

YEAR OF THE EUCHARIST

Christ Present in the Congregation

Bulletin Announcement

Where Two or Three are Gathered in My Name....

As the churches in the Archdiocese of Baltimore continue to celebrate this Year of the Eucharist, the feast days of All Saints and All Souls give us a special opportunity to reflect on Christ's presence in the congregation. These days help us recall the beautiful communion of saints of which we are a part. United as the Body of Christ, we are one with all the faithful who have come before us throughout the ages and who now rest in the heavenly light of the triune God. Included in the communion of saints are those who have died and have not yet reached their heavenly reward. For these brothers and sisters, we especially pray at this time of year.

But we also are united with that part of the communion of saints who are pilgrims on earth. Each of us, on our own journey of faith, also are members of the Body of Christ, who by virtue of our baptism have a share in the promises of Christ. He is the Head and we are the Body, and so Christ is in us as we are in him. Jesus promised us that "where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them (Mt 18:20)." When we gather for worship, in service to others, in support of the ministries of the Church, we stand on holy ground before each other because Christ is with us and in us. Most especially, Christ is present in the sacraments – above all, in the Eucharist. Each time we partake of the Eucharist, we are transformed – becoming one with Christ and with his Body.

The Second Vatican Council document Lumen Gentium described it as this: As often as the sacrifice of the cross in which Christ our Passover was sacrificed, is celebrated on the altar, the work of our redemption is carried on, and, in the sacrament of the eucharistic bread, the unity of all believers who form one body in Christ is both expressed and brought about. All men are called to this union with Christ, who is the light of the world, from whom we go forth, through whom we live, and toward whom our whole life strains (Lumen Gentium 3).

During the month of November especially, as you approach the Blessed Sacrament or offer a spiritual communion at home, remember all those who have come before you in faith, pray for those who feel distant from the Body of Christ, and give thanks to God for the beauty of his Son made present in the Eucharist and carried into the world by the congregation.

Universal Prayer

For the Church in the Archdiocese of Baltimore, that during this Year of the Eucharist the congregation's celebration of all of the sacraments would continue to conform her ever more closely to Christ....we pray to the Lord...

For our leaders in government, parishes, schools, and families, that the words and actions of the Body of Christ would bear witness to and inspire a thirst for peace, justice, and love, especially for the marginalized and forgotten...we pray to the Lord...

For those who are far away from Christ or do not know his name, that the Holy Spirit would lead them to seek and find Christ in his Church, and that the Body of Christ would be a place of welcome, healing, mercy, and joy for them...we pray to the Lord...

For those who are sick in body, mind or spirit, that they would find comfort, strength, and healing through the ministry of the hands and feet of Christ now present in his Church...we pray to the Lord...

For those who have died, that their souls would be joined with the heavenly communion of saints and that those who mourn them would find comfort and healing the communion of saints in whom Christ now dwells on earth... we pray to the Lord...

For our parish community, that this Year of the Eucharist would remind us that we become that which we receive and in so doing encourage us more vigorously to love and serve the world as Christ taught us ...we pray to the Lord...
