is to be delivered by a licensed health care practitioner who is authorized to administer auto-injectable epinephrine and has been trained in an established protocol on how to recognize the signs and symptoms of anaphylaxis. The training offered at ENTER SCHOOL NAME. for the purpose of meeting this requirement must include the following:

- ☐ Overview of food allergies including:
 - The definition of a food allergy and anaphylaxis
 - A list of major allergens
- ☐ Review of the signs and symptoms of food allergies and anaphylaxis
- ☐ Explanation of medications for food allergies and anaphylaxis
- ☐ Discussion of the best practices for preventing exposure to food allergens:
 - Identification of manufacturer's ingredient label on all classroom food
 - Consultation with parent to provide allergen free snacks from home
- ☐ Instruction as to the communication process during medical emergencies, including who to contact for help in an emergency
- ☐ Reminder of student privacy and confidentiality
- ☐ Instruction on the severity of anaphylaxis and the need for immediate response

All school personnel should be given a copy of the Anaphylaxis Response Protocol (Appendix E) and be made aware of the personnel in the building trained to respond to anaphylaxis.

Training for Impacted Staff Members

In addition to the anaphylaxis training described in the prior section, ENTER SCHOOL NAME. trains all impacted staff annually in responding to anaphylaxis and the proper use of the auto-injectable epinephrine. This training has been conducted for the ENTER YEAR. school year and a record of this training is maintained in the health room.

Attached to this policy and procedure is a list of the personnel who have been trained in the administration of auto-injectable epinephrine, and a copy of the anaphylaxis response protocol. Training to meet this provision of the policy must include the following minimum requirements in addition to those in the section above:

- ☐ Train, practice and evaluate impacted staff administration of epinephrine auto-injector and location of the general use epinephrine auto-injector.

- ☐ Training shall include the use of the school's clearly labeled pre-measured 135cm. string or pre-cut measuring tape. This tool, located alongside the school's general use epinephrine injector, can be used to assist in the determination of dosage. Training shall also emphasize that if in doubt as to the size or weight of a child, the higher dose should be administered.
- ☐ Train, practice and evaluate impacted staff in activating the Anaphylaxis Response Protocol in case of a food allergy emergency
 - Immediately alerting 911 emergency medical services
 - Train, practice and evaluate communications with parents AFTER alerting 911
 - Training in school specific emergency logistical information
- ☐ Document training and evaluation of training

Statement of Response Protocol and Follow-up Care

School Specific Response Protocol

ENTER SCHOOL NAME. has developed a school specific response protocol for the emergency administration of auto-injectable epinephrine which includes the following minimum requirements:

- ☐ Injector specific training for impacted staff members.
- ☐ The distribution of clear step-by-step auto-injector specific instructions, and the posting of these instructions near the school's general use epinephrine injector. (See Example Appendix F.)
- ☐ The training of all staff members and impacted staff members as described in the previous section, including training in the school's Anaphylaxis Response Protocol and specific emergency logistical information. (See Appendix E.)
- ☐ Alongside the school's general use epinephrine injector, the school will also store a clearly labeled pre-measured 135cm. string or pre-cut measuring tape to assist in the determination of dosage, and latex-free gloves.

ENTER SCHOOL NAME. has ensured that all impacted staff has been trained in the above protocol and have demonstrated competency in carrying out the emergency responses.

Follow-up Protocol

If at any time epinephrine is given at school, the Report of an Anaphylactic Reaction/Epinephrine Administration Form (Appendix G) must be completed and copies given to the school administration, school nurse/other licensed health care practitioner, physician/licensed provider, and Archdiocese Office of Risk Management. The Report of an Anaphylactic Reaction/Epinephrine Administration Form is not to be submitted to MSDE Health Services. In addition, the follow-up protocol provides that the school nurse or other licensed health care practitioner must follow up with the student and his or her family to obtain the necessary forms and medications at school for a child with what is now defined as a known risk of severe allergic reaction.

Epinephrine Policy Requirements – (SB 621) Frequently Asked Questions

Senate Bill 621 (SB 621), codified under Maryland Code, Education Article section 7-426.2, requires local boards of education to create policies regarding the availability and use of auto-injectable epinephrine. The law went into effect on July 1, 2012. The following frequently asked questions (FAQ) address several key aspects of the new law.

1) What is anaphylaxis?

Anaphylaxis is a sudden, severe, rapidly progressive potentially life-threatening allergic reaction that affects multiple organ systems of the body at the same time. Anaphylaxis requires immediate medical attention as it can be fatal if not reversed within seconds or minutes of coming in contact with the allergen. Allergens such as insect stings or bites, foods (such as milk, egg, peanut, tree nuts, fish, shellfish, wheat, and soy¹), latex, medications and other allergens are common causes of anaphylaxis, but it may also be idiopathic or exercise-induced. Anaphylaxis usually occurs immediately (seconds or minutes) but also may occur several hours after allergen exposure. Symptoms progress rapidly, making it a medical emergency.

2) What are the signs/symptoms of anaphylaxis?

Organ System	Sign(s)/Symptom(s)
Mouth/Throat	Itching, tingling, or swelling of lips, tongue, or mouth; blue/grey color of lips; hacking cough; tightening of throat; hoarseness; difficulty swallowing
Nose/Eyes/Ears	Runny, itchy nose; redness and/or swelling of eyes; throbbing in ears
Skin	Facial flushing; hives and/or generalized itchy rash; swelling of face or extremities; tingling; blue/grey discoloration
Gastrointestinal (GI)	Nausea, abdominal cramps, vomiting, diarrhea
Lung	Shortness of breath; wheezing; short, frequent, shallow cough; difficulty breathing
Heart	Thready or unobtainable pulse; low blood pressure; rapid pulse, palpitations, fainting; dizziness; pale, blue, or gray color of lips or nail beds
Mental	Uneasiness; agitation; unconsciousness
Other	Any other symptom specific to an individual's response to a specific allergen

¹ According to the Food Allergy and Anaphylaxis Network (FAAN), these eight foods are estimated to account for 90% of all food allergic reactions. However, a person can be allergic to any food. For more information on food allergies visit the FAAN website at www.foodallergy.org and click on "About Food Allergy".

3) What are the local policy requirements to comply with SB 621?

SB 621 requires local boards of education to develop policies regarding the use of epinephrine auto-injectors. The policy must authorize the school nurse and other school personnel to administer auto-injectable epinephrine to a student who is determined to be or perceived to be in anaphylaxis, regardless of whether the student: (1) has been identified as having an anaphylactic allergy, as defined in Education Article § 7-426.1; or (2) has a prescription for epinephrine from an authorized licensed health care practitioner under the Health Occupations Article.

The policy shall include:

- a. Training on recognizing the symptoms of anaphylaxis;
- b. Procedures for emergency administration of auto-injectable epinephrine;
- c. Proper follow-up emergency procedures; and
- d. Authorization for the school nurse to obtain and store the auto-injectable epinephrine.

4) What is the definition of “other school personnel” who may administer auto-injectable epinephrine?

The law does not define “other school personnel”. The local board’s policy may identify other school personnel to include, but not be limited to: school administrators, teachers, school psychologists, school counselors, pupil personnel workers, school social workers, food services staff, coaches/advisors for school sponsored activities, and bus drivers. Regardless of the service delivery model, the registered nurse is always the leader of the school health nursing team and may determine which school personnel are to be given the responsibility for administering auto-injectable epinephrine.

For additional information on ways other school personnel may be identified and trained to assist in an anaphylactic emergency, please refer to the Maryland School Health Services guideline “Management of Students at Risk for Anaphylactic Reaction” available on the Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) website.²

5) Does the new policy replace previous policies regarding students with a known history of anaphylaxis?

The policy required under SB 621 does not replace student specific orders or individual medications required to be provided by the parent/guardian. Parents of students with known life threatening allergies and/or anaphylaxis remain responsible for providing the school with written instructions from the student’s health care provider for the management of known anaphylaxis; and all necessary medications for implementing the student specific order(s) on an annual basis.

For additional information, please refer to the Maryland School Health Services guideline “Management of Students at Risk for Anaphylactic Reaction” available at the MSDE website.

Does the law require schools to maintain auto-injectable epinephrine?

Yes. The law requires local boards to have a policy authorizing the school nurse to obtain and store auto-injectable epinephrine at public schools. In addition, the local board's policy must authorize other school personnel to administer auto-injectable epinephrine if available at a public school.

It is crucial for local programs to consider the needs of their student population, the Emergency Medical System (EMS) response time, and any other factors necessary to determine the amount of auto-injectable epinephrine to stock in the school building.

6) Does the law require schools to provide auto-injectable epinephrine at related school events on or off campus?

No. This is not a requirement. However, the law specifically requires auto-injectable epinephrine to be available in the "the public schools," which means each public school building. At the same time, the law does not limit the availability of auto-injectable epinephrine to the school building. Therefore, when the local board establishes its policy, appropriate policy may include authorizing the purchase of additional auto-injectable epinephrine to be available at related school events. In certain circumstances it may be good health policy to do so, and local boards should consult with their counsel and health department on this issue. The law does require schools to report to MSDE every incident "at the school or at a related school event that required the use of auto-injectable epinephrine." (e.g., field trips, sporting games, etc.).

Considerable guidance is provided regarding medication administration at school sponsored activities in the "Administration of Medication in Schools" guideline available at the MSDE website. In addition, the guideline for the "Management of Students at Risk for Anaphylactic Reaction" includes a section titled "School Environment" that addresses how to assess the school environment for potential exposure to allergens on field trips, recess, and other school sponsored activities, and how to develop an implementation plan for emergencies.

7) Where should schools store auto-injectable epinephrine?

The auto-injectable epinephrine should be kept at room temperature (25°C, 77°F) until the marked expiration date, at which time it should be replaced. The effectiveness of the auto-injectable epinephrine may decrease after the expiration date. Therefore, care should be taken to routinely check the expiration date and promptly refill the prescription before the expiration date. The auto-injectable epinephrine should not be refrigerated or exposed to extreme heat or light.

Since use of the auto-injectable epinephrine must be administered within a short time after allergen exposure, consideration should be given to the layout of the school, health services staffing model, and the size of the student population in determining the placement of the stock epinephrine.

Additionally, in compliance with the School Health Services Standards (COMAR 13A.05.05--

.15), all medication must be stored in a locked cabinet. Access to medication locked in the designated space shall be under the authority of the designated school health professional, the principal, and/or designee.

- 8) Who provides and evaluates the training of other unlicensed school personnel to administer auto-injectable epinephrine?

Training on the management of anaphylaxis in the school setting is generally done by the school registered nurse. The school registered nurse may monitor and evaluate the training of other unlicensed school personnel to administer auto-injectable epinephrine. However, the local board may designate other qualified health care providers in the school setting, such as a physician and certified registered nurse practitioner (CRNP), to conduct the training.

The school registered nurse may need to conduct training for school personnel at various levels, such as: (1) general training for all school personnel; (2) training for school personnel in frequent contact with students at risk for anaphylactic reaction; and (3) specialized training for the management of anaphylaxis/response to anaphylaxis emergency in the school setting.

- 9) Who can purchase auto-injectable epinephrine for administration in schools?

The local board may designate any individual authorized to prescribe medication, such as a nurse practitioner or physician, to purchase auto-injectable epinephrine directly from a wholesale drug distributor or retail pharmacy. (See Md. Code, Health Occup. Art. §12-6C-09(b).) The designee may then distribute the medication for administration in schools in accordance with the local board's policy.

In addition, the inventory of auto-injectable epinephrine should be audited periodically for expiration dates to help ensure maximum efficacy of the medication.

- 10) By what authority may an unlicensed individual administer auto-injectable epinephrine to students at school?

The General Assembly, through SB 621, has authorized local boards to establish a policy to train and enable an unlicensed individual to administer auto-injectable epinephrine to a student at the school.

- 11) What is the liability of unlicensed school personnel for administering auto-injectable epinephrine in a medical emergency?

In Education Article §7-426.1, there is a specific immunity provision for an employee who responds in good faith to an anaphylactic reaction of a child. Liability protections are available to local school employees under Maryland law. Pursuant to Education Article § 4-106 and Courts and Judicial Proceedings Article § 5-518, local school system employees acting within the scope of their employment, without malice and gross negligence, are not personally liable for damages resulting from a tortious act or omission .

In addition, other legal protections and defenses (such as the "Good Samaritan Law", Courts and Judicial Proceedings Article § 5-603) may be available for qualified individuals.

STANDING ORDER

AUTO -INJECTOR EPINEPHRINE ADMINISTRATION FOR ANAPHYLAXIS

In the event of an anaphylactic reaction in an individual in the school setting, epinephrine will be administered by the school nurse or trained unlicensed school personnel. This Standing Order is for the use of auto-injector epinephrine in such situations.

In the case of students with a history of anaphylaxis or other severe allergic reactions, epinephrine should be administered according to specific individualized prescriptive orders documented in their individualized health care plans. If no such orders exist or are not readily available, the Standing Orders given in this document should be used.

DEFINITION: Anaphylaxis is a severe allergic reaction which can be life threatening and can occur within minutes after a triggering event or up to hours later.

CAUSES: Extreme sensitivity to one or more:

- Food
- Latex
- Exercise Induced
- Idiopathic (Unknown)
- Medication
- Insect stings
- Asthma
- Other

PHYSICAL FINDINGS:

Common symptoms associated with anaphylaxis:

1. Difficulty breathing, wheezing
2. Hives, generalized flushing, itching, or redness of the skin
3. Swelling of the throat , lips, tongue, throat ; tightness/change of voice
4. Difficulty swallowing
5. Tingling sensation, itching, or metallic taste in mouth
6. Feeling of apprehension, agitation

STANDING ORDER:

1. Based on symptoms, determine that an anaphylactic reaction appears to be occurring. Act quickly. It is safer to give epinephrine than to delay treatment. Anaphylaxis is a life-threatening reaction.
2. If you are alone and are able to provide epinephrine, call out or yell for help as you immediately go get the epinephrine. Do not take extra time seeking others until you have provided the epinephrine.

3. If you are alone and do not know how to provide epinephrine, call out or yell for help. If someone is available to help you, have them get the personnel trained to provide epinephrine and the epinephrine while you dial 911 and follow the dispatcher's instructions. Advise the 911 operator that anaphylaxis is suspected and epinephrine is available. Your goal is to get someone (EMS or trained personnel) to provide epinephrine and care as soon as possible.
4. Select appropriate epinephrine auto-injector to administer, based on weight or height. Indicate below the pre-measured syringe options on premises:

<input type="checkbox"/>	0.15mg Epinephrine auto-injector IM	if less than 66 pounds/shorter than 135cm
<input type="checkbox"/>	0.30mg Epinephrine auto-injector IM	if 66 pounds or greater/taller than 135cm

5. Frequency: If symptoms continue, a second dose should be administered 5 to 15 minutes after the first dose
6. Inject epinephrine via auto-injector: Pull off safety release cap. Swing and jab firmly into upper, outer thigh, (through clothing if necessary). Hold in place for 10 seconds to deliver medication and then remove. Massage the area for 10 more seconds. Note the time.
7. Call or have a bystander call 911 immediately or activate the Emergency Medical System (EMS). Advise the 911 operator that anaphylaxis is suspected and epinephrine has been given.
8. Keep the individual either lying down or seated. If they lose consciousness, check if they are breathing and have a pulse. If not, begin CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation), call out for help and continue CPR until the individual regains a pulse and is breathing or until EMS arrives and takes over.
9. Call School Nurse/Front Office school personnel and advise of situation.
10. Repeat the dose after 5 to 15 minutes if symptoms persist or return.
11. Stay with the individual until EMS arrives, continuing to follow the directions in No. 7 above.
12. Provide EMS with Epinephrine auto injector labeled with name, date, and time administered to transport to the ER with the student.

FOLLOW UP (to be done the same day as the event):

- (1) Assure parents/guardians have been notified.
- (2) Complete required documentation of incident.
- (3) Order replacement epinephrine auto injector(s).
